Sept. 20, 2001.

Dear Ms. Sanchez -

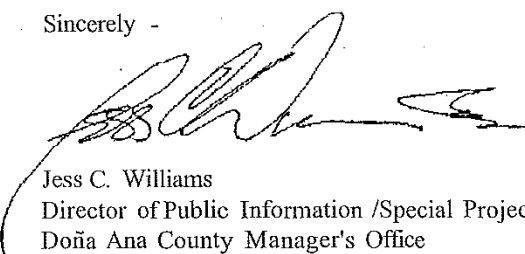

Thank you for your e-mail this morning offering Doña Ana County a deadline extension for the reply regarding the status of the Superfund Site and the EPA's questions of county staff.

With your permission, I hereby request on behalf of the county a 30-day extension from our current deadline of Sept. 21, 2001. This would move our response date back to Oct. 21, 2001. I can tell you with confidence that we believe we can make our response available to the EPA somewhat sooner, but I'd rather have too much time than not enough.

Given the unspeakable tragedies that our nation has endured in the last several days, I am hopeful that you and those you love are safe. The future that awaits us all is tremulous and uncertain, but united we shall overcome adversity.

Thanks for your consideration, as well as for your service to this great nation.

Sincerely -

Dear Ms Behn -

This letter shall constitute Doña Ana County's official response to Myron O. Knudson's letter to Doña Ana County regarding the Griggs-Walnut Superfund Site. I am sure you realize that the amount of information requested was enormously broad, especially given the overarching nature of definitions provided in the response instructions. We trust that this, response will be viewed as a good faith effort on the part of the county to substantially answer the EPA's questions within the limited time frame, even given the generous and appreciated deadline extension approved by Ms. Petra Sanchez.

This letter of response is as abbreviated as possible, however supporting documents are attached, referenced and labeled for your convenience

ALSO: Dofsa Ana County relocated its Transportation Department to a portion of the site in 1976 from its former site in Mesilia Park. Fuel tanks were located on the present site to support the road construction yard and the mechanic shops. Those tanks were removed from the site in 1999. Areas and sites that may have been a factor in PCE contamination of groundwater at the site include:

- Burn Construction, Inc., which operated a construction yard on the land where Wal-Mart is now located. The site was used for many years and required extensive clean-up of petroleum before it could be converted to retail use.
- Burn Construction, Inc., also operated an asphalt batch plant on the site where the Target store is now located. Wastewater from the plant was discharged over land into an arroyo that crossed under I-25 at the Wal-Mart site and seemed to pond in the area. In times of rainfall, the arroyo activity carried wastewater from the plant further downstream.
- Smith and Aguirre Construction, Inc., operated a construction yard adjacent to the Burn Construction, Inc., asphalt batch plant. This site was used for storage and maintenance for construction equipment and materials, as well as fuels.
- The lots south of Griggs between Coltonwood and Willow, and between Willow and Del Monte is the site of a filled-in arroyo. In approximately 1989, a soil profile of the area was conducted using a boring dig of Southwest Engineering. The sample revealed a number of foreign materials below the surface, including asphalt waste, concrete, lumber and other materials. The county assumes that a report on this analysis exists somewhere, but we are unable to locate it.
- In the 1950s, an airstrip existed on the site currently occupied by the Doña Ana County Transportation Department and the City of Las Cruces Recreation Fields and Transit Department. The hangars were in the general area where the city's Transit Department is now located, and runways/taxiways were located along the area between Lladley and Griggs and Solano and Walnut.

6. Describe any releases of any materials containing tetrachloroethene (PCE) that have occurred in Doña Ana County. As part of the description, provide the [specified] information

County staff is not necessarily aware of any and all PCE releases that have ever occurred in Doña Ana County (see preceding answer). We have interpreted the question as seeking county staffs assistance in identifying any documented releases that may have occurred on county property and/or in the performance of county tasks. All personnel interviewed had no knowledge or recollection of any materials containing PCE being improperly released on county property and/or in the performance of county tasks. The county does use some materials containing PCE, including a parts cleaner and an aerosol brake cleaner, both of which are identified with a red tag in the attached MSDS book (See Attachment B)

7 Identify any property interest that you hold in any property located within the Site.

This was a particularly problematic question to address based on the broad nature of the definition of "you" provided in the guidelines and the fact that "Site" is defined differently within the definition and the letter. However, working in good faith, the county Assessor's Office has identified what we believe to be a substantially compliant response. Further, we are providing cross-referenceable lists of county vendors, employees and contractors in the event that the EPA would like to conduct further research than that which Doña Ana County's resources and manpower allow, (See Attachment C, including maps)

9 a. Please provide an estimate of the current total market value of taxable property within the county.

As the state of New Mexico and Dona Ana County mandates that assessments be at current and correct market values, the best estimate of the market value of taxable property in Dona Ana County can be calculated from the aggregate taxable value from the Property Abstract and the tax ratio as established by Taxation and Revenue Laws. Thus, if the aggregate taxable value is $1,888,860.93 I, and the tax ratio is 33 1/3%, the market value would be:

$SI,888,860,93 I \times 3 - $5,666,582,793$ (See Attachment E)

The one caveat to keep in mind is that this figure does not account for properties assessed under a special method of assessment, such as tillable or grazing land.

* David Truby, CAMA Specialist

9 b. Please provide an estimate of the County's properly tax collection rate, expressed as a percentage.

The Dona Ana County 1 reasurer's Department compiles a Monthly Financial Report which lists the percentage of taxes collected. For 1999, the percentage of taxes collected to date is 93% (see Attachment E).

* David Truby, CAMA Specialist

9 c. Please provide an estimate of the median household income for the County, including the year of estimate. State the source of your estimate.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the median household income for Dona Ana County in 1997 was $26,379 (see Attachment E).

* David Truby, CAMA Specialist

9 d. Please provide an estimate of the median home value for the County, including the year of the estimate. State the source of your estimate.

The median home value based on our current assessments is 579,850. As this assessment is at current and correct market value, it reflects the January 1, 1999 market level. This estimate comes from the Doña Ana County Assessor's Office. (See Attachment F)

* David Truby, CAMA Specialist

9 e. Please estimate Q population of the County, including the year of estimate. State the source of your estimate.

Re: Response to Questions 7 and 14 of David R. King, County Manager request of August 23, 2001

Question 7: "Identify any property interest that you hold in any property located within the Site."

"Identity" means (10.) to provide the legal description which appears in the county property records office.

"Identity" means (9.) to provide the document, to provide its customary business description, its date, number, subject matter, the identity of the author, addresser, addressee, and the present location of the document.

"Any" means (2.) any and all.

"Properly interest" means (15.) any interest in property including ownership interest, an easement, a deed, a lease, a mining claim, any interest in the rental of property, any interest in a corporation that owns or rents or owned and rented property, and any interests as either the trustee or beneficiary of a trust that owns or rents, or owned or rented property.

"You" means (12.) Dona Ana County and its officers, elected officials, managers, employees, contractors and agents.

"Site" means (17.) the area that is at least 9,750 feet by 2,250 feet located around the intersection of Griggs Avenue and Walnut Street including the subsurface area and ground water.

Question 14: "Please provide copies of all documents memorializing property interests described in response to question 7 above, including without limitation deeds, leases and casement records".

Therefore, based upon the definitions provided above we have interpreted Questions 7 and 14 to read as follows:

"Provide the legal description, the identification number and a copy of all documents for any and all real property owned or leased by Dona Ana County and its officers, elected officials, managers, employees, contractors and agents with respect to all real property located within at least a 9,750 foot radius around the intersection of Griggs Avenue and Walnut Street in Las Cruces".

RESPONSE TO QUESTIONS 7 AND 14:

Our department has made a good faith effort to respond to the question(s) above.

We feel, however, that the question is unrealistically broad and vague. While we are providing information with regard to property directly owned by Dona Ana County, we do not possess the manpower or resources required to more fully reply to the question as interpreted above.

First, the "Site" as defined above is vague. It is stated in the request that "Site" means "the area at least 9,750 feet by 2,250 feet located at and around the intersection of Griggs Avenue and Walnut Street in Las Cruces" and further "The site is described in the enclosed map". No clear or definitive boundaries are stated in the request. The map attached to the request reveals a square or box-like shape as boundaries for the questioned area. However, a parcel the size of 9,750 feet by 2,250 feet would appear as a rectangular shape roughly four times longer on one side than the other. This would not resemble the "Approximate Area of Site" as depicted on the map attached to the information request.

We are providing a map which depicts an area of land 9,750 feet in all directions from the intersection of Griggs Avenue and Walnut Street. Outlined in black is the inquiring agency's approximated area of interest (which we will refer to as "target area"). The locations highlighted in red identify properties owned by Dona Ana County (this map entitled "View of 9750 Foot Buffer From Corner of Griggs and Walnut Streets"). The deeds and other recorded documents provided herein are for property directly owned by Dona Ana County within the target area. A computer search for county-owned properties within the target area was conducted by Ralph Campbell, Dona Ana County GfS/Mapping Analyst who compiled a list of map codes for these properties.

Secondly, the information request calls for identification of property that is owned by Dona Ana County "officers, elected officials, managers, employees, contractors and agents". To attempt to respond to this aspect of the question, we requested and received a list of many hundreds of individual property owners names and tax map codes for property within the "9750 Foot Buffer" from Ralph Campbell, Dona Ana County CIS/Mapping Analyst. We then requested and received a list of several hundred county employees names from the Dona Ana County Human Resources Department. Lastly, we requested and received from the Dona Ana County Purchasing Department a list of several thousand names of vendors to Dona Ana County. These lists would need to be cross-referenced to determine which properties within the target area were in fact owned by an officer, elected official, manager, employee, contractor or agent of the County. Once identified, a search would then need to be conducted on each individual property to determine the current deed of ownership and other pertinent information, and a copy of all appropriate documents would need to be made.

As stated above, our department does not have the resources to do such a cross-reference project. Also, after making inquiry of all the county departments involved, it was determined the various computer programs used by the County do not permit such a cross-check to be done by those means.

However, we are providing a copy of each of the three lists as part of our response to Questions 7 and 14: the list of property owners and map codes, list of county employees, and list of county vendors. These may be used by the inquiring agency to determine what information is pertinent to their investigation, and gives said agency the resources to achieve total compliance with the questions put to our office. In this manner, we believe we are in substantial compliance with the spirit of Questions 7 and 14.

Also included herein is a copy of Lease between Dona Ana County and The City of Las Cruces recorded in Miscellaneous Book 46 Page 322 (dated July 8, 1960 and recorded December 29, 1960) which affects Lots 13 through 17 inclusive of Block 10 of Hermosa Addition (Term: 99 Years from July 8, 1960 through July 8, 2059) within the target area.

If you have any questions or should you require additional information, please contact me.

Re: Question #9 Griggs & Walnut Superfund Site

Dear Emma:

As per David King's request of August 23, 2001, here are the responses to Question #9:

a) Please provide an estimate of the current total market value of taxable property within the County. Do not provide the assessed value. If you have to extrapolate from the assessed value to the market value, attach an explanation of your methodology and calculations.

As the state of New Mexico and Doña Ana County mandates that assessments be at current and correct market values, the best estimate of the market value of taxable property in Doña Ana County can be calculated from the aggregate taxable value from the Property Abstract (see Attachment 1) and the tax ratio as established by Taxation and Revenue Laws (see Attachment 2). Thus, if the aggregate taxable value is $1,888,860,931, and the tax ratio is 33 1/3%, the market value would be:

$$$1,888,860,931 \times 3 = $5,666,582,793$$

The one caveat to keep in mind is that this figure does not account for properties assessed under a special method of assessment, such as tillable or grazing land.

b) Please provide an estimate of the Camay's property tax collection rate, expressed as a percentage. If you do not have an accurate estimate for the rate, please so state.

b) continued

The Dona Ana County Treasurer's Department compiles a Monthly Financial Report which lists the percentage of taxes collected. For 1999, the percentage of taxes collected to date is 93% (see Attachment 3).

c) Please provide an estimate of the median household income for the County, including the year of estimate. State the source of your estimate.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the median household income for Dona Ana County in 1997 was $26,379 (see Attachment 4).

d) Please provide an estimate of the median home value for the County, including the year of the estimate. State the source of your estimate.

The median home value based on our current assessments is $79,850. As this assessment is at current and correct market value it reflects the January 1, 1999 market level.

c) Please estimate the population of the County, including the year of estimate. State the source of your estimate.

According to the New Mexico Economic Development Department, the population of Dona Ana County as of April, 2000 was 174,682 (see Attachment 5).

Re: Question #9 Griggs & Walnut Superfund Site

Dear Emma:

As per David King's request of August 23, 2001, here are the responses to Question #9:

a) Please provide an estimate of the current total market value of taxable property within the County. Do not provide the assessed value, If you have to extrapolate from the assessed value to the market value, attach an explanation of your methodology and calculations.

As the state of New Mexico and Dona Ana County mandates that assessments be at current and correct market values, the best estimate of the market value of taxable property in Dona Ana County can be calculated from the aggregate taxable value from the Property Abstract (see Attachment 1) and the tax ratio as established by Taxation and Revenue Laws (see Attachment 2). $$$1,888,860,931 \times 3 = $5,666,582,793$$

The one caveat to keep in mind is that this figure does not account for properties assessed under a special method of assessment, such as tillable or grazing land.

b) Please provide an estimate of the County's property tax collection rate, expressed as a percentage. If you do not have an accurate estimate for the rate, please so state.

Re: Question 49 Gnggs & Walnut Stiperfund Site

Dear Emma:

As per David King's request of August 23, 2001, here are the responses to Question #9:

a) Please provide an estimate of the current total market value of taxable property within the County. Do ~~not~~ provide the assessed value. If you have to extrapolate from the assessed value to the market value, attach an explanation of your methodology and calculations.

As the state of New Mexico and Dona Ana County mandates that assessments be at current and correct market values, the best estimate of the market value of taxable property in Dona Ana County can be calculated from the aggregate taxable value from the Property Abstract (see Attachment 1) and the tax ratio is established by Taxation and Revenue Laws (see Attachment 2). Thus, if the aggregate taxable value is 51,888,860,931, and the tax ratio is 33 1/3%, the market value would be:

$$51,888,860,931 \times 3 = $5,666,582,793$$

The one caveat to keep in mind is that this figure does not account for properties assessed under a special method of assessment, such as tillable or grazing land.

b) Please provide an estimate of the County's properly tax collection rate, expressed as a percentage. If you do not have an accurate estimate for the rate, please so sUite.

b) continued

The Dona Ana County Treasurer's Department compiles a Monthly Financial Report which lists the percentage of taxes collected. For 1999, the percentage of taxes collected to date is 93% (see Attachment 3).

c) Please provide an estimate of the median household income for the County, including the year of estimate. State the source of your estimate.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the median household income for Dona Ana County in 1997 was $26,379 (see Attachment 4).

d) Please provide an estimate of the median home value for the County, including the year of estimate. State the source of your estimate.

The median home value based on our current assessments is $79,850. As this assessment is at current and correct market value it reflects the January 1, 1999 market level.

e) Please estimate the population of the County, including the year of estimate. State the source of your estimate.

According to the New Mexico Economic Development Department, the population of Dona Ana County as of April, 2000 was 174,682 (see Attachment 5).

Should you require further information, please contact me.

Sincerely,

David C Trilby

- B. If policy has been in force for more than 12 months:
 1. Determine full annual premium as for a policy written for a term of one year.
 2. Deduct such premium from the full policy premium, and on the remainder calculate the pro rata earned premium on the basis of the ratio of the length of time beyond one year the policy has been in force to the length of time beyond one year for which the policy was originally written.
 3. Add premium produced in accordance with items (1) and (2) to obtain total premium during full period policy has been in force.

NEW MEXICO ASSOCIATION OF COUNTIES

MULTILINE POOL

MEMBERFIT COVERAGE AGREEMENT

FOR COMBINED COVERAGES

ISSUED 7.17.96

A. General Coverage Declarations

The New Mexico Association of Counties Multiline Pool is a risk sharing arrangement among New Mexico County Governments. The Pool is formed pursuant to the provisions of the Joint Powers Act, Section 11-1-1 et. seq. NMSA 1978, as amended, and through the Bylaws and Joint Powers Agreement signed by its Members. The purposes of the Pool are to provide a Multiline fund for property and casualty coverages and to assist Members in controlling costs by providing specialized governmental risk management services and systems.

The purpose of this Coverage Agreement is to describe the property and liability coverages provided to its Named Members through the Multiline Pool. Some of the coverages, deductibles and limitations are unique to the NMAC Multiline Pool and may not be available elsewhere through private or commercial insurance.

It is the intent of the Multiline Pool to provide the property and liability coverage outlined in this Coverage Agreement to each Named Member and those who work for them or on their behalf in accordance with the laws of the State of New Mexico. This Coverage Agreement was created to eliminate misunderstandings regarding coverages; to avoid coverage disputes; to clarify responsibilities during the claims handling process; and to provide the Members with a document that easily identifies what is and is not covered.

E. General Coverage Conditions

1. Claims Made Policy

The liability sections of this Coverage Agreement provide "Claims made" coverage. The coverage is limited generally to claims first made against the Pool while the Coverage Agreement is in force or during the Extended Reporting Period. All property coverage is on an Occurrence basis except for employee dishonesty Claims, which are treated on claims-made basis. Claims under the money and Securities section of the crime coverage are treated on an Occurrence basis.

A Claim shall be considered as being first made at the earlier of the following times:

- A. When the Member first gives notice in writing to the Pool's claims administrator that a Claim has been made; or
- B. When the Member first gives notice in writing to the Pool's claims administrator of specific circumstances involving a particular person or entity which may result in a Claim.

Upon a Member first becoming aware of any act or omission which would reasonably be expected to be the basis of a Claim or suit covered under this Agreement, written notice shall be given by the Member to the Pool's claims administrator as soon as practicable, together with the fullest information obtainable. If a Claim is made or a lawsuit is brought against the Member, the Member shall immediately forward to the Pool every demand, notice, summons or other process received by the Member or the Member's agent.

2. Contribution Payments

Contributions are determined by Board Members with advice from underwriters and the Pool's actuary at each anniversary for the forthcoming period of coverage and are based upon current underwriting information. Contributions are approved by the Pool's Membership at the Annual Membership Meeting in January.

3. Territorial Scope

This coverage applies worldwide.

4. Named Members

The counties indicated in Endorsement I attached to this Coverage Agreement are Named Members.

5. Member Definition

It is agreed that the unqualified word "Member", wherever used in this Coverage Agreement, includes not only the Named Member County but also:

- A. Any official, trustee, director, officer, partner or employee of the Member while acting within the scope of his or her duties as such; any volunteer acting for or on behalf of the Member, provided that individual has been authorized to act on behalf of the Member by an official, director or supervisory officer of the Member; and any person, organization, trustee or estate to whom the Member is obligated by virtue of written contract or agreement to provide coverage such as is offered by this Coverage Agreement but only in respect to operations by or on behalf of the Member.
- B. Under Part D, Section III of the Coverage Summary (which describes Automobile Liability Coverage Limits), any person while using an Automobile owned by the Member or a hired Automobile, and any person or organization legally responsible for the use thereof, provided the actual use of the Automobile is by the Member or with his permission and any official of the Member with respect to the use of non-owned Automobiles in the business of the Member. This coverage, with respect to any person or organization other than the Member, does not apply:

- 1) to any person or organization or to any or their agents or employees operating an Automobile sales agency, repair shop, service station, storage garage or public parking place, with respect to any Accident arising out of those operations;
- 2) to any employee of a person or organization other than the Member with respect to injury or sickness, disease or death during the course of employment in an Accident arising out of the maintenance or use of the Automobile in the business of the outside employer;
- 3) with respect to any hired Automobile, to the owner or lessee, other than the Member, nor to any agent or employee or that owner or lessee.

6. Deductibles and Self-Insured Retentions (SIR)

The Pool has a property deductible and an Automobile physical damage deductible of $500 per Occurrence. (Automobile physical damage is covered under the property section.) The property deductible does not apply to third party auto liability Claims. The Pool pays for property losses between the individual county's deductible and the Pool's SIR of $150,000. Excess insurance provides coverage above $150,000.

The Pool applies civil rights deductibles ranging from $2,000 to $6,000, depending upon the size of the county. Population is determined by the most recent census figures.

Deductible	Population
$2,000	0 - 5,000
$3,000	5,001 - 25,000
$4,000	25,001 - 50,000
$5,000	50,001 - 100,000
$6,000	100,001 and over

The Pool pays for civil rights liability losses between the individual county's deductible and the Pool's SIR of $250,000. Excess insurance provides coverage above $250,000.

7. Arbitration

In the event the Member and the Pool are unable to agree on any matter concerning this Coverage Agreement, including but not limited to coverage issues, the dispute shall be resolved through arbitration, not litigation. Either party may issue a written demand for arbitration. The Member and the Pool shall agree on the selection of an arbitrator. If they cannot agree within 30 days, either party may request that selection be made by a judge of a court having jurisdiction. Each party will pay the attorneys' fees and expenses it incurs and share the expenses of the arbitrator equally. The Member's portion of the arbitrator's fee shall not accrue to the Loss Fund.

Both parties shall agree upon the location of the arbitration; if they cannot agree, the selected arbitrator shall determine the location. Local rules as to arbitration procedure and evidence will apply. The arbitrator's decision will be binding and that judgment may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

8. Cancellation/Non-Renewal

Any Member may withdraw from the Pool at the end of any fiscal year (January 1 to December 31 each year) by giving at least 60 days notice in writing to the Pool's Board of Directors. The withdrawn Member is not entitled to any reimbursement of contributions that are paid or become payable in the future, and shall continue to be obligated to make payment for which an obligation arose prior to withdrawal.

A Member may be expelled by a 2/3 vote of all Members for failing to make any payments due to the Pool and for other failings outlined in the Pool's Bylaws and Joint Powers Agreement. The expulsion proceedings require the Pool to provide a notarized statement of the alleged failure, along with a reasonable opportunity of not less than 30 days to remedy the alleged failure.

if the period of limitation relating to the giving of the notice is prohibited or made void by any law, that period is amended to provide the minimum period of limitation provided by law.

9. Claims

A. Members must see to it that the Pool's claims administrator is notified as soon as practicable of an "Occurrence" which may result in a Claim. To the extent possible, notice should include how, when and where the "Occurrence" took place; the names and addresses of any injured persons and witnesses; and the nature and location of any injury or damage arising out of the "Occurrence". Notice of an "Occurrence" is not notice of a Claim.

B. If a Claim is received by any Member, the Member shall immediately record the specifics of the Claim and the date received and shall notify the Pool's claims administrator as soon as practicable.

C. The Member shall:

- 1) Immediately send the Pool's claims administrator copies of any demands, notices, summonses or legal papers received in connection with the Claim or suit;
- 2) Authorize the claims administrator to obtain records and other information;
- 3) Cooperate with the Pool and the claims administrator in the investigation, settlement or defense of the Claim or suit;
- 4) Assist the Pool, upon its request, in the enforcement of any right against any person or organization which may be liable to the Member because of injury or damage to which this Coverage Agreement may also apply;
- 5) Submit at the Pool's expense and as often as the Pool requires to examinations by physicians selected by the Pool, and authorize the Pool to obtain medical reports and other pertinent information.

D. No Member will, except at its own cost, voluntarily make a payment, assume any obligation or incur any expense, other than for first aid, without the Pool's consent.

E. The Member shall promptly take at its own expense, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, all reasonable steps to prevent additional injury or damage from or arising out of the same or similar conditions at the same location where the initial injury or damage occurred. Any failure to take such preventative measures shall not constitute a breach of the condition unless the Pool has requested the Member in writing to undertake those preventative measures. Any such expense shall not be recoverable under this Coverage Agreement.

F. Additionally, to recover for loss to a covered auto or equipment, the Member shall:

- 1) Permit the Pool to inspect and appraise the damaged property before its repair or disposition;
- 2) Do what is reasonably necessary after the loss to protect the covered auto from further loss;

- 3) Submit a proof of loss when required by the Pool; and
- 4) Promptly notify the appropriate local law enforcement agency if the Automobile or piece of equipment was stolen.

10. Due Diligence

The Member shall use due diligence and concur in doing all things reasonable practical to avoid or diminish any loss of or damage to the property insured.

11. Inspections, Audits and Verification of Values

The Pool or its authorized representatives may inspect the premises used by the Members and audit the Member's books or records at any time during the term of this Agreement or within three years after its expiration or termination. There is no time limit of auditing the Member's books or records with respect to Claims under this Agreement.

12. Mortgage

The interest of any mortgagor on property covered by this Agreement is included as if a separate endorsement were attached hereto to the extent of the amount of mortgage as of the date of loss subject to the limits of liability set forth in this Agreement.

13. Other Insurance

If the Member has other insurance against loss or damage covered under this Agreement, the Pool is liable under the terms of this Agreement only as excess of coverage provided by another insurance policy. However, this clause does not apply to the purchase of excess insurance or reinsurance above the excess limits of insurance stated in this Coverage Agreement.

14. Subrogation, Salvage and Recovery

The Pool shall be subrogated to all rights which the Member may have against any person or other entity in respect to any Claim or payment made under this Coverage Agreement and the Member shall execute all papers required by the Pool and shall cooperate with the Pool to secure the Pool's rights. If any reimbursement is obtained, or salvage or recovery made by the Member or the Pool on account of any loss covered by the Pool, the net amount of such reimbursement salvage or recovery, after deducting the actual cost of obtaining or making the same, shall be first applied to the following order:

- A. To the amount of loss which exceeds the applicable excess limits;
- B. To reduce the Pool's loss until the Pool is fully reimbursed;

- C. To reduce the Member's loss because of the application of the self-insured retention or any aggregate loss fund.

15. Waiver of Subrogation

This insurance shall not be invalidated if the Member, by written agreement, has waived or shall waive its right of recovery from any party for loss or damage covered hereunder; provided that any such waiver is made prior to the Occurrence of the loss or damage.

16. Fraudulent Claims

If a Member makes a Claim knowing the Claim to be false or fraudulent, in regard to the Claim's amount or otherwise, coverage shall become void and the Claim shall be forfeited.

17. Extended Reporting Period

The extended reporting period is automatically provided without additional charge. This period starts with the end of the period of insurance and extends for 60 days. In the event of non-renewal of this Agreement by the Pool or the Member, the Member, upon payment of an additional contribution of not more than 100% of the total expiring premium, shall have the right to extend the period in which a Claim may be made by the Member against the Pool for a period of up to 24 months after the expiration date of this Agreement.

The extended reporting period does not apply to Claims that are covered under any subsequent insurance applicable to this Coverage Agreement which a Member purchases or that would have been covered but for exhaustion of the amount of insurance applicable to those Claims.

F. General Coverage Exclusions

The following exclusions apply to all coverages described in this Agreement. This Agreement does not provide coverage for:

1. Loss, damage or any type of liability caused by or resulting from fraudulent or dishonest acts committed by the Member, whether working alone or with others, except as provided in Section I C - Crime;
2. Expenses from any cost, civil fine, penalty or expense against any Member for any compliance or enforcement action from any federal, state or local governmental regulatory agency;
3. Any liability arising from law enforcement activities;
4. Any liability arising out of hospital or clinic malpractice;

5. Workers' compensation, employers' liability and occupational disease;
6. Claims arising from administrative proceedings or injunctive relief,
7. Any liability arising out of the operation of the principals of eminent domain, condemnation proceedings or claims, inverse condemnation proceedings or claims, regulatory taking by whatever name called, land use actions, zoning, rezoning or failure to zone, whether that liability accrues directly against the Member or by virtue of any agreement entered into, by or on behalf of the Member. Claims alleging civil rights violations arising out of any of the listed proceedings are also excluded. Liability coverage under this Agreement is provided for monetary damages arising from a decision by the Named Member or its officers, agents or employees to issue or not issue building or construction permits, certificates of occupancy, business licenses, alcoholic beverage licenses or other permits and licenses that the Member is authorized by law to issue.
8. Bodily Injury, Personal Injury, Property Damage or any type of damage whatsoever to the property of the Member due to war, either directly or indirectly occasioned by, happening through or in consequence of war, invasion, acts of foreign enemies, any weapon of war employing atomic fission or radioactive force whether in time of peace or war, hostilities (whether war was declared or not), civil war, rebellion, revolution, insurrection, military or usurped power, confiscation or nationalization or requisition or destruction of or damage to property by or under the order of any government or public or local authority;
9. Bodily Injury, Personal Injury, Property Damage or any type of damage whatsoever, including the loss of use or any other type of loss or damage caused by the release, discharge or dispersal of pollutants anywhere, anytime in any way, whether accidental or intentional, sudden, intermittent or continuous and regardless of ownership or location, EXCEPT this exclusion does not apply as provided in Section II - Liability for Bodily Injury or Property Damage arising out of heat, smoke or fumes from a hostile fire;
10. Bodily Injury, Personal Injury, Property Damage or any other type of damage whatsoever, directly or indirectly caused by the presence of asbestos or lead in any form, except as covered in Section I - Property;
11. Loss or damage caused by or resulting from moth, vermin, termites or other insects, inherent vice, latent defect, wear, tear or gradual deterioration, contamination, rust, wet or dry rot, mold, dampness or atmosphere, smog, extremes of temperature or loss or damage by settling for any reason, including movement of any kind, shrinkage or expansion in building or foundation;

12. Loss of or damage to or Claims resulting from the maintenance, operation or use of aircraft, or of water craft over 26 feet in length;
13. Loss of or injury to animals except as named in a specific endorsement;
14. Loss of or damage to jewelry, precious stones and furs or garments trimmed with fur;
15. Bodily Injury, Personal Injury, Property Damage or any type of damage whatsoever for any Claims made or lawsuits brought against any Member alleging physical or sexual assault, abuse, molestation or habitual neglect. This exclusion also applies to licentious, immoral, amoral or other behavior by the Member or by any person for whom the Member is legally responsible which was intended to lead to or culminate in any sexual act. This exclusion applies whether the act was committed intentionally, negligently, inadvertently or with the belief, erroneous or otherwise, that the other party is consenting and has the legal and mental capacity to consent. This Agreement also excludes coverage for the employment or supervision of any person who engages in physical or sexual assault, abuse, molestation or habitual neglect.

However, the Member may be entitled to a defense and the payment of Claims expenses for civil Claims brought against the Member as provided under the terms of this Agreement if the lawsuit is brought for alleged civil rights violations in addition to physical or sexual assault, abuse, molestation or habitual neglect. The Pool may provide for the defense of the Claim unless or until a judgment or final adjudication of liability is established or there is an admission by the Member accused of the act that establishes the injury claimed in the suit in whole or in part. The Pool shall not be required to appeal a judgment or final adjudication that is adverse to the Member. However, if the Member elects to appeal the judgment or final adjudication and the judgment or adjudication is reversed on the issue of liability, the Pool may then reimburse the Member for all reasonable expenses incurred in the appeals process.

16. Any Claim or Claims for Bodily Injury or Personal Injury relating to:
 - (a) Human Immune Deficiency Virus (HIV);
 - (b) Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome Related Complex (ARC);
 - (c) Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS);

EXTRA EXPENSE
40/80/100% of LIMIT

It is agreed that if the property insured by Insuring Agreement A of Section 1 is damaged or destroyed by perils insured against in said Insuring Agreement A during the period of this Insurance so as to necessitate the incurrence of Extra Expense (as defined below) the Underwriters shall be liable for the Extra Expense so incurred, not exceeding the actual loss sustained, for not exceeding such length of time, hereinafter referred to as the "period of restoration".

It is further agreed that this extension in coverage shall not operate to increase the Underwriters limits of liability hereunder.

Underwriters shall be liable for no greater percentage of the Limits of Liability as set forth in Part II (Specific Excess Agreement) of this Policy than is stated below for the determined period of restoration.

40% if period of restoration is not in excess of one month;

80% if period of restoration exceeds one month but does not exceed two months;

100% if period of restoration exceeds two months.

DEFINITIONS

- (a) Extra Expense: The term "Extra Expense" means the excess (if any) of the total cost incurred during the period of restoration chargeable to the operation of the Assured's business, over and above the total cost that would normally have been incurred to conduct the business during the same period had no damage or destruction occurred.

Any salvage value of property obtained for temporary use during the period of restoration which remains after resumption of normal operations, shall be taken into consideration in the adjustment of any loss hereunder.

- (b) Normal: The term "Normal" wherever used herein shall mean; the condition that would have existed had no loss occurred.
- (c) Month: The word "month" wherever used herein means 30 consecutive days.
- (d) Period of Restoration: The term "period of restoration" means such length of time commencing with the date of damage and not limited by the date of expiration of this policy, as would be required with the exercise of due diligence and dispatch to repair, rebuild or replace such part of the Assured's property as has been damaged or destroyed.

CONDITIONS

- (a) Resumption of Operations: It is a condition of this Insurance that as soon as practicable, the Assured shall resume normal operations of the business and shall dispense with such extra expense.

1. SUBJECT OF INSURANCE AND PERELS INSURED: This extension insures against the necessary Extra Expense, as hereinafter defined, incurred by the Assured in order to continue as nearly as practicable the normal operation of its business, immediately following damage to or destruction of the data processing system including equipment and component parts thereof and data processing media therefor, owned, leased, rented or under the control of the Assured, as a direct result of all risks of physical loss or damage, but in no event to exceed the amount indicated in the 'Declarations'.

This Extension includes the actual loss as covered hereunder, sustained during the period of time, hereinafter defined, (1) when as a direct result of a peril insured against the premises in which the property is located is so damaged as to prevent access to such property or (2) when as a direct result of a peril insured against, the air conditioning system or electrical system necessary for the operation of the data processing equipment is so damaged as to reduce or suspend the Assured's ability to actually perform the operations normally performed by the data processing system.

In no event, however, shall Underwriters be liable for loss of profits or earnings resulting from diminution of business, nor for any direct or indirect property damage loss insurable under Property Damage policies, or for expenditures incurred in the purchase, construction, repair or replacement of any physical property unless incurred for the purpose of reducing any loss under this Extension not exceeding, however, the amount in which the loss is so reduced. - I. Delay or loss of market;
- J. War risks or nuclear risks as excluded in the Policy to which this Extension is attached.

- 6. INTERRUPTION BY CIVIL AUTHORITY: This Policy is extended to include necessary Extra Expense incurred by the Assured as covered hereunder, during the length of time, not exceeding two consecutive weeks, when as a direct result of damage to or destruction of property adjacent to the premises herein described by the peril(s) insured against, access to such described premises is specifically prohibited by order of civil authority.
- 7. DEFINITIONS: The term "Normal" wherever used in this Extension shall mean: The condition that would have existed had no loss occurred.
- 8. DEDUCTIBLE: Each and every loss occurring hereunder shall be adjusted separately and from the amount of each such loss when so adjusted the amount indicated in PART I (EXCESS LOSS FUND PROTECTION AGREEMENT) shall be deducted.

7. PRECAUTIONARY INFORMATION

FOR INDUSTRIAL OR PROFESSIONAL USE ONLY. Keep away from heat, sparks, flames, and other sources of ignition. The vapors released from the product can be ignited easily. Avoid prolonged breathing of vapors. Use only in areas with sufficient ventilation to maintain vapor concentrations below recommended exposure limits. Provide local exhaust ventilation if necessary. Keep container closed when not in use. Avoid eye and skin contact. Use eye (e.g., safety glasses, chemical goggles) and skin (e.g., impervious gloves) protection to prevent contact. Keep out of reach of children.

INFORMATION FOR FIRST AID AND CASUALTY ON TREATMENT FOR ADHESION OF HUMAN SKIN TO ITSELF IF CAUSED BY CYANOACRYLATE ADHESIVES

Cyanoacrylate adhesive is a very fast setting and strong adhesive. It bonds human tissue including skin in seconds. Experience has shown that accidents due to cyanoacrylates are handled best by passive, nonsurgical first aid. Treatment of specific types of accidents are given below.

SKIN CONTACT

Remove excess adhesive. Soak in warm, soapy water. The adhesive will come loose from the skin in several hours. Cured adhesive does not present a health hazard even when bonded to the skin.

Avoid contact with clothes, fabrics, rags, or tissue. Contact with these materials may cause polymerization. The polymerization of large amounts of adhesive will generate heat causing smoke, skin burns, and strong, irritating vapors. Wear nitrile or polyethylene gloves and apron when handling large amounts of adhesive.

SKIN ADHESION

First immerse the bonded surfaces in warm, soapy water. Peel or roll the surfaces apart with the aid of a blunt edge, e.g. a spatula or a teaspoon handle then remove adhesive from the skin with soap and water. Do not try to pull surfaces apart with a direct opposing action.

EYELID TO EYELID OR EYEBALL ADHESION

In the event that eyelids are stuck together or bonded to the eyeball, wash thoroughly with warm water and apply a gauze patch. The eye will open without further action, typically in 1-4 days. There will be no residual damage. Do not try to open the eyes by manipulation.

ADHESIVE ON THE EYEBALL

Cyanoacrylate introduced into the eyes will attach itself to the eye protein and will disassociate from it over intermittent periods, generally covering several hours. This will cause periods of weeping until clearance is achieved. During the period of contamination, double vision may be experienced together with a lachrymatory effect, and it is important to understand the cause and realize that disassociation will normally occur within a matter of hours, even with gross contamination.

MOUTH

If lips are accidentally stuck together, apply lots of warm water to the lips and encourage maximum wetting and pressure from saliva inside the mouth. Peel or roll lips apart. Do not try to pull the lips with direct opposing action.

It is almost impossible to swallow cyanoacrylate. The adhesive solidifies and adheres in the mouth. Saliva will lift the adhesive in one half to two days. In case a lump forms in the mouth, position the patient to prevent ingestion of the lump when it detaches.

BURNS

Cyanoacrylates give off heat on solidification. In particular a Targa drop will increase in temperature enough to cause a burn. Burns should be treated normally after the lump of cyanoacrylate is released from the tissue as described above.

SURGERY

It should never be necessary to use such a drastic method to separate accidentally bonded skin.

SECTION 3 -- EMERGENCY AND FIRST AID PROCEDURES

EYES:	For direct contact, flush eyes with water for 15 minutes lifting upper and lower lids occasionally. If irritation or redness from exposure, to vapor or mist develops, move victim away from exposure into fresh air. Consult physician if irritation or pain persists.
SKIN:	Remove contaminated clothing and shoes. Wash skin twice with soap and water. Consult physician if irritation or pain persists.
INHALATION: (Breathing)	Remove to fresh air immediately. Use oxygen if there is difficulty breathing or artificial respiration if breathing has stopped. Do not leave victim unattended. Seek immediate medical attention if necessary.
INGESTION: (Swallowing)	Seek immediate medical attention. Do NOT induce vomiting. If spontaneous vomiting occurs, keep head below hips to avoid aspiration (into lungs).
SPECIAL NOTE TO PHYSICIAN:	Treat symptomatically and supportively. Administration of gastric lavage, if warranted, should be performed by qualified medical personnel. Contact Rush Poison Control Center (Section 1) for additional medical information.

SECTION 4 -- HEALTH HAZARD DATA AND TOXICOLOGICAL PROPERTIES

PRIMARY ROUTES OF EXPOSURE: Eye and skin contact; inhalation, ingestion.

EXPOSURE LIMITS: See Section 2.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS OF EXPOSURE

ACUTE: Eyes: Contact with liquid or exposure to vapor may cause irritation, tearing and burns.

Skin: Contact removes skin oils, possibly leading to irritation and dermatitis. Dipropylene glycol monomethyl ether is a skin absorption hazard.

Inhalation (Breathing): High concentrations of vapor or mist may be irritating to the respiratory tract, may cause nausea and vomiting, may cause dizziness, impaired coordination, anesthesia and other central nervous system effects or in more severe cases inebriation or unconsciousness. When in contact with mucous membranes, liquid aromatic hydrocarbons may cause vasodilation and chemical pneumonitis with pulmonary edema, hemorrhaging, and tissue necrosis. Naphthalene poisoning may affect eyes.

IMMERSION CLEANER AND COLD PARTS CLEANER

MATERIAL SAFETY DATA SHEET FOR U.S.A. AND CANADA

Ingestion (Swallowing): Harmful or fatal if swallowed. May cause irritation of the throat, nausea, vomiting, abdominal pain, symptoms of central nervous system depression and myocardial injury. Monoethanolamine may cause mucosal ulcers of the mouth and esophagus. Aspiration into the lungs during ingestion or vomiting may cause mild to severe pulmonary injury and possibly death.

CHRONIC: Prolonged or repeated eye contact may cause tissue injury or skin contact may cause drying and cracking or dermatitis. Repeated or prolonged exposure to monoethanolamine may cause inflammatory and ulcerative changes in the mouth and possibly bronchial and gastrointestinal disturbances. Cataracts and corneal ulcerations have been reported in humans following repeated or prolonged exposure to naphthalene.

MEDICAL CONDITIONS
AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE:

Individuals with pre-existing liver, kidney, respiratory, central nervous system or skin disorders may have increased susceptibility to the effects of exposure.

CARCINOGENICITY:

[ARC classifies chemicals by their carcinogenic risk, including agents that are known, probable or possible carcinogens. NTP classifies chemicals as either known carcinogens or for which there is a limited evidence of carcinogenicity in humans or sufficient evidence of carcinogenicity in experimental animals. ACGIH recognizes two categories of carcinogens, confirmed or suspected human carcinogens.

Methylene chloride, perchloroethylene and 1,4-dichlorobenzene are listed by [ARC as possible carcinogens. Methylene chloride, perchloroethylene and 1,4-dichlorobenzene are classified by NTP as having limited evidence of carcinogenicity in humans or sufficient evidence of carcinogenicity in experimental animals. Methylene chloride is recognized by ACGIH as a suspected human carcinogen.

Also see Section 9.

OTHER POTENTIAL
HEALTH HAZARDS:

The following information is required by Canadian WHMIS regulations. Irritancy is covered in Signs and Symptoms of Exposure in Section 4. There is no known human sensitization, toxicologically synergistic product or teratogenicity associated with this material. N-methyl-2-pyrrolidone and methylene chloride have demonstrated experimental effects for reproductive toxicity and mutagenicity.

SECTION 5 -- FIRE AND EXPLOSION HAZARD DATA

EMERGENCY RESPONSE GUIDE NUMBER:

60
Reference Emergency Response Guidebook (DOT 5800.5)

EXPLOSION HAZARDS:

Decomposition and combustion products may be toxic. Heated containers may rupture, explode or be thrown into the air. Vapors are heavier than air and may travel great distances to ignition source and ^{up}drift. Not sensitive to mechanical impact. Material may be sensitive to static charge, which could result in fire or explosion.

FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES:

MFPA 704 Rating 2-2-0 (Health-Fire-Reactivity)
Keep storage containers cool with water spray. Positive pressure self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA) and structural firefighters' protective clothing will provide limited protection.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA:

Carbon dioxide, regular foam, dry chemical, water spray.

CONDITIONS OF FLAMMABILITY:

Heat, sparks or flame.

FLASH POINT:

150°F (65°C) (approximately) Tag Closed Cup

AUTO IGNITION TEMPERATURE:

FLAMMABLE LIMITS IN AIR:

LOWER: 0.5 Vol.% UPPER: 7.0 Vol. %

IMMERSION CLEANER AND COLD PARTS CLEANER
MATERIAL SAFETY DATA SHEET FOR U.S.A. AND CANADA

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS:

Burning may produce carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxides, irritating smoke and fumes.

SECTION 6 -- REACTIVITY DATA

STABILITY:

Stable under normal temperatures and pressures, and not reactive with water.

INCOMPATIBILITY (MATERIALS AND CONDITIONS TO AVOID):

Avoid acids, oxidizing agents, heat, sparks or flame. Oleic acid can react with perchlorates and perchloric acid to form explosive products.

HAZARDOUS POLYMERIZATION:

Not known to occur under normal temperatures and pressures.

HAZARDOUS DECOMPOSITION PRODUCTS:

None under normal temperatures and pressures.

SECTION 7 - PREVENTIVE MEASURES

PRECAUTIONS FOR SAFE USE AND HANDLING

HANDLING PRECAUTIONS:

Keep away from heat, sparks or flame. Avoid contact with eyes, skin, clothing or shoes. Use in well ventilated area and avoid breathing vapor or mist.

PERSONAL HYGIENE:

Use good personal hygiene. Wash thoroughly with soap and water after handling and before eating, drinking or using tobacco products. Clean contaminated clothing, shoes and protective equipment before reuse. Discard contaminated clothing, shoes or protective equipment if they cannot be thoroughly cleaned.

SHIPPING AND STORING PRECAUTIONS:

Keep container tightly closed when not in use and during transport. Do not pressurize, cut, heat, weld, grind or expose containers to flame or other sources of ignition. Empty product containers may contain product residue. See Section 9 for Packing Group information.

SPILL PROCEDURES:

Remove all ignition sources. Do not touch or walk through spilled material; stop leak if you can do it without risk. Wear protective equipment specified in Section 7, CONTROL MEASURES. Ventilate area and avoid breathing vapor or mist. For large spills, isolate area and deny entry; dike far ahead of liquid spill for later disposal. Contain away from surface waters and sewers. If possible, contain as a liquid for possible incineration (if sort) with compatible solvent material and shovel with a non-sparking tool into closable container for disposal. See Emergency Response Guidebook (DOT P 5800.5) Guide Number 60 for more information.

HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSAL METHODS:

Dispose in accordance with federal, state, provincial and local regulations. Contact Safety-Kleen regarding recycling or proper disposal.

CONTROL MEASURES

EYE PROTECTION:

Where there is likelihood of eye contact, wear chemical goggles and faceshield. Do NOT wear contact lenses.

PROTECTIVE CLOVES:

Use Neoprene or equivalent gloves to prevent contact with skin. Do NOT use Latex or equivalent gloves.

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION:

Use MSHA/MSHA-approved respiratory protective equipment when concentration of vapor or mist exceeds applicable exposure limit. A self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA) and full protective equipment is required for large spills or fire emergencies. Selection and use of respiratory protective equipment should be in accordance in the U.S.A. with OSHA General Industry Standard 29 CFR 1910.134 and in Canada with CSA Standard Z94.4-M 1982.

IMMERSION CLEANER AND COLD PARTS CLEANER

ENGINEERING CONTROLS:

Provide process enclosure or local ventilation needed to maintain concentration of vapor or mist below applicable exposure limits. Where explosive mixtures may be present, systems safe for such locations should be used.

FIRE FIGHTING INSTRUCTIONS:

This product is an emulsion containing asphalt and petroleum distillate(s) dispersed in water. Tests on these emulsions may indicate no flash up to 212F where water boils and the test is terminated. The distillate(s), however, can separate from the emulsion, float to the surface, vaporize, and thereby create a hazard.

For fires involving this material, do not enter any enclosed or confined fire space without proper protective equipment, including self-contained breathing apparatus,

COMBUSTION PRODUCTS:

This material normally will not burn. However, dehydrated residue will burn. Normal combustion forms carbon dioxide, water vapor and may produce oxides of sulfur. Incomplete combustion can produce carbon monoxide.

6. ACCIDENTAL RELEASE MEASURES

CHEMTREC EMERGENCY NUMBER (24 hr); (800)424-9300 or (202)483-7616

ACCIDENTAL RELEASE MEASURES:

Eliminate all open flame in vicinity of spill or released vapor. Clean up small spills using appropriate techniques such as sorbent materials or pumping. Where feasible and appropriate, remove contaminated soil. Follow prescribed procedures for reporting and responding to larger releases.

7. HANDLING AND STORAGE

HANDLING AND STORAGE:

READ AND OBSERVE ALL PRECAUTIONS ON PRODUCT LABEL.

Smoking, eating and drinking, etc. should be prohibited when skin contact with the product or fume condensate is possible. Workers should clean hands and face before smoking, eating and drinking, etc. Do not use solvents to clean hands and face. Use vegetable oils or mineral oil, followed by a thorough washing with soap and water.

DO NOT USE OR STORE near flame, sparks or hot surfaces. USE ONLY IN WELL VENTILATED AREA.

The hydrocarbon solvent in this product may accumulate at explosive levels in the headspace of storage containers.

DO NOT weld, heat or drill container. Replace cap or bung. Emptied container still contains hazardous material which may ignite with explosive violence if heated sufficiently.

CAUTION! Do not use pressure to empty drum or drum may rupture with explosive force.

CHRONIC EFFECTS/CARCINOGENICITY:

There is concern about the carcinogenicity of chemical compounds found in asphalts. The International Agency for Research an Cancer (IARC) reviewed the carcinogenic potential of asphalts in 1985 and again in 1987. At that time, they concluded there was inadequate evidence to decide that asphalts were carcinogenic to humans. Overall, findings from health monitoring studies of asphalt workers are not conclusive. However, asphalt fume condensates and certain chemical components of asphalt fume have been shown to cause cancer in mice when repeatedly applied to the skin and allowed to remain on the skin for a prolonged period of time. In addition, asphalt fume condensates have been shown to be weakly positive in Ames mutagenicity tests. Skin contact and breathing of fumes, mists and vapors should be reduced to a minimum.

U. ADDITIONAL HEALTH DATA

ADDITIONAL HEALTH DATA COMMENT:

There is concern about the carcinogenicity of chemical compounds found in asphalts. The International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) reviewed the carcinogenic potential of asphalts in 1985 and again in 1987. At that time, they concluded there was inadequate evidence to decide that asphalts were carcinogenic to humans. Overall, findings from health monitoring studies of asphalt workers are not conclusive. However, asphalt fume condensates and certain chemical components of asphalt fumes have been shown to cause cancer in mice when repeatedly applied to the skin and allowed to remain on the skin for a prolonged period of time. In addition, asphalt fume condensates have been shown to be biologically positive

ADDITIONAL HEALTH DATA

No association has been established between industrial exposure to petroleum asphalt and cancer in humans. The International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) has recently reviewed the carcinogenic potential of asphalts. They concluded that there was insufficient evidence that undiluted, air-refined asphalt was carcinogenic to animals, while there was only limited evidence that steam-refined asphalts were carcinogenic to animals. Additionally there was insufficient evidence to conclude that asphalts were carcinogenic to human beings. Studies in which mice were exposed to a variety of whole asphalts did not result in any increased cancer rate; mice exposed to asphalts diluted with hydrocarbon solvents had increased incidence of certain types of cancer. Brief or intermittent skin contact with this asphalt product is not expected to produce any serious effects. While normal handling of this product is not likely to cause cancer in humans, skin contact and breathing of mists, fumes or vapors should be reduced to a minimum. We strongly recommend that the precautions outlined in this MSDS be followed when handling this material.

Overexposure to this material may cause systemic damage including target organ effects listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

Other specific symptoms of exposure are listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

4 FIRST AID MEASURES

SKIN

For hot material, immerse or flush skin with large amounts of the coldest water possible. Cover with clean cotton sheeting or gauze. Remove clothing if not sticking to skin. DO NOT try to remove solidified material from the skin as the damaged flesh can be easily torn, DO NOT try to dissolve with solvents or thinners. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

For cold material, immediately wash skin with plenty of soap and water while removing contaminated clothing and shoes. Get medical attention if irritation persists.

Place contaminated clothing in closed container for storage until laundered or discarded. If clothing is to be laundered, inform person performing operation of contaminant's hazardous properties. Discard contaminated leather goods.

EYE

Flush immediately with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Eyelids should be held away from the eyeball to ensure thorough rinsing. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

Burns due to contact with heated material require immediate medical attention.

INHALATION

Safely remove the victim from exposure. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WITHOUT ADEQUATE PROTECTIVE GEAR AND PROPER TRAINING. Remove to fresh air. If not breathing, institute cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). If breathing is difficult, ensure airway is clear and give oxygen.

Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

INGESTION

Gastric lavage should be performed only by qualified medical personnel. If spontaneous vomiting occurs keep head below hips to prevent aspiration and monitor for breathing difficulty. Do not induce vomiting because of danger of aspirating liquid into lungs, causing serious damage and chemical pneumonitis.

Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested.

Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

Hydrogen sulfide is primarily a respiratory toxin inhibiting the cytochrome oxidase system; it is probably more potent than HCN. The lifetime of sulfide in oxygenated blood is short and sulfmethemoglobin is rapidly detoxified by red blood cells and the liver. If nitrites have been used for detoxification, check methemoglobin levels. Follow fluid and electrolyte balance carefully since metabolic acidosis may occur from increased anaerobic metabolism. Watch for pulmonary edema and aspiration pneumonia during convalescence.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

5 FIRE FIGHTING MEASURES

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS

Combustion may produce COx, NOx, SOx, reactive hydrocarbons, hydrogen sulfide and irritating vapors.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA

Use water spray, dry chemical, alcohol foam, all purpose AFFF or carbon dioxide to extinguish fire.

BASIC FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

Material will burn in a fire. Evacuate area and fight fire from a safe distance.

Use water spray to cool adjacent structures and to protect personnel. Shut off source of flow if possible. Stay away from storage tank ends. Withdraw immediately in case of rising sound from venting safety device or any discoloration of storage tank due to fire.

Exercise extreme care when using water spray on asphalt tank fires. When water is mixed with hot asphalt, steam may rapidly develop resulting in violent asphalt foaming and possible tank eruptions from increased pressure.

Firefighters must wear MSHA/NIOSH approved positive pressure breathing apparatus (SCBA) with full face mask and full protective equipment.

UNUSUAL FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARDS

Hydrogen Sulfide can react with the iron in an asphalt storage tank to form iron sulfide. Iron Sulfide is pyrophoric. When exposed to air, iron sulfide is capable of igniting spontaneously.

10 ACCIDENTAL RELEASE MEASURES

EMERGENCY ACTION

Keep unnecessary people away; isolate hazard area and deny entry. Stay upwind. (See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection in Section 8.)

ENVIRONMENTAL PRECAUTIONS

If product is released to the environment, take immediate steps to stop and contain it. Caution should be exercised regarding personnel safety and exposure to the released product. Notify local authorities and the National Response Center, if required.

SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURE

Keep ignition sources out of area and shut off all ignition sources. For spills on land, dike ahead of spill to contain. Scrape up spilled material for disposal. To reclaim, mix with gravel, dirt or rock. For spills on water, contain as much as possible with booms and begin recovery as soon as possible. If material sinks or becomes dispersed, consult with local, state and regional authorities for approved clean up procedures. Stop leak when safe to do so.

See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

7 HANDLING & STORAGE

HANDLING

Ground lines and equipment used during transfer to reduce the possibility of static spark-initiated fire or explosion. Use non-sparking tools. Do not cut, grind, drill, weld or reuse containers unless adequate precautions are taken against these hazards.

Do not heat to temperatures above the boiling point of water (approximately 212 F or 100 C).

Do not eat, drink or smoke in areas of use or storage.

STORAGE

Store in tightly closed containers in a cool, dry, isolated, well-ventilated area away from heat, sources of ignition and incompatibles. Avoid contact with strong oxidizers. Empty containers may contain product residue. Do not reuse without adequate precautions.

Hydrogen sulfide can build up in the head space of storage vessels containing any type of asphalt product. Use appropriate respiratory protection to prevent exposure. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

When entering a storage vessel that has previously contained any type of asphalt product, it is recommended that the atmosphere be monitored for the presence of hydrogen sulfide. See Composition Information (Section 2) for exposure limits.

8 EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

ENGINEERING CONTROLS

Ventilation and other forms of engineering controls are the preferred means for controlling exposures.

Consult NIOSH (National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health) for more information on guidelines for engineering controls for asphalt pavers.

EYE PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Wear chemical safety goggles and face shield. Have eye washing facilities readily available where eye contact can occur.

SKIN PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Use appropriate chemical protective gloves when handling at room temperature . Use gloves that protect against thermal burns when handling at high temperatures. At a minimum, wear long-sleeved cotton shirt buttoned at the collar and full-length cotton pants. Synthetic fibers tend to melt and adhere to the skin when heated. Do not fold back or roll up cuffs.

Use good personal hygiene,

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

A NIOSH/MSHA approved air purifying respirator with an appropriate cartridge, canister, and/or filter may be permissible under certain circumstances where airborne concentrations are expected to exceed exposure limits. The use of air purifying respirators is not recommended where hydrogen sulfide levels may exceed exposure limits. Protection provided by air purifying respirators is limited. Use a positive pressure air supplied respirator if there is any potential for an uncontrolled release, exposure levels are not known, or any other circumstances where air purifying respirators may not provide adequate protection.

11 TOXICOLOGICAL INFORMATION

ROUTES OF EXPOSURE

Inhalation, ingestion, skin and eye contact.

TOXICOLOGICAL DATA

Acute or chronic overexposure to this material or its components may cause systemic toxicity, including adverse effects to the following; kidney, liver, skin, thymus, blood elements, lymph nodes, testes, bone marrow, respiratory and nervous system.

This information is based on findings from related or similar materials.

Exposure to components of this material may cause the following specific symptoms, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure: anemia, pallor, fatigue, oil acne, melanosis, loss of appetite, and anxiety.

Reports have associated repeated and prolonged occupational overexposure to solvents with permanent brain and nervous system damage (sometimes referred to as solvent or painter's syndrome). Intentional misuse by deliberately concentrating and inhaling this product may be harmful or fatal.

CARCINOGENICITY

This material contains petroleum asphalt. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence that undiluted, air-refined asphalt is carcinogenic to experimental animals, and there is only limited evidence that undiluted steam-refined and cracking-residue asphalts are carcinogenic to animals. Additionally, IARC has concluded that there is inadequate evidence that asphalts alone are carcinogenic to humans.

in solution, solvent extracts of asphalts can produce skin cancer in animals following prolonged and repeated contact. IARC has concluded that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of asphalt extracts in experimental animals. Therefore, asphalts that are diluted, dissolved, or liquefied in hydrocarbon solvents, may also be implicated as potentially carcinogenic. While brief or intermittent skin contact with this type of product is not expected to cause harm, those workers who do not practice good personal hygiene and who are exposed repeatedly via skin contact may be at risk. It is important that all precautionary measures outlined in this MSDS be followed.

Asphalt fumes from heated material may cause eye, respiratory tract and skin irritation, as well as nausea and headaches. These fumes may cause dermatitis and acne-like lesions as well as mild keratoses on prolonged and repeated exposure. Condensed asphalt fumes, which have been generated under laboratory conditions and which are chemically different from those found during typical asphalt operations, have been reported to cause bacterial mutations as well as cause skin tumors in animals following repeated, lifetime skin contact without washing. However, inhalation of asphalt fumes by laboratory animals, during controlled studies, did not produce lung cancer. Additionally, human studies to date have not established a link between asphalt fume exposure and lung cancer.

This material may contain untreated or mildly treated mineral oils. This material may contain solvent extract oils. IARC has determined that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of these oils in experimental animals.

Some of the components of this product are hazardous in the dust form. These components include crystalline silica, which is a suspected human carcinogen. However, because of the physical nature of this product, dust generation is not expected, so the health effects associated with the dusts are unlikely to occur.

TERATOGENICITY, MUTAGENICITY, OTHER REPRODUCTIVE EFFECTS

This product may contain components which may cause adverse reproductive and/or development effects.

SENSITIZATION TO MATERIAL

The possibility of allergic sensitization should be considered.

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE

Pre-existing medical conditions which may be aggravated by exposure include disorders of the kidney, liver, skin, blood, respiratory and nervous system.

SKIN

For hot material, immerse or flush skin with large amounts of the coldest water possible. Cover with clean cotton sheeting or gauze. Remove clothing if not sticking to skin. DO NOT try to remove solidified material from the skin as the damaged flesh can be easily torn. DO NOT try to dissolve with solvents or thinners. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

For cold material, immediately wash skin with plenty of soap and water while removing contaminated clothing and shoes. Get medical attention if irritation persists.

Place contaminated clothing in closed container for storage until laundered or discarded. If clothing is to be laundered, inform person performing operation of contaminant's hazardous properties. Discard contaminated leather goods.

EYE

Flush immediately with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Eyelids should be held away from the eyeball to ensure thorough rinsing. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

Burns due to contact with heated material require immediate medical attention.

INHALATION

Safely remove the victim from exposure. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WITHOUT ADEQUATE PROTECTIVE GEAR AND PROPER TRAINING. Remove to fresh air. If not breathing, institute cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). If breathing is difficult, ensure airway is clear and give oxygen.

Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

INGESTION

Gastric lavage should be performed only by qualified medical personnel. If spontaneous vomiting occurs keep head below hips to prevent aspiration and monitor for breathing difficulty. Do not induce vomiting because of danger of aspirating liquid into lungs, causing serious damage and chemical pneumonitis.

Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested.

Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

Hydrogen sulfide is primarily a respiratory toxin inhibiting the cytochrome oxidase system; it is probably more potent than HCN. The lifetime of sulfide in oxygenated blood is short and sulfmethemoglobin is rapidly detoxified by red blood cells and the liver. If nitrites have been used for detoxification, check methemoglobin levels. Follow fluid and electrolyte balance carefully since metabolic acidosis may occur from increased anaerobic metabolism. Watch for pulmonary edema and aspiration pneumonia during convalescence.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

5 FIRE FIGHTING MEASURES

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS

Combustion may produce COx, NOx, SOx, reactive hydrocarbons, hydrogen sulfide and irritating vapors.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA

Use water spray, dry chemical, alcohol foam, all purpose AFFF or carbon dioxide to extinguish fire.

BASIC FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

Material will burn in a fire. Evacuate area and fight fire from a safe distance.

Use water spray to cool adjacent structures and to protect personnel. Shut off source of flow if possible. Stay away from storage tank ends. Withdraw immediately in case of rising sound from venting safety device or any discoloration of storage tank due to fire.

Exercise extreme care when using water spray on asphalt tank fires. When water is mixed with hot asphalt, steam may rapidly develop resulting in violent asphalt foaming and possible tank eruptions from increased pressure.

Firefighters must wear MSHA/NIOSH approved positive pressure breathing apparatus (SCBA) with full face mask and full protective equipment.

UNUSUAL FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARDS

Hydrogen Sulfide can react with the iron in an asphalt storage tank to form iron sulfide. Iron Sulfide is pyrophoric. When exposed to air, iron sulfide is capable of igniting spontaneously.

FlashPoint	>212F(>100C)
Autoignition Temperature	ND

EMERGENCY ACTION

Keep unnecessary people away; isolate hazard area and deny entry. Stay upwind. (See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection in Section 8.)

ENVIRONMENTAL PRECAUTIONS

If product is released to the environment, take immediate steps to stop and contain release. Caution should be exercised regarding personnel safety and exposure to the released product. Notify local authorities and the National Response Center, if required.

SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURE

Keep ignition sources out of area and shut off all ignition sources. For spills on land, dike ahead of spill to contain. Scrape up spilled material for disposal. To reclaim, mix with gravel, dirt or rock. For spills on water, contain as much as possible with booms and begin recovery as soon as possible. If material sinks or becomes dispersed, consult with local, state and regional authorities for approved clean up procedures. Stop leak when safe to do so.

See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

7 HANDLING STORAGE

HANDLING

Ground lines and equipment used during transfer to reduce the possibility of static spark-initiated fire or explosion. Use non-sparking tools. Do not cut, grind, drill, weld or reuse containers unless adequate precautions are taken against these hazards.

Do not heat to temperatures above the boiling point of water (approximately 212 F or 100 C).

Do not eat, drink or smoke in areas of use or storage.

STORAGE

Store in tightly closed containers in a cool, dry, isolated, well-ventilated area away from heat, sources of ignition and incompatibles. Avoid contact with strong oxidizers. Empty containers may contain product residue. Do not reuse without adequate precautions.

Hydrogen sulfide can build up in the head space of storage vessels containing any type of asphalt product. Use appropriate respiratory protection to prevent exposure. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

When entering a storage vessel that has previously contained any type of asphalt product, it is recommended that the atmosphere be monitored for the presence of hydrogen sulfide. See Composition Information (Section 2) for exposure limits.

8 EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

ENGINEERING CONTROLS

Ventilation and other forms of engineering controls are the preferred means for controlling exposures.

Consult NIOSH (National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health) for more information on guidelines for engineering controls for asphalt pavers.

EYE PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Wear chemical safety goggles and face shield. Have eye washing facilities readily available where eye contact can occur.

SKIN PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Use appropriate chemical protective gloves when handling at room temperature . Use gloves that protect against thermal burns when handling at high temperatures. At a minimum, wear long-sleeved cotton shirt buttoned at the collar and full-length cotton pants. Synthetic fibers tend to melt and adhere to the skin when heated. Do not fold back or roll up cuffs.

Use good personal hygiene.

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

A NIOSH/MSHA approved air purifying respirator with an appropriate cartridge, canister, and/or fitter may be permissible under certain circumstances where airborne concentrations are expected to exceed exposure limits. The use of air purifying respirators is not recommended where hydrogen sulfide levels may exceed exposure limits. Protection provided by air purifying respirators is limited. Use a positive pressure air supplied respirator if there is any potential for an uncontrolled release, exposure levels are not known, or any other circumstances where air purifying respirators may not provide adequate protection.

Symptoms may include headache, excitation, euphoria, dizziness, incoordination, drowsiness, light-headedness, blurred vision, fatigue, tremors, convulsions, loss of consciousness, coma, respiratory arrest and death, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure.

May release hydrogen sulfide gas which is highly toxic. Hydrogen sulfide can cause respiratory paralysis and death, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure. Do not rely on ability to smell vapors, since odor fatigue rapidly occurs. Effects of overexposure include irritation of the nose and throat, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal pain and signs of nervous system depression (e.g. headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of coordination and fatigue), irregular heartbeats, pulmonary edema, weakness and convulsions. See Storage & Handling (Section 7) for more information.

Overexposure to this material may cause systemic damage including target organ effects listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

Other specific symptoms of exposure are listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

POTENTIAL HEALTH EFFECTS, INGESTION

Ingestion of large amounts may cause gastrointestinal disturbances. May cause irritation of the mouth, throat and gastrointestinal tract. Symptoms may include salivation, pain, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Aspiration into lungs may cause chemical pneumonia and lung damage.

Exposure may also cause central nervous system symptoms similar to those listed under "Inhalation" (see Inhalation section).

Overexposure to this material may cause systemic damage including target organ effects listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

Other specific symptoms of exposure are listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

SKIN

For hot material, immerse or flush skin with large amounts of the coldest water possible. Cover with clean cotton sheeting or gauze. Remove clothing if not sticking to skin. DO NOT try to remove solidified material from the skin as the damaged flesh can be easily torn. DO NOT try to dissolve with solvents or thinners. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

For cold material, immediately wash skin with plenty of soap and water while removing contaminated clothing and shoes. Get medical attention if irritation persists.

Place contaminated clothing in closed container for storage until laundered or discarded. If clothing is to be laundered, inform person performing operation of contaminant's hazardous properties. Discard contaminated leather goods.

EYE

Flush immediately with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Eyelids should be held away from the eyeball to ensure thorough rinsing. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

Burns due to contact with heated material require immediate medical attention.

INHALATION

Safely remove the victim from exposure. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WITHOUT ADEQUATE PROTECTIVE GEAR AND PROPER TRAINING. Remove to fresh air. If not breathing, institute cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). If breathing is difficult, ensure airway is clear and give oxygen. Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

INGESTION

- Do not induce vomiting because of danger of aspirating liquid into lungs, causing serious damage and chemical pneumonitis. If spontaneous vomiting occurs keep head below hips to prevent aspiration and monitor for breathing difficulty. Gastric lavage should be performed only by qualified medical personnel. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

B Keep affected person warm and at rest.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested. If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

In cases of acute poisoning, artificial respiration with administration of oxygen may be useful for support. DO NOT GIVE EPINEPHRINE, EPHEDRINE OR SIMILAR ADRENERGIC DRUGS. THEY MAY INDUCE FATAL VENTRICULAR FIBRILLATION. Electrocardiographic monitoring should be carried out with severely ill patients to anticipate possible cardiac arrest.

Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

5 FIRE FIGHTING MEASURES

A HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS

^{^^} Combustion may produce CO, NO_x, SO_x and reactive hydrocarbons. Combustion may produce hydrogen sulfide.

BASIC FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

Use dry chemical, alcohol foam, all purpose AFFF or carbon dioxide to extinguish fire. Due to the low viscosity of this product, water spray may not be the most effective extinguishing agent. Use water spray only if no other means for extinguishing are available. Evacuate area and fight fire from a safe distance.

Use water spray to cool adjacent structures and to protect personnel. Shut off source of flow if possible. Stay away from storage tank ends. Withdraw immediately in case of rising sound from venting safety device or any discoloration of storage tank due to fire.

Firefighters must wear MSHA/NIOSH approved positive pressure breathing apparatus (SCBA) with full face mask and full protective equipment.

UNUSUAL FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARDS

Fires involving this product may release carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, reactive hydrocarbons and hydrogen sulfide.

EMERGENCY ACTION

Eliminate and/or shut off ignition sources and keep ignition sources out of the area. Eliminate and/or shut off ignition sources and keep ignition sources out of the area. Keep unnecessary people away; isolate hazard area and deny entry. Stay upwind. Isolate for 0.8 kilometers in all directions if tank, rail car or tank truck is involved in release. Evacuate area endangered by release as required. (See Personal Protection Information Section.) Isolate spill area and keep unnecessary people away. See Exposure Control/Personal Protection (Section 8).

ENVIRONMENTAL PRECAUTIONS

Eliminate all sources of ignition.

If product is released to the environment, take immediate steps to stop and contain release. Caution should be exercised regarding personnel safety and exposure to the released product. Notify local authorities and the National Response Center, if required.

SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURE

Stop leak when safe to do so. Keep ignition sources out of area and shut off all ignition sources. For spills on land, dike ahead of spill to contain and begin recovery as soon as possible. Spilled material can be mixed with gravel, dirt or rock for reclamation. For spills on water, contain spill with booms and begin recovery as soon as possible. If material sinks, consult with local, state and regional authorities for approved clean up procedures.

See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

7 HANDLING & STORAGE

HANDLING

Ground lines and equipment used during transfer to reduce the possibility of static spark-initiated fire or explosion. Use non-sparking tools. Do not cut, grind, drill, weld or reuse containers unless adequate precautions are taken against these hazards.

Do not eat, drink or smoke in areas of use or storage.

Do not heat to temperatures above the boiling point of water (approximately 212 F or 100 C).

STORAGE

Store in a dry, isolated, and well-ventilated area away from sources of ignition and incompatibles. Avoid contact with strong oxidizers.

Empty containers may contain product residue. Do not reuse without adequate precautions.

Hydrogen sulfide can build up in the head space of storage vessels containing hot asphalt products. Use appropriate respiratory protection to prevent exposure. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

When entering a storage vessel that has previously contained any type of asphalt product, it is recommended that the atmosphere be monitored for the presence of hydrogen sulfide. See Composition Information (Section 2) for exposure limits.

Hydrogen Sulfide can react with the iron in an asphalt storage tank to form iron sulfide. Iron Sulfide is pyrophoric. When exposed to air, iron sulfide is capable of igniting spontaneously.

8 EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

ENGINEERING CONTROLS

Ventilation and other forms of engineering controls are the preferred means for controlling exposures.

Consult NIOSH (National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health) for more information on guidelines for engineering controls for asphalt pavers.

EYE PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Wear safety goggles. A face shield is recommended for transfer operations or where splashing can occur. Have eye washing facilities readily available where eye contact can occur.

SKIN PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Use appropriate chemical protective gloves when handling at room temperature . Use gloves that protect against thermal burns when handling at high temperatures. At a minimum, wear long-sleeved cotton shirt buttoned at the collar and full-length cotton pants. Synthetic fibers tend to melt and adhere to the skin when heated. Do not fold back or roll up cuffs.

Use good personal hygiene.

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

A NIOSH/MSHA approved air purifying respirator with an appropriate cartridge or canister may be permissible under certain circumstances where airborne concentrations are expected to exceed exposure limits. The use of air purifying respirators is not recommended where hydrogen sulfide levels may exceed exposure limits. Protection provided by air purifying respirators is limited. Use a positive pressure air supplied respirator if there is any potential for an uncontrolled release, exposure levels are not known, or any other circumstances where air purifying respirators may not provide adequate protection.

TOXICOLOGICAL DATA

'Acute or chronic overexposure to this material or its components may cause systemic toxicity, including adverse effects to the following: skin, lung, central nervous system, kidney, liver, spleen, thymus, lymph nodes, blood elements, pituitary, thyroid, respiratory system and adrenals.

Exposure to components of this material may cause the following specific symptoms, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure: fatigue, reduced appetite, respiratory effects, pallor, anemia and anxiety.

CARCINOGENICITY

This material contains petroleum asphalt. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence that undiluted, air-refined asphalt is carcinogenic to experimental animals, and there is only limited evidence that undiluted steam-refined and cracking-residue asphalts are carcinogenic to animals. Additionally, IARC has concluded that there is inadequate evidence that asphalts alone are carcinogenic to humans.

In solution, solvent extracts of asphalts can produce skin cancer in animals following prolonged and repeated contact. IARC has concluded that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of asphalt extracts in experimental animals. Therefore, "cutbacks" (asphalts that are diluted, dissolved, or liquefied in hydrocarbon solvents), may also be implicated as potentially carcinogenic. While brief or intermittent skin contact with this type of product is not expected to cause harm, those workers who do not practice good personal hygiene and who are exposed repeatedly via skin contact may be at risk. It is important that all precautionary measures outlined in this MSDS be followed.

Asphalt fumes from heated material may cause eye, respiratory tract and skin irritation, as well as nausea and headaches. These fumes may cause dermatitis and acne-like lesions as well as mild keratoses on prolonged and repeated exposure. Condensed asphalt fumes, which have been generated under laboratory conditions and which are chemically different from those found during typical asphalt operations, have been reported to cause bacterial mutations as well as cause skin tumors in animals following repeated, lifetime skin contact without washing. However, inhalation of asphalt fumes by laboratory animals, during controlled studies, did not produce lung cancer. Additionally, human studies to date have not established a link between lung cancer and asphalt fume exposure.

This material may contain trace amounts of polynuclear aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs) as naturally occurring constituents of crude oils from which asphalt is derived. Repeated or prolonged exposure to some PAHs has been associated with effects to the liver, kidneys, immune system and skin with warty growths, skin burns, pigmentation of the bare skin and cornification of the surface layers. They have also been associated with anemia, photosensitivity, leukoplakia (white patches on the tongue, cheek or gums), edema of the eyelids, conjunctival hyperemia, lacrimation, photophobia, headache, loss of appetite, vital powers and strength, cough, bronchitis and nausea. Some PAHs have been shown to be carcinogenic after prolonged or repeated skin contact in laboratory animals.

This material may contain catalytically cracked oils. IARC has determined that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of Catalytically cracked oils, in experimental animals. NTP-listed carcinogen. Has been shown to be positive in mutagenicity assays. CONCAWE indicates that excessive, prolonged or repeated exposures, in particular under conditions of poor hygiene, may lead to warty growths which may subsequently become skin cancer. CONCAWE has also noted that "prolonged or repeated inhalation of significant concentrations of mists of aromatic process oils may lead possibly to a benign form of lung fibrosis or possibly to cancer of the respiratory tract and possibly to cancer of the upper gastrointestinal tract."

This material may contain middle distillates. In an NTP skin painting study on middle distillates, there was no evidence of carcinogenicity in male or female mice. IARC has determined that there is limited evidence for the carcinogenicity of middle distillates in experimental animals and inadequate evidence in humans. This material may contain light fuel oils. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence for the carcinogenicity of light fuel oils in humans and experimental animals.

This material may contain ethylbenzene. Ethylbenzene has shown clear evidence of carcinogenicity in male rats and some evidence of carcinogenicity in female rats and male and female mice.

TERATOGENICITY, MUTAGENICITY, OTHER REPRODUCTIVE EFFECTS

This product contains components which may cause adverse reproductive and/or developmental effects. Pregnant women may be at an increased risk from exposure. Consumption of alcoholic beverages may enhance toxic effects.

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE

Pre-existing medical conditions which may be aggravated by exposure include disorders of the kidney, liver, skin, and respiratory system.

Hydrogen sulfide is primarily a respiratory toxin inhibiting the cytochrome oxidase system; it is probably more potent than HCN. The lifetime of sulfide in oxygenated blood is short and sulfmethemoglobin is rapidly detoxified by red blood cells and the liver. If nitrites have been used for detoxification, check methemoglobin levels. Follow fluid and electrolyte balance carefully since metabolic acidosis may occur from increased anaerobic metabolism. Watch for pulmonary edema and aspiration pneumonia during convalescence.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

5 FIRE FIGHTING MEASURES

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS

Combustion may produce COx, NOx, SOx, reactive hydrocarbons, hydrogen sulfide and irritating vapors.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA

Use water spray, dry chemical, alcohol foam, all purpose AFFF or carbon dioxide to extinguish fire.

BASIC FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

Material will burn in a fire. Evacuate area and fight fire from a safe distance.

Use water spray to cool adjacent structures and to protect personnel. Shut off source of flow if possible. Stay away from storage tank ends. Withdraw immediately in case of rising sound from venting safety device or any discoloration of storage tank due to fire.

Exercise extreme care when using water spray on asphalt tank fires. When water is mixed with hot asphalt, steam may rapidly develop resulting in violent asphalt foaming and possible tank eruptions from increased pressure.

Firefighters must wear MSHA/NIOSH approved positive pressure breathing apparatus (SCBA) with full face mask and full protective equipment.

UNUSUAL FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARDS

Hydrogen Sulfide can react with the iron in an asphalt storage tank to form iron sulfide. Iron Sulfide is pyrophoric. When exposed to air, iron sulfide is capable of igniting spontaneously.

ACCIDENTAL RELEASE MEASURES

EMERGENCY ACTION

Keep unnecessary people away; isolate hazard area and deny entry. Stay upwind. (See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection in Section 8.)

ENVIRONMENTAL PRECAUTIONS

If product is released to the environment, take immediate steps to stop and contain release. Caution should be exercised regarding personnel safety and exposure to the released product. Notify local authorities and the National Response Center, if required.

SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURE

Keep ignition sources out of area and shut off all ignition sources. For spills on land, dike ahead of spill to contain. Scrape up spilled material for disposal. To reclaim, mix with gravel, dirt or rock. For spills on water, contain as much as possible with booms and begin recovery as soon as possible. If material sinks or becomes dispersed, consult with local, state and regional authorities for approved clean up procedures. Stop leak when safe to do so.

See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

7 HANDLING STORAGE

HANDLING

Ground lines and equipment used during transfer to reduce the possibility of static spark-initiated fire or explosion. Use non-sparking tools. Do not cut, grind, drill, weld or reuse containers unless adequate precautions are taken against these hazards.

Do not heat to temperatures above the boiling point of water (approximately 212 F or 100 C).

Do not eat, drink or smoke in areas of use or storage.

STORAGE

Store in tightly closed containers in a cool, dry, isolated, well-ventilated area away from heat, sources of ignition and incompatibles. Avoid contact with strong oxidizers. Empty containers may contain product residue. Do not reuse without adequate precautions.

Hydrogen sulfide can build up in the head space of storage vessels containing any type of asphalt product. Use appropriate respiratory protection to prevent exposure. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

When entering a storage vessel that has previously contained any type of asphalt product, it is recommended that the atmosphere be monitored for the presence of hydrogen sulfide. See Composition information (Section 2) for exposure limits.

8 EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

ENGINEERING CONTROLS

Ventilation and other forms of engineering controls are the preferred means for controlling exposures.

Consult NIOSH (National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health) for more information on guidelines for engineering controls for asphalt pavers.

EYE PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Wear chemical safety goggles and face shield. Have eye washing facilities readily available where eye contact can occur.

SKIN PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Use appropriate chemical protective gloves when handling at room temperature . Use gloves that protect against thermal burns when handling at high temperatures. At a minimum, wear long-sleeved cotton shirt buttoned at the collar and full-length cotton pants. Synthetic fibers tend to melt and adhere to the skin when heated. Do not fold back or roll up cuffs.

Use good personal hygiene.

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

A NIOSH/MSHA approved air purifying respirator with an appropriate cartridge, canister, and/or filter may be permissible under certain circumstances where airborne concentrations are expected to exceed exposure limits. The use of air purifying respirators is not recommended where hydrogen sulfide levels may exceed exposure limits. Protection provided by air purifying respirators is limited. Use a positive pressure air supplied respirator if there is any potential for an uncontrolled release, exposure levels are not known, or any other circumstances where air purifying respirators may not provide adequate protection.

11 TOXICOLOGICAL INFORMATION

ROUTES OF EXPOSURE

Inhalation, ingestion, skin and eye contact.

TOXICOLOGICAL DATA

Acute or chronic overexposure to this material or its components may cause systemic toxicity, including adverse effects to the following: kidney, liver, skin, thymus, blood elements, lymph nodes, testes, bone marrow, respiratory and nervous system.

This information is based on findings from related or similar materials.

Exposure to components of this material may cause the following specific symptoms, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure: anemia, pallor, fatigue, oil acne, melanosis, loss of appetite, and anxiety.

Reports have associated repeated and prolonged occupational overexposure to solvents with permanent brain and nervous system damage (sometimes referred to as solvent or painter's syndrome). Intentional misuse by deliberately concentrating and inhaling this product may be harmful or fatal.

CARCINOGENICITY

This material contains petroleum asphalt. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence that undiluted, air-refined asphalt is carcinogenic to experimental animals, and there is only limited evidence that undiluted steam-refined and cracking-residue asphalts are carcinogenic to animals. Additionally, IARC has concluded that there is inadequate evidence that asphalts alone are carcinogenic to humans.

In solution, solvent extracts of asphalts can produce skin cancer in animals following prolonged and repeated contact. IARC has concluded that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of asphalt extracts in experimental animals. Therefore, asphalts that are diluted, dissolved, or liquefied in hydrocarbon solvents, may also be implicated as potentially carcinogenic. While brief or intermittent skin contact with this type of product is not expected to cause harm, those workers who do not practice good personal hygiene and who are exposed repeatedly via skin contact may be at risk. It is important that all precautionary measures outlined in this MSDS be followed.

Asphalt fumes from heated material may cause eye, respiratory tract and skin irritation, as well as nausea and headaches. These fumes may cause dermatitis and acne-like lesions as well as mild keratoses on prolonged and repeated exposure. Condensed asphalt fumes, which have been generated under laboratory conditions and which are chemically different from those found during typical asphalt operations, have been reported to cause bacterial mutations as well as cause skin tumors in animals following repeated, lifetime skin contact without washing. However, inhalation of asphalt fumes by laboratory animals, during controlled studies, did not produce lung cancer. Additionally, human studies to date have not established a link between asphalt fume exposure and lung cancer.

This material may contain untreated or mildly treated mineral oils. This material may contain solvent extract oils. IARC has determined that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of these oils in experimental animals.

Some of the components of this product are hazardous in the dust form. These components include crystalline silica, which is a suspected human carcinogen. However, because of the physical nature of this product, dust generation is not expected, so the health effects associated with the dusts are unlikely to occur.

TERATOGENICITY, MUTAGENICITY, OTHER REPRODUCTIVE EFFECTS

This product may contain components which may cause adverse reproductive and/or development effects.

SENSITIZATION TO MATERIAL

The possibility of allergic sensitization should be considered.

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE

Pre-existing medical conditions which may be aggravated by exposure include disorders of the kidney, liver, skin, blood, respiratory and nervous system,

POTENTIAL HEALTH EFFECTS, INHALATION

Breathing of the mists, vapors or fumes may irritate the nose, throat and lungs. Symptoms may include sore throat, coughing, labored breathing, sneezing and burning sensation, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure. Fumes or vapors from the heated material may be irritating to the respiratory tract.

Symptoms may include headache, excitation, euphoria, dizziness, incoordination, drowsiness, light-headedness, blurred vision, fatigue, tremors, convulsions, loss of consciousness, coma, respiratory arrest and death, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure.

May release hydrogen sulfide gas which is highly toxic. Hydrogen sulfide can cause respiratory paralysis and death, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure. Do not rely on ability to smell vapors, since odor fatigue rapidly occurs. Effects of overexposure include irritation of the nose and throat, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal pain and signs of nervous system depression (e.g. headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of coordination and fatigue), irregular heartbeats, pulmonary edema, weakness and convulsions.

See Storage & Handling (Section 7) for more information.

Overexposure to this material may cause systemic damage including target organ effects listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

Other specific symptoms of exposure are listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

POTENTIAL HEALTH EFFECTS, INGESTION

May cause severe irritation with intense burning of the mouth and throat followed by abdominal pain and distress, nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea. Symptoms may include salivation, pain, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. Aspiration into lungs may cause chemical pneumonia and lung damage.

Overexposure to this material may cause systemic damage including target organ effects listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

Other specific symptoms of exposure are listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

SKIN

For hot material, immerse or flush skin with large amounts of the coldest water possible. Cover with clean cotton sheeting or gauze. Remove clothing if not sticking to skin. DO NOT try to remove solidified material from the skin as the damaged flesh can be easily torn. DO NOT try to dissolve with solvents or thinners. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

For caustic material, immediately wash skin with plenty of soap and water while removing contaminated clothing and shoes. Get medical attention if irritation persists.

Place contaminated clothing in closed container for storage until laundered or discarded. If clothing is to be laundered, inform person performing operation of contaminant's hazardous properties. Discard contaminated leather goods.

EYE

Flush immediately with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Eyelids should be held away from the eyeball to ensure thorough rinsing. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

Burns due to contact with heated material require immediate medical attention.

INHALATION

Safely remove the victim from exposure. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WITHOUT ADEQUATE PROTECTIVE GEAR AND PROPER TRAINING. Remove to fresh air. If not breathing, institute cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). If breathing is difficult, ensure airway is clear and give oxygen. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION. Keep affected person warm and at rest.

INGESTION

Gastric lavage should be performed only by qualified medical personnel. If spontaneous vomiting occurs keep head below hips to prevent aspiration and monitor for breathing difficulty. Do not induce vomiting because of danger of aspirating liquid into lungs, causing serious damage and chemical pneumonitis. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION. Keep affected person warm and at rest.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested.

If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

E Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

Hydrogen sulfide is primarily a respiratory toxin inhibiting the cytochrome oxidase system; it is probably more potent than HCN. The lifetime of sulfide in oxygenated blood is short and sulfmethemoglobin is rapidly detoxified by red blood cells and the liver. If nitrites have been used for detoxification, check methemoglobin levels. Follow fluid and electrolyte balance carefully since metabolic acidosis may occur from increased anaerobic metabolism. Watch for pulmonary edema and aspiration pneumonia during convalescence.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

Other specific symptoms of exposure are listed under "Toxicological Information" (Section 11).

SKIN

For hot material, immerse or flush skin with large amounts of the coldest water possible. Cover with clean cotton sheeting or gauze. Remove clothing if not sticking to skin. DO NOT try to remove solidified material from the skin as the damaged flesh can be easily torn. DO NOT try to dissolve with solvents or thinners. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

For cold material, immediately wash skin with plenty of soap and water while removing contaminated clothing and shoes. Get medical attention if irritation persists.

Place contaminated clothing in closed container for storage until laundered or discarded. If clothing is to be laundered, inform person performing operation of contaminant's hazardous properties. Discard contaminated leather goods.

EYE

Flush immediately with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Eyelids should be held away from the eyeball to ensure thorough rinsing. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

Burns due to contact with heated material require immediate medical attention.

INHALATION

Safely remove the victim from exposure. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WITHOUT ADEQUATE

- PROTECTIVE GEAR AND PROPER TRAINING. Remove to fresh air. If not breathing, institute cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), If breathing is difficult, ensure airway is clear and give oxygen.

Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

INGESTION

Gastric lavage should be performed only by qualified medical personnel. If spontaneous vomiting occurs keep head below hips to prevent aspiration and monitor for breathing difficulty. Do not induce vomiting because of danger of aspirating liquid into lungs, causing serious damage and chemical pneumonitis.

Keep affected person warm and at rest GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested.

Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

Hydrogen sulfide is primarily a respiratory toxin inhibiting the cytochrome oxidase system; it is probably more potent than HCN. The lifetime of sulfide in oxygenated blood is short and sulfmethemoglobin is rapidly detoxified by red blood cells and the liver. If nitrites have been used for detoxification, check methemoglobin levels. Follow fluid and electrolyte balance carefully since metabolic acidosis may occur from increased anaerobic metabolism. Watch for pulmonary edema and aspiration pneumonia during convalescence.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

5 FIRE FIGHTING MEASURES

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS

Combustion may produce COx, NOx, SOx, reactive hydrocarbons, hydrogen sulfide and irritating vapors.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA

Use water spray, dry chemical, alcohol foam, all purpose AFFF or carbon dioxide to extinguish fire,

BASIC FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

Material will burn in a fire. Evacuate area and fight fire from a safe distance.

Use water spray to cool adjacent structures and to protect personnel. Shut off source of flow if possible. Stay away from storage tank ends. Withdraw immediately in case of rising sound from venting safety device or any discoloration of storage tank due to fire.

Exercise extreme care when using water spray on asphalt tank fires. When water is mixed with hot asphalt, steam may rapidly develop resulting in violent asphalt foaming and possible tank eruptions from increased pressure,

Firefighters must wear MSHA/NIOSH approved positive pressure breathing apparatus (SCBA) with full face mask and full protective equipment.

UNUSUAL FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARDS

Hydrogen Sulfide can react with the iron in an asphalt storage tank to form iron sulfide. Iron Sulfide is pyrophoric. When exposed to air, iron sulfide is capable of igniting spontaneously.

Flammability Limits in Air, Upper, % by Volume	ND

m ACCIDENTAL RELEASE MEASURES

EMERGENCY ACTION

Keep unnecessary people away; isolate hazard area and deny entry. Stay upwind. (See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection in Section 8.)

ENVIRONMENTAL PRECAUTIONS

If product is released in the environment, take immediate steps to stop and contain release. Caution should be exercised regarding personnel safety and exposure to the released product. Notify local authorities and the National Response Center, if required.

SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURE

Keep ignition sources out of area and shut off all ignition sources. For spills on land, dike ahead of spill to contain. Scrape up spilled material for disposal. To reclaim, mix with gravel, dirt or rock. For spills on water, contain as much as possible with booms and begin recovery as soon as possible. If material sinks or becomes dispersed, consult with local, state and regional authorities for approved clean up procedures. Stop leak when safe to do so.

See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

7 HANDLING & STORAGE

HANDLING

Ground lines and equipment used during transfer to reduce the possibility of static spark-initiated fire or explosion. Use non-sparking tools. Do not cut, grind, drill, weld or reuse containers unless adequate precautions are taken against these hazards.

Do not heat to temperatures above the boiling point of water (approximately 212 F or 100 C).

Do not eat, drink or smoke in areas of use or storage.

STORAGE

Store in tightly closed containers in a cool, dry, isolated, well-ventilated area away from heat, sources of ignition and incompatibles. Avoid contact with strong oxidizers. Empty containers may contain product residue. Do not reuse without adequate precautions.

Hydrogen sulfide can build up in the head space of storage vessels containing any type of asphalt product. Use appropriate respiratory protection to prevent exposure. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

When entering a storage vessel that has previously contained any type of asphalt product, it is recommended that the atmosphere be monitored for the presence of hydrogen sulfide. See Composition Information (Section 2) for exposure limits.

8 EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

ENGINEERING CONTROLS

Ventilation and other forms of engineering controls are the preferred means for controlling exposures.

Consult NIOSH (National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health) for more information on guidelines for engineering controls for asphalt pavers.

EYE PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Wear chemical safety goggles and face shield. Have eye washing facilities readily available where eye contact can occur.

SKIM PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Use appropriate chemical protective gloves when handling at room temperature . Use gloves that protect against thermal burns when handling at high temperatures. At a minimum, wear long-sleeved cotton shirt buttoned at the collar and full-length cotton pants. Synthetic fibers tend to melt and adhere to the skin when heated. Do not fold back or roll up cuffs.

W

Use good personal hygiene.

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

A NIOSH/MSHA approved air purifying respirator with an appropriate cartridge, canister, and/or filter may be permissible under certain circumstances where airborne concentrations are expected to exceed exposure limits. The use of air purifying respirators is not recommended where hydrogen sulfide levels may exceed exposure limits. Protection provided by air purifying respirators is limited. Use a positive pressure air supplied respirator if there is any potential for an uncontrolled release, exposure levels are not known, or any other circumstances where air purifying respirators may not provide adequate protection.

11 TOXICOLOGICAL INFORMATION

inhalation, ingestion. skin and eye contact.

TOXICOLOGICAL DATA

Acute or chronic overexposure to this material or its components may cause systemic toxicity, including adverse effects to the following: kidney, liver, skin, thymus, blood elements, lymph nodes, testes, bone marrow, respiratory and nervous system.

This information is based on findings from related or similar materials.

Exposure to components of this material may cause the following specific symptoms, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure: anemia, pallor, fatigue, oil acne, melanosis, loss of appetite, and anxiety.

Reports have associated repeated and prolonged occupational overexposure to solvents with permanent brain and nervous system damage (sometimes referred to as solvent or painter's syndrome). Intentional misuse by deliberately concentrating and inhaling this product may be harmful or fatal.

CARCINOGENICITY

This material contains petroleum asphalt. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence that undiluted, air-refined asphalt is carcinogenic to experimental animals, and there is only limited evidence that undiluted steam-refined and cracking-residue asphalts are carcinogenic to animals. Additionally, IARC has concluded that there is inadequate evidence that asphalts alone are carcinogenic to humans.

In solution, solvent extracts of asphalts can produce skin cancer in animals following prolonged and repeated contact. IARC has concluded that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of asphalt extracts in experimental animals. Therefore, asphalts that are diluted, dissolved, or liquefied in hydrocarbon solvents, may also be implicated as potentially carcinogenic. While brief or intermittent skin contact with this type of product is not expected to cause harm, those workers who do not practice good personal hygiene and who are exposed repeatedly via skin contact may be at risk. It is important that all precautionary measures outlined in this MSDS be followed.

Asphalt fumes from heated material may cause eye, respiratory tract and skin irritation, as well as nausea and headaches. These fumes may cause dermatitis and acne-like lesions as well as mild keratoses on prolonged and repeated exposure. Condensed asphalt fumes, which have been generated under laboratory conditions and which are chemically different from those found during typical asphalt operations, have been reported to cause bacterial mutations as well as cause skin tumors in animals following repeated, lifetime skin contact without washing. However, inhalation of asphalt fumes by laboratory animals, during controlled studies, did not produce lung cancer. Additionally, human studies to date have not established a link between asphalt fume exposure and lung cancer.

This material may contain untreated or mildly treated mineral oils. This material may contain solvent extract oils. IARC has determined that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of these oils in experimental animals.

Some of the components of this product are hazardous in the dust form. These components include crystalline silica, which is a suspected human carcinogen. However, because of the physical nature of this product, dust generation is not expected, so the health effects associated with the dusts are unlikely to occur.

TERATOGENICITY, MUTAGENICITY, OTHER REPRODUCTIVE EFFECTS

This product may contain components which may cause adverse reproductive and/or development effects.

SENSITIZATION TO MATERIAL

The possibility of allergic sensitization should be considered.

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE

Pre-existing medical conditions which may be aggravated by exposure include disorders of the kidney, liver, skin, blood, respiratory and nervous system.

GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

 Keep affected person warm and at rest.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested. If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

5 FIRE FIGHTING MEASURES

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS

Combustion may produce CO, NOx, SOx and reactive hydrocarbons. Combustion may produce hydrogen sulfide, toxic and irritating vapors.

BASIC FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

Material will burn in a fire. Use water spray, dry chemical, alcohol foam, all purpose AFFF or carbon dioxide to extinguish fire. Exercise extreme care when using water spray on asphalt tank fires. When water is mixed with hot asphalt, steam may rapidly develop resulting in violent asphalt foaming and possible tank eruptions from increased pressure. Evacuate area and fight fire from a safe distance.

Use water spray to cool adjacent structures and to protect personnel. Shut off source of flow if possible. Stay away from storage tank ends. Withdraw immediately in case of rising sound from venting safety device or any discoloration of storage tank due to fire.

Firefighters must wear MSHA/NIOSH approved positive pressure breathing apparatus (SCBA) with full face mask and full protective equipment.

UNUSUAL FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARDS

Fires involving this product may release carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, reactive hydrocarbons and hydrogen sulfide.

EMERGENCY ACTION

Isolate spill area and keep unnecessary people away. See Exposure Control/Personal Protection (Section 8).

ENVIRONMENTAL PRECAUTIONS

If product is released to the environment, take immediate steps to stop and contain release. Caution should be exercised regarding personnel safety and exposure to the released product. Notify local authorities and the National Response Center, if required.

SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURE

Stop leak when safe to do so. For spills on land, dike ahead of spill to contain. Scrape up spilled material for disposal. To reclaim, mix with gravel, dirt or rock. For spills on water, contain as much as possible with booms and begin recovery as soon as possible. If material sinks or becomes dispersed, consult with local, state and regional authorities for approved clean up procedures.

See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

7 HANDLINGS STORAGE

HANDLING

Ground lines and equipment used during transfer to reduce the possibility of static spark-initiated fire or explosion. Use non-sparking tools. Do not cut, grind, drill, weld or reuse containers unless adequate precautions are taken against these hazards.

Do not heat to temperatures above the boiling point of water (approximately 212 F or 100 C).

Do not eat, drink or smoke in areas of use or storage.

STORAGE

Store in a dry, isolated, and well-ventilated area away from sources of ignition and incompatibilities. Avoid contact with strong oxidizers.

Empty containers may contain product residue. Do not reuse without adequate precautions.

Hydrogen sulfide can build up in the head space of storage vessels containing hot asphalt products. Use appropriate respiratory protection to prevent exposure. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

When entering a storage vessel that has previously contained any type of asphalt product, it is recommended that the atmosphere be monitored for the presence of hydrogen sulfide. See Composition Information (Section 2) for exposure limits.

Hydrogen Sulfide can react with the iron in an asphalt storage tank to form iron sulfide. Iron Sulfide is pyrophoric. When exposed to air, iron sulfide is capable of igniting spontaneously.

W EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

ENGINEERING CONTROLS

Ventilation and other forms of engineering controls are the preferred means for controlling exposures.

Consult NIOSH (National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health) for more information on guidelines for engineering controls for asphalt pavers.

EYE PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Wear safety goggles. A face shield is recommended for transfer operations or where splashing can occur. Have eye washing facilities readily available where eye contact can occur.

SKIN PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Use appropriate chemical protective gloves when handling at room temperature. Use gloves that protect against thermal burns when handling at high temperatures. At a minimum, wear long-sleeved cotton shirt buttoned at the collar and full-length cotton pants. Synthetic fibers tend to melt and adhere to the skin when heated. Do not fold back or roll up cuffs.

Use good personal hygiene.

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

A NIOSH/MSHA approved air purifying respirator with an appropriate cartridge or canister may be permissible under certain circumstances where airborne concentrations are expected to exceed exposure limits. The use of air purifying respirators is not recommended where hydrogen sulfide levels may exceed exposure limits.

Protection provided by air purifying respirators is limited. Use a positive pressure air supplied respirator if there is any potential for an uncontrolled release, exposure levels are not known, or any other circumstances where air purifying respirators may not provide adequate protection.

TOXICOLOGICAL DATA

Acute or chronic overexposure to this material or its components may cause systemic toxicity, including adverse effects to the following: skin, kidney, liver, pituitary, thyroid, adrenals, thymus, respiratory and central nervous systems.

Exposure to components of this material may cause the following specific symptoms, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure: fatigue, reduced appetite, respiratory effects, anxiety and pallor.

CARCINOGENICITY

This material contains petroleum asphalt. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence that Undiluted, air-refined asphalt is carcinogenic to experimental animals, and there is only limited evidence that undiluted steam-refined and cracking-residue asphalts are carcinogenic to animals. Additionally, IARC has concluded that there is inadequate evidence that asphalts alone are carcinogenic to humans.

Jkf In solution, solvent extracts of asphalts can produce skin cancer in animals following prolonged and repeated contact. IARC has concluded that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of asphalt extracts in experimental animals. Therefore, "cutbacks" (asphalts that are diluted, dissolved, or liquefied in hydrocarbon solvents), may also be implicated as potentially carcinogenic. While brief or intermittent skin contact with this type of product is not expected to cause harm, those workers who do not practice good personal hygiene and who are exposed repeatedly via skin contact may be at risk. It is important that all precautionary measures outlined in this MSDS be followed.

Asphalt fumes from heated material may cause eye, respiratory tract and skin irritation, as well as nausea and headaches. These fumes may cause dermatitis and acne-like lesions as well as mild keratoses on prolonged and repeated exposure. Condensed asphalt fumes, which have been generated under laboratory conditions and which are chemically different from those found during typical asphalt operations, have been reported to cause bacterial mutations as well as cause skin tumors in animals following repeated, lifetime skin contact without washing. However, inhalation of asphalt fumes by laboratory animals, during controlled studies, did not produce lung cancer. Additionally, human studies to date have not established a link between lung cancer and asphalt fume exposure.

This material may contain trace amounts of polynuclear aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs) as naturally occurring constituents of crude oils from which asphalt is derived. Repeated or prolonged exposure to some PAHs has been associated with effects to the liver, kidneys, immune system and skin with warty growths, skin burns, pigmentation of the bare skin and cornification of the surface layers. They have also been associated with anemia, photosensitivity, leukoplakia (white patches on the tongue, cheek or gums), edema of the eyelids, conjunctival hyperemia, lacrimation, photophobia, headache, loss of appetite, vital powers and strength, cough, bronchitis and nausea. Some PAHs have been shown to be carcinogenic after prolonged or repeated skin contact in laboratory animals.

This material may contain untreated or mildly treated mineral oils. This material may contain solvent extract oils. IARC has determined that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of these oils in experimental animals.

This material may contain middle distillates. In an NTP skin painting study on middle distillates, there was no evidence of carcinogenicity in male or female mice. IARC has determined that there is limited evidence for the carcinogenicity of middle distillates in experimental animals and inadequate evidence in humans. This material may contain light fuel oils. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence for the carcinogenicity of light fuel oils in humans and experimental animals.

This material may contain ethylbenzene. Ethylbenzene has shown clear evidence of carcinogenicity in male rats and some evidence of carcinogenicity in female rats and male and female mice.

TERATOGENICITY, MUTAGENICITY, OTHER REPRODUCTIVE EFFECTS

This product contains components which may cause adverse reproductive and/or developmental effects. Pregnant women may be at an increased risk from exposure. Consumption of alcoholic beverages may enhance toxic effects.

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE

Pre-existing medical conditions which may be aggravated by exposure include disorders of the kidney, liver, skin and respiratory system.

SKIN

For hot material, immerse or flush skin with large amounts of the coldest water possible. Cover with clean cotton sheeting or gauze. Remove clothing if not sticking to skin, DO NOT try to remove solidified material from the skin as the damaged flesh can be easily torn. DO NOT try to dissolve with solvents or thinners. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

For cold material, immediately wash skin with plenty of soap and water while removing contaminated clothing and shoes. Get medical attention if irritation persists.

Place contaminated clothing in closed container for storage until laundered or discarded. If clothing is to be laundered, inform person performing operation of contaminant's hazardous properties. Discard contaminated leather goods.

EYE

Flush immediately with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Eyelids should be held away from the eyeball to ensure thorough rinsing. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

Burns due to contact with heated material require immediate medical attention.

INHALATION

Safely remove the victim from exposure. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WITHOUT ADEQUATE PROTECTIVE GEAR AND PROPER TRAINING. Remove to fresh air. If not breathing, institute cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). If breathing is difficult, ensure airway is clear and give oxygen.

Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

INGESTION

Gastric lavage should be performed only by qualified medical personnel. If spontaneous vomiting occurs keep head below hips to prevent aspiration and monitor for breathing difficulty. Do not induce vomiting because of danger of aspirating liquid into lungs, causing serious damage and chemical pneumonitis.

Keep affected person warm and at rest. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested.

Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

Hydrogen sulfide is primarily a respiratory toxin inhibiting the cytochrome oxidase system; it is probably more potent than HCN. The lifetime of sulfide in oxygenated blood is short and sulfmethemoglobin is rapidly detoxified by red blood cells and the liver. If nitrites have been used for detoxification, check methemoglobin levels. Follow fluid and electrolyte balance carefully since metabolic acidosis may occur from increased anaerobic metabolism. Watch for pulmonary edema and aspiration pneumonia during convalescence.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

4 FIRST AID MEASURES

SKIN

For hot material, immerse or flush skin with large amounts of the coldest water possible. Cover with clean cotton sheeting or gauze. Remove clothing if not sticking to skin. DO NOT try to remove solidified material from the skin as the damaged flesh can be easily torn. DO NOT try to dissolve with solvents or thinners. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

For cold material, immediately wash skin with plenty of soap and water while removing contaminated clothing and shoes. Get medical attention if irritation persists.

Place contaminated clothing in closed container for storage until laundered or discarded. If clothing is to be laundered, inform person performing operation of contaminant's hazardous properties. Discard contaminated leather goods.

EYE

Flush immediately with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Eyelids should be held away from the eyeball to ensure thorough rinsing. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION.

U Burns due to contact with heated material require immediate medical attention.

INHALATION

Safely remove the victim from exposure. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WITHOUT ADEQUATE PROTECTIVE GEAR AND PROPER TRAINING. Remove to fresh air. If not breathing, institute cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). If breathing is difficult, ensure airway is clear and give oxygen. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION. Keep affected person warm and at rest.

INGESTION

Gastric lavage should be performed only by qualified medical personnel. If spontaneous vomiting occurs keep head below hips to prevent aspiration and monitor for breathing difficulty. Do not induce vomiting because of danger of aspirating liquid into lungs, causing serious damage and chemical pneumonitis. GET IMMEDIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION. Keep affected person warm and at rest.

NOTES TO PHYSICIAN

Gastric lavage may be indicated if ingested.

Anemia may require the usual supportive measures. Medical evaluation of acute overexposure should include hematological determinations until stable. In severe acute and chronic poisoning, both renal and hepatic damage may occur and should be anticipated in such cases. Respiratory and pulmonary problems may require special attention. After severe acute symptoms have been alleviated, it may be advisable to consider periodic monitoring of the patient until such time as the likelihood of other adverse effects can be discounted.

Hydrogen sulfide is primarily a respiratory toxin inhibiting the cytochrome oxidase system; it is probably more potent than HCN. The lifetime of sulfide in oxygenated blood is short and sulfmethemoglobin is rapidly detoxified by red blood cells and the liver. If nitrites have been used for detoxification, check methemoglobin levels. Follow fluid and electrolyte balance carefully since metabolic acidosis may occur from increased anaerobic metabolism. Watch for pulmonary edema and aspiration pneumonia during convalescence.

For skin contact with hot asphalt material, do not peel the solidified material from the skin, or use solvents such as gasoline, kerosene, or paint thinner to remove. Cooled asphalt may adhere so tenaciously to the skin that attempted removal may cause severe distress to the patient. Covering the affected area using commercially available preparations containing the emulsifying agent polysorbate (Tween 80), or an antibiotic cream in a polysorbate base is the most effective method to dissolve the solidified asphalt. Asphalt can also be slowly dissolved with vegetable oil, baby oil or mineral oil.

If spontaneous vomiting has occurred after ingestion, the patient should be monitored for difficult breathing, as adverse effects of aspiration into the lungs may be delayed up to 48 hours.

5 FIRE FIGHTING MEASURES

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS

Combustion may produce COx, NOx, SOx, reactive hydrocarbons and hydrogen sulfide.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA

Use a water spray, dry chemical, alcohol foam, all purpose foam or carbon dioxide to extinguish fire.

BASIC FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

Material will burn in a fire. Use water spray to cool adjacent structures and to protect personnel. Exercise extreme care when using water spray on asphalt tank fires. When water is mixed with hot asphalt, steam may rapidly develop resulting in violent asphalt foaming and possible tank eruptions from increased pressure. Evacuate area and fight fire from a safe distance.

Shut off source of flow if possible. Stay away from storage tank ends. Withdraw immediately in case of rising sound from venting safety device or any discoloration of storage tank due to fire.

Firefighters must wear MSHA/NIOSH approved positive pressure breathing apparatus (SCBA) with full face mask and full protective equipment.

UNUSUAL FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARDS

Fires involving this product may release carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, reactive hydrocarbons and hydrogen sulfide.

EMERGENCY ACTION

Isolate spill area and keep unnecessary people away.

See Exposure Control/Personal Protection (Section 8).

ENVIRONMENTAL PRECAUTIONS

If product is released to the environment, take immediate steps to stop and contain release. Caution should be exercised regarding personnel safety and exposure to the released product. Notify local authorities and the National Response Center, if required.

SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURE

Stop leak when safe to do so. For spills on land, dike ahead of spill to contain. Scrape up spilled material for disposal. To reclaim, mix with gravel, dirt or ruck. For spills in water, contain as much as possible with booms and begin recovery as soon as possible. If material sinks or becomes dispersed, consult with local, state and regional authorities for approved clean up procedures. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

7 HANDLING & STORAGE

HANDLING

Ground lines and equipment used during transfer to reduce the possibility of static spark-initiated fire or explosion. Use non-sparking tools. Do not cut, grind, drill, weld or reuse containers unless adequate precautions are taken against these hazards.

Do not heat to temperatures above the boiling point of water (approximately 212 F or 100 C).

Do not eat, drink or smoke in areas of use or storage.

STORAGE

Store in a dry, isolated, and well-ventilated area away from sources of ignition and incompatibles. Avoid contact with strong oxidizers. Empty containers may contain product residue. Do not reuse without adequate precautions.

Hydrogen sulfide can build up in the head space of storage vessels containing hot asphalt products. Use appropriate respiratory protection to prevent exposure. See Exposure Controls/Personal Protection (Section 8).

When entering a storage vessel that has previously contained any type of asphalt product, it is recommended that the atmosphere be monitored for the presence of hydrogen sulfide. See Composition Information (Section 2) for exposure limits.

Hydrogen Sulfide can react with the iron in an asphalt storage tank to form iron sulfide. Iron Sulfide is pyrophoric. When exposed to air, iron sulfide is capable of igniting spontaneously.

8 EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

ENGINEERING CONTROLS

Ventilation and other forms of engineering controls are the preferred means for controlling exposures.

Consult NIOSH (National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health) for more information on guidelines for engineering controls for asphalt pavers.

EYE PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Wear safety goggles. A face shield is recommended for transfer operations or where splashing can occur. Have eye washing facilities readily available where eye contact can occur.

SKIN PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Use appropriate chemical protective gloves when handling at room temperature. Use gloves that protect against thermal burns when handling at high temperatures. At a minimum, wear long-sleeved cotton shirt buttoned at the collar and full-length cotton pants. Synthetic fibers tend to melt and adhere to the skin when heated. Do not fold back or roll up cuffs.

Use good personal hygiene.

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION: PERSONAL PROTECTION EQUIPMENT (PPE)

A NIOSH/MSHA approved air purifying respirator with an appropriate cartridge, canister, and/or filter may be permissible under certain circumstances where airborne concentrations are expected to exceed exposure limits. The use of air purifying respirators is not recommended where hydrogen sulfide levels may exceed exposure limits. Protection provided by air purifying respirators is limited. Use a positive pressure air supplied respirator if there is any potential for an uncontrolled release, exposure levels are not known, or any other circumstances where air purifying respirators may not provide adequate protection.

TOXICOLOGICAL DATA

- Acute or chronic overexposure to this material or its components may cause systemic toxicity, including adverse effects to the following: kidney, liver, skin, thymus, blood elements, lymph nodes, testcs, bone marrow, respiratory and nervous system.

This information is based on findings from related or similar materials.

Exposure to components of this material may cause the following specific symotoms, depending on the concentration and duration of exposure: anemia, pallor, fatigue, oil acne, melanosis, loss of appetite, and anxiety.

Reports have associated repeated and prolonged occupational overexposure to solvents with permanent brain and nervous system damage (sometimes referred to as solvent or painters's syndrome). Intentional misuse by deliberately concentrating and inhaling this product may be harmful or fatal.

CARCINOGENICITY

This material contains petroleum asphalt. IARC has determined that there is inadequate evidence that undiluted, air-refined asphalt is carcinogenic to experimental animals, and there is only limited evidence that undiluted steam-refined and cracking-residue asphalts are carcinogenic to animals. Additionally, IARC has concluded that there is inadequate evidence that asphalts alone are carcinogenic to humans.

In solution, solvent extracts of asphalts can produce skin cancer in animals following prolonged and repeated contact. IARC has concluded that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of asphalt extracts in experimental animals. Therefore, asphalts that are diluted, dissolved, or liquefied in hydrocarbon solvents, may also be implicated as potentially carcinogenic. While brief or intermittent skin contact with this type of product is not expected to cause harm, those workers who do not practice good personal hygiene and who are exposed repeatedly via skin contact may be at risk, it is important that all precautionary measures outlined in this MSDS be followed.

Asphalt fumes from heated material may cause eye, respiratory tract and skin irritation, as well as nausea and headaches. These fumes may cause dermatitis and acne-like lesions as well as mild keratoses on prolonged and repeated exposure. Condensed asphalt fumes, which have been generated under laboratory conditions and which are chemically different from those found during typical asphalt operations, have been reported to cause bacterial mutations as well as cause skin tumors in animals following repeated, lifetime skin contact without washing. However, inhalation of asphalt fumes by laboratory animals, during controlled studies, did not produce lung cancer. Additionally, human studies to date have not established a link between asphalt fume exposure and lung cancer.

This material may contain untreated or mildly treated mineral oils. This material may contain solvent extract oils. IARC has determined that there is sufficient evidence for the carcinogenicity of these oils in experimental animals.

Some of the components of this product are hazardous in the dust form. These components include crystalline silica, which is a suspected human carcinogen. However, because of the physical nature of this product, dust generation is not expected, so the health effects associated with the dusts are unlikely to occur.

TERATOGENICITY, MUTAGENICITY, OTHER REPRODUCTIVE EFFECTS

This product may contain components which may cause adverse reproductive and/or development effects.

SENSITIZATION TO MATERIAL

The possibility of allergic sensitization should be considered.

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE

Pre-existing medical conditions which may be aggravated by exposure include disorders of the kidney, liver, skin, blood, respiratory and nervous system.

12. ADDITIONAL HEALTH DATA

ADDITIONAL HEALTH DATA COMMENT:

This product contains petroleum base oils which may be refined by various processes including severe solvent extraction, severe hydrocracking, or severe hydrotreating. None of the oils requires a cancer warning under the OSHA Hazard Communication Standard (29 CFR 1910.1200). These oils have not been listed in the National Toxicology Program (NTP) Annual Report nor have they been classified by the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) as; carcinogenic to humans (Group 1), probably carcinogenic to humans (Group 2A), or possibly carcinogenic to humans (Group 2B).

This product contains zinc alkyl dithiophosphates (ZDDPs). Several ZDDPs have been reported to have weak mutagenic activity in cultured mammalian cells but only at concentrations that were toxic to the test cells. We do not believe that there is any mutagenic risk to workers exposed to ZDDPs.

Revision Number: 1 Revision Date: 06/06/92 MSDS Number: 005130

This product contains butyl benzyl phthalate. In a cancer bioassay conducted by the National Toxicology Program (NTP), mice and rats were given butyl benzyl phthalate in their diets. All groups of male rats were terminated at six months due to excessive mortality. Female rats showed an increase in cancer but both sexes of mice did not. This study has been declared invalid and is being repeated by NTP.

ADDITIONAL RELEVANT DATA

Signs and symptoms of respiratory tract irritation may include, but may not be limited to, one or more of the following, depending on concentration and length of exposure: nasal discharge, nosebleed, sore throat, coughing, bronchitis, pulmonary edema and difficulty in breathing.

This product contains zinc dialkyldithiophosphate (ZDDP). ZDDPs have been tested by repeated application to the skin of young rabbits for three weeks. These rabbits developed severe skin damage, weight loss, and adverse testicular effects. Follow-up studies indicated similar testicular effects can be produced by placing rabbits on a restricted diet and causing them to lose weight or by treating rabbits with simple caustic chemicals and causing them to develop both severe skin irritation and weight loss. Rats similarly treated with ZDDP did not develop testicular effects even when skin damage and weight loss occurred. These results indicate that the testicular effects seen in rabbits were not caused by the toxicity of ZDDPs but were due to the species reaction to stress from severe skin irritation and weight loss. There is no evidence that human exposure to ZDDPs in the workplace will cause testicular effects since occupational exposure does not cause stress from severe skin irritation and weight loss similar to that observed in rabbits. In summary, we now believe there is no risk of male reproductive impairment from working with ZDDP.

Several ZDDPs have also been found to have weak mutagenic activity in cultured mammalian cells. The low level of activity occurred only at ZDDP concentrations which were highly toxic to the test cells. Since mutagenic activity was observed with zinc chloride but not with calcium dialkyldithiophosphate, the weak mutagenic activity of ZDDP may be due to the zinc in the chemical. Zinc is abundant in the environment, is an essential element in our diets, and it is generally accepted that zinc is not a health hazard. Therefore, we do not believe the test results discussed above indicate a genetic hazard to employees working with ZDDPs. Appropriate personal hygiene procedures as outlined in the MSDS, should, of course, be followed since ZDDPs in concentrated form are irritating to the skin.

This product contains base oils which the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) classifies as having no evidence of carcinogenic potential.

ADDITIONAL HEALTH DATA

Signs and symptoms of respiratory tract irritation may include, but may not be limited to, one or more of the following, depending on concentration and length of exposure: nasal discharge, sore throat, coughing, bronchitis, pulmonary edema and difficulty in breathing.

Several zinc alkyl dithiophosphates (ZDDPs) have been reported to have weak mutagenic activity in cultured mammalian cells but only at concentrations that were toxic to the test cells. Also, in the past, a ZDDP similar to the one used in this product was reported to cause adverse effects on the testicles of rabbits but not of rats after applications to the skin for several weeks. However, follow-up studies in rabbits indicated that the testicular effects were due to a species-specific reaction to stress caused by severe skin irritation and weight loss and not a direct chemical effect of the ZDDP. While toxicologists at Chevron do not believe that there is any mutagenic or testicular risk to workers exposed to ZDDPs as described above, the precautions outlined in this MSDS should be followed.

This product contains base oils which the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) classifies as having no evidence of carcinogenic potential.

This product may contain petroleum base oils refined by a combination of severe hydrocracking and hydrotreating. The carcinogenic potential of paraffinic base oils prepared by this process is not specifically addressed by OSHA, KTP, or IARC. However, the process conditions, chemical analyses, and the results of Ames tests all support our opinion that these oils are not carcinogenic.

- EXTREMELY FLAMMABLE

- VAPOR HARMFUL

- LONG-TERM EXPOSURE TO VAPOR HAS CAUSED CANCER IN LABORATORY ANIMALS

POTENTIAL HEALTH EFFECTS

EYE:

This substance is slightly irritating to the eyes and could cause prolonged (days) impairment of your vision. The degree of the injury will depend on the amount of material that gets into the eye and the speed and thoroughness of the first aid treatment. Eye contact with the vapors, fumes, or spray mist from this substance could also cause similar signs and symptoms.

SKIN:

This substance is a moderate skin irritant so contact with the skin could cause prolonged (days) injury to the affected area. The degree of injury will depend on the amount of material that gets on the skin and the speed and thoroughness of the first aid treatment. If absorbed through the skin, this substance is considered practically non-toxic to internal organs. Prolonged or frequently repeated contact may cause the skin to become cracked or dry from the defatting action of this material.

INGESTION:

This substance is slightly toxic to internal organs if swallowed. The degree of injury will depend on the amount absorbed from the gut. The target organ(s) is the nervous system. Because of the low viscosity of this substance, it can directly enter the lungs if it is swallowed (this is called aspiration). This can occur during the act of swallowing or when vomiting the substance. Once in the lungs, the substance is very difficult to remove and can cause severe injury to the lungs and death.

INHALATION:

This substance is slightly toxic to internal organs if inhaled. The degree of injury will depend on the airborne concentration and duration of exposure. The target organ(s) is the nervous system. Inhalation of gasoline vapor at airborne concentrations exceeding 1000 ppm, may cause signs and symptoms of central nervous system effects such as headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, weakness and loss of coordination. Vapor concentrations in excess of 5000 ppm may cause loss of consciousness, coma and death. Brief exposures to high vapor concentrations may also cause pulmonary edema and bronchitis. Intentional exposures to excessively high concentrations (e.g., when used as a drug of abuse) have been reported to result in clinical manifestations that may include convulsions, delirium, and hallucinations. These manifestations are not known to occur following accidental inhalation of gasoline vapor during normal operations.

 NDA - No Data Available NA - Not Applicable

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS OF EXPOSURE:

EYE: May include pain, tears, swelling, redness, and blurred vision.

ADDITIONAL TOXICOLOGY INFORMATION:

This product contains benzene. The OSHA Benzene Standard (29 CFR 1910.1028) contains detailed requirements for training, exposure monitoring, respiratory protection and medical surveillance triggered by the exposure level. Refer to the OSHA Standard before using this product. Repeated or prolonged breathing of benzene vapors has been associated with the development of chromosomal damage in experimental animals and various blood diseases in humans ranging from aplastic anemia to leukemia (a form of cancer). All of these diseases can be fatal. No birth defects have been shown to occur in pregnant laboratory animals exposed to doses not toxic to the mother. However, some evidence of fetal toxicity such as delayed physical development has been seen at such levels. The available information on the effects of benzene on human pregnancies is inadequate but it has been established that benzene can cross the human placenta.

When vapor exposures are low, or short duration and infrequent, such as during refuelling and tanker loading/unloading, neither total hydrocarbon nor components such as benzene are likely to result in any adverse health effects. In situations such as accidents or spills where exposure to gasoline vapor and liquid is potentially high, attention should be paid to potential toxic effects of specific components in addition to those of total hydrocarbons. Information about specific components in gasoline are found in Section 1 and Section 15 of this MSDS. More detailed information on the health hazard of specific gasoline components can be obtained from

A study was done in which ten volunteers were exposed for 30 minutes to about 200, 500 or 1000 ppm concentrations of the vapor of three different unleaded gasolines. Irritation of the eyes was the only significant effect observed, based on both subjective and objective assessments.

An inhalation study with rats exposed to 0, 400 and 1600 ppm of wholly vaporized unleaded gasoline, 6 hours per day on day 6 through 16 of gestation, showed no teratogenic effects nor indication of toxicity to either the mother or the fetus (sex ratio, embryotoxicity, fetal growth and development).

In an inhalation study, groups of 6 Fischer rats (3 male, 3 female) were exposed to 2050 ppm of wholly vaporized unleaded gasoline for 6 hours per day, 5 days per week for up to 18 months. Histopathology of the peripheral nervous system and spinal cord revealed no distal axonal neuropathy of the type associated with exposure to n-hexane even though gasoline contained 1.9% n-hexane. The authors concluded that gasoline treatment may have amplified the incidence and prominence of some naturally occurring age related changes in the nervous system.

Wholly vaporized unleaded gasoline was used in a 3 month inhalation study. Groups of 40 rats (20 males, 20 female) and 8 squirrel monkeys (4 male, 4 female) were exposed 6 hours per day and 5 days per week for 13 weeks to 384 or 1522 ppm gasoline. One group of each species served as unexposed controls. The initial conclusion of this study was that inhalation of gasoline at airborne concentrations of up to 1522 ppm caused no toxicity in rats or monkeys. However, further histopathological examination of male rat kidneys on the highest dose group revealed an increased incidence and severity of regenerative epithelium and dilated tubules containing proteinaceous deposits.

Rabbits were exposed to unleaded gasoline 24 hours per day, 5 days per week for two weeks; 0, 2.5, 5 or 8 ml were applied to the skin under an occlusive dressing. Applied in such a way, this motor gasoline was corrosive to the rabbit skin and animals in all dose groups had decreased bodyweights. Histopathology was performed on skin, liver, kidney, spleen and urinary bladder. The slight and/or isolated systemic effects noted in the study were judged to be not significant.

Unleaded gasoline was assayed for mutagenic and cytogenetic activity. Gasoline was not mutagenic, either with or without activation, in Ames assay (Salmonella typhimurium), Saccharomyces cerevisiae, or mouse lymphoma assays. In addition, point mutations were not induced in human lymphocytes exposed to gasoline in vivo. The gasoline was not mutagenic when tested in the mouse dominant lethal assay. Administration of gasoline to rats did not cause chromosomal aberrations in their bone marrow cells.

in a lifetime skin painting study, 50 male Swiss mice were treated with 0.05 ml of unleaded gasoline three times per week. Positive control groups were treated with benzo(a)pyrene in acetone; an untreated negative control group was also included. The repeated exposure to gasoline caused severe skin irritation, ulceration, hyperkeratosis and abscesses. There was no statistically significant increase in the incidence of skin tumors. Histopathology at the end of the study showed that unleaded gasoline did not increase the incidence of tumors in other organs.

Lifetime inhalation of wholly vaporized unleaded gasoline at 2056 ppm has caused increased liver tumors in female mice. The mechanism of this response is still being investigated but is thought to be an epigenetic process unique to the female mouse. This exposure also caused kidney damage and eventually kidney cancer in male rats. No other animal model studied has shown these adverse kidney effects and there is no physiological reason to believe that they would occur in man. SPA has concluded that the mechanism by which wholly vaporized unleaded gasoline causes kidney damage is unique to the male rat. The response in that species (kidney damage and cancer) should not be used in human risk assessment.

In their 196a review of carcinogenic risk from gasoline, The International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) noted that, because published epidemiology studies did not include any exposure data, only occupations where gasoline exposure may have occurred were reviewed. These included gasoline service station attendants and automobile mechanics. IARC also noted that there was no opportunity to separate effects of combustion products from those of gasoline itself. Although IARC allocated gasoline a final overall classification of Group 2B, i.e. possibly carcinogenic to humans, this was based on limited evidence in experimental animals plus supporting evidence including the presence in gasoline of benzene and 1,3-butadiene. The actual evidence for carcinogenicity in humans was considered inadequate.

To explore the health effects of workers potentially exposed to gasoline vapors in the marketing and distribution sectors of the petroleum industry, the American Petroleum Institute sponsored a cohort mortality, a nested case-control, and an exposure assessment study. Histories of exposure to gasoline were reconstructed for a cohort of more than 18,000 employees from four companies for the time period between 1946 and 1985. Data were analyzed based on length of employment, length of exposure, job category, age at first exposure and estimated cumulative and peak exposures. Cumulative exposure was defined as the sum of products of TWA exposure and duration of exposure of each job in an employee's work history. Among cohort members, cumulative exposure ranged from 2 to 8,000 ppm-years. In general, long-term drivers at small terminals had the highest exposures, and short-term workers with "other terminal jobs" had the lowest. A peak exposure was defined as an episode in excess of 500 ppm lasting 15 to 90 minutes.

The results of the cohort study indicated that there was no increased mortality from either kidney cancer or leukemia among marketing and marine distribution employees who were exposed to gasoline in the petroleum industry, when compared to the general population. More importantly, based on internal comparisons, there was no association between mortality from kidney cancer or leukemia and various indices of gasoline exposure.

NDA - No Data Available NA - Not Applicable

For acute myeloid leukemia (AML), a non-significant mortality increase was found in land-based terminal employees, but no trend was detected when the data were analyzed by various gasoline exposure indices. This non-significant excess was limited to land-based terminal employees hired prior to 1948. On the other hand, a deficit of mortality from AML was observed among marine employees.

In addition to the cohort study, a subsequent nested case-control study was also conducted. Four diseases were selected for analysis in the case-control study: Leukemia (all cell types), AML, kidney cancer and multiple myeloma. For each case, five individually matched controls were randomly selected from the cohort. In the original cohort study, broad generic job categories were used as part of exposure assessment. In the case-control study, a finer and more homogeneous job classification was developed. In addition to job category, several quantitative gasoline exposure indices were used in the case control analysis: length of exposure, cumulative exposure (ppm-years in terms of total hydrocarbons) and frequency of peak exposure. Time period of first exposure to gasoline (1948 or before and 1949 or after) was also included as an exposure index. Results of the nested case-control study confirmed the findings of the original cohort study. That is, exposure to gasoline at the levels experienced by this cohort of distribution workers is not a significant risk factor for leukemia (all cell types), acute myeloid leukemia, kidney cancer or multiple myeloma.

Whole gasoline exhaust was reviewed by the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) in their Monograph Volume 46 (1989). Evidence for causing cancer was considered inadequate in animals and inadequate in humans. IARC placed whole gasoline exhaust in Category 2B, considering it possibly carcinogenic to humans.

12. ECOLOGICAL INFORMATION

ECOTOXICITY:

Gasoline studies have been conducted in the laboratory under a variety of test conditions with a range of fish and invertebrate species. An even more extensive database is available on the aquatic toxicity of individual aromatic constituents. The majority of published studies do not identify the type of gasoline evaluated, or even provide distinguishing characteristics such as aromatic content or presence of lead alkyls. As a result, comparison of results among studies using open and closed vessels, different ages and species of test animals and different gasoline types, is difficult.

The bulk of the available literature on gasoline relates to the environmental impact of monoaromatic (BTEX) and diaromatic (naphthalene, methylnaphthalenes) constituents. In general, non-oxygenated gasoline exhibits some short-term toxicity to freshwater and marine organisms, especially under closed vessel or flow-through exposure conditions in the laboratory. The components which are the most prominent in the water soluble fraction and cause aquatic toxicity, are also highly volatile and can be readily biodegraded by microorganisms.

The 96-hour LC50 in rainbow trout (Salmo gairdneri) is 2.7 rag/1 (BTEX). The 48-hour LC50 in daphnia (Daphnia magna) is 3.0 mg/1 (BTEX). The 96-hour LC50 in sheepshead minnow (Cyprinodon variegatus) is 8.3 mg/1 (BTEX). The 96-hour LC50 in mysid shrimp (Mysidopsis bahia) is 1.8 mg/1 (BTEX).

ENVIRONMENTAL FATE:

Following spillage, the more volatile components of gasoline will be rapidly lost, with concurrent dissolution of these and other constituents into the water. Factors such as local environmental conditions (temperature, wind, mixing or wave action, soil type, ect), photo-oxidation, biodegradation and adsorption onto suspended sediments, can contribute to the weathering of spilled gasoline. The aqueous solubility of non-oxygenated unleaded gasoline, based on analysis of benzene, toluene, ethylbenzene+xylenes and naphthalene, is reported to be 112 rag/1. Solubility data on individual gasoline constituents also available.

13. DISPOSAL CONSIDERATIONS

This material, if it must be discarded, may meet the criteria of a hazardous waste as defined by USEPA under RCRA (40CFR261) or other State and local regulations. Measurement of certain physical properties and analysis for regulated components may be necessary to make a correct determination. If this material is classified as a hazardous waste, federal law requires disposal at a licensed hazardous waste disposal facility.

3. HAZARDS IDENTIFICATION

 EMERGENCY OVERVIEW *****

Pale yellow liquid.

- COMBUSTIBLE
- HARMFUL OR FATAL IF SWALLOWED - CAN ENTER LUNGS AND CAUSE DAMAGE
- CAUSES SKIN IRRITATION
- MAY CAUSE CANCER BASED ON ANIMAL DATA

POTENTIAL HEALTH EFFECTSEYE:

This substance is not expected to cause prolonged or significant eye irritation.

SKIN:

This substance is a moderate skin irritant so contact with the skin could cause prolonged (days) injury to the affected area. The degree of injury will depend on the amount of material that gets on the skin and the speed and thoroughness of the first aid treatment. If absorbed through the skin, this substance is considered practically non-toxic to internal organs.

INGESTION:

Revision Number: 1 Revision Date: 09/01/93 MSDS Number: 005556
NDA - No Data Available NA - Not Applicable

If swallowed, this substance is considered practically non-toxic to internal organs. Because of the low viscosity of this substance, it can directly enter the lungs if it is swallowed (this is called aspiration). This can occur during the act of swallowing or when vomiting the substance. Once in the lungs, the substance is very difficult to remove and can cause severe injury to the lungs and death.

INHALATION:

Prolonged breathing of vapors can cause central nervous system effects. This hazard evaluation is based on data from similar materials.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS OF EXPOSURE:

INHALATION: Central nervous system effects may include one or more of following: headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, weakness and loss of coordination. SKIN: May include pain or a feeling of heat, discoloration, swelling, and blistering.

CARCINOGENICITY:

This product contains a mixture of petroleum hydrocarbons called middle distillates (which means they boil between approximately 350F and 700F). Because of this broad description, many products are considered middle distillates yet they are produced by a variety of different petroleum refining processes. Toxicology data developed on some middle distillates found that they caused positive responses in some mutagenicity tests and caused skin cancer when repeatedly applied to mice over their lifetime. This product may contain some middle distillates found to cause those adverse effects.

4. FIRST AID MEASURES

EYE:

No first aid procedures are required. However, as a precaution flush eyes with fresh water for 15 minutes. Remove contact lenses if worn.

SKIN:

Remove contaminated clothing. Wash skin thoroughly with, soap and water. See a doctor if any signs or symptoms described in this document occur. Discard contaminated non-waterproof shoes and boots. Wash contaminated clothing.

INGESTION:

If swallowed, give water or milk to drink and telephone for medical advice. DO NOT make person vomit unless directed to do so by medical personnel. If medical advice cannot be obtained, then take the person and product container to the nearest medical emergency treatment center or hospital.

INHALATION:

If any signs or symptoms as described in this document occur, move the person to fresh air. If any of these effects continue, see a doctor.

NOTE TO PHYSICIANS:

Ingestion of this product or subsequent vomiting can result in aspiration of light hydrocarbon liquid which can cause pneumonitis.

SECTION #4 - FIRE FIGHTING & EXPLOSION DATA

Flash Point: Gas

Autolgnition: 565°F 296°C

Lower Explosive Limit (%): 2.2

Upper Explosive Limit (Z): 80 - 85*

Fire and Explosion Hazards

*Pure acetylene can ignite by decomposition above 15 psi; therefore, the UEL is 1002! if the ignition source is of sufficient Intensity.

Klectrical Classification: Class 1, Group A,

GASEOUS ACETYLENE IS SPONTANEOUSLY COMBUSTIBLE IN AIR AT PRESSURES ABOVE 15 FSI (207 kPa). It requires a very low ignition energy so that fires which have been extinguished without stopping the flow of gas can easily relgnite with possible explosive force. Acetylene has a density very sirrilar to that of air so wehn leaking it does not readily dissipate.

Extinguishing Media

Carbon dioxide, dry chemical.

Special Fire Fighting Instructions

If possible, stop the flow of gas supply and allow fuel to consume itself. Use water spray to cool adjacent areas. Keep personnel away since heated or burning cylinders can rupture violently.

SECTION #5 - EXPOSURE AND EFFECTS - INHALATION

Routes of Exposure - Inhalation

Acetylene is a simple asphyxiant. Oxygen levels should be maintained at greater than 18 molar percent at normal atmospheric pressure which is equivalent to a partial pressure of 135 mm Hg, High concentrations of acefyiptip sn as tn exclude an adequate supply of oxygen to the lungs causes dizziness, deeper breathing due to air hunger, possible nausea and eventual unconsciousness.

Acetylene is relatively inactive biologically and essentially nontoxic; therefore, the major hazard is the exclusion of an adequate supply of oxygen to the lungs. Low concentrations (10-20X In air) cause symptoms similar to thnt of being Intoxicated. As a narcotic gas or intoxicant, It causes hypercaphia (an excessive amount of carbon dioxide in the blood). Repeated exposures to tolerable levels has not shown deleterious effects.

Exposure to the acetone component is unlikely unless cylinder is leaking on Its side. Acetone Is primarily a central nervous system toxin causing headache, nausea, dizziness, vomiting and fatigue.

SECTION #5 - EXPOSURE AND EFFECTS - INHALATION Continued...

First Aid - Inhalation

PROMPT MEDICAL ATTENTION IS MANDATORY IN ALL CASES OF OVEREXPOSURE. PERSONNEL SHOULD BE EQUIPPED WITH SELF-CONTAINED BREATHING APPARATUS.

Victims should be assisted to an uncontaminated area and inhale fresh air. Quick removal from the contaminated area is most important. If breathing has stopped administer artificial resuscitation and supplemental oxygen. Further treatment should be symptomatic and supportive. Keep victim warm and quiet.

SECTION #5 - EXPOSURE AND EFFECTS - SKIN

Routes of Exposure - Skin

Skin effects are not likely. Contact with liquid acetone may cause irritation and dermatitis upon repeated exposures.

First Aid - Skin

Wash affected areas with soap and warm water. If irritation persists, seek medical attention.

SECTION #5 - MISCELLANEOUS TOXICOLOGICAL INFORMATION

Carcinogenicity: NTP: No IARC: No OSHA: No

SECTION #6 - REACTIVITY & POLYMERIZATION

Stability: Unstable

Conditions to Avoid (Stability)

Do not allow free gas (outside of cylinder) to exceed 15 psi. Do not expose cylinder to sudden shock or heat.

Incompatible Materials

Oxygen and other oxidizers including all halogens and halogen compounds. Forms explosive acetylide compounds with copper, mercury, silver, brasses containing >66% copper and brazing materials containing silver or copper.

Hood with forced ventilation. Local exhaust to prevent accumulation above the exposure limit. Mechanical in accordance with electrical codes.

Eye Protection

Safety goggles or glasses.

Skin Protection

PVC or rubber in laboratory; as required for cutting and welding.

Respiratory Protection

Positive pressure air line with mask or self-contained breathing apparatus should be available for emergency use.

Other Protection

SECTION §9 - SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS - STORAGE & HANDLING

Storage & Handling Conditions

Use only in well-ventilated areas. Valve protection caps must remain in place unless container is secured with valve protection outlet piped to use point. Do not drag, slide or roll cylinders. Use a suitable hand truck for cylinder movement. Use a pressure reducing regulator when removing gas from the cylinder. DO NOT ALLOW THE FREE GAS TO EXCEED 15 PSI (207 kPa) @ 70°F (21.1°C). Do not heat cylinder by any means to Increase the discharge rate of product from the cylinder. Use a check valve or trap in the discharge line to prevent hazardous back flow Into the cylinder.

SECTION if9 - SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS - STORAGE & HANDLING Continued...

Protect cylinders from physical damage. Store in cool, dry, well-ventilated area of non-combustible construction away from heavily trafficked areas and emergency exits. Do not allow the temperature where cylinders are stored to exceed 130°F. Cylinders should be stored upright and firmly secured to prevent falling or being knocked over. Use a "first in-first out" inventory system to prevent full cylinders being stored for excessive periods of time. Post "NO SMOKING OR OPEN FLAMES" signs in the storage area or use area. There should be no sources of ignition in the storage or use area.

SECTION iHO - SHIPPING INFORMATION

Proper Shipping Name: Acetylene

Hazard Class: Flammable Gas
DOT Identification Number: UN1001
DOT Shipping Label: Flammable Gas

SECTION 011 - MISC COMMENTS & REFERENCE DOCUMENTATION

Earth-ground and bond all lines and equipment associated with the acetylene system. Electrical equipment should be non sparking or explosion-proof.

Compressed gas cylinders should not be refilled except by qualified producers of compressed gases. Shipments of a compressed gas cylinder, which has not been filled by the owner or with his (written) consent, is a violation of Federal Law (49CFR).

For additional recommendations, consult Compressed Gas Association Pamphlets P-1, G-1. NFPA #51-1984. OSHA 1910-subpart H & Q.

Since acetylene will explode or combust if its pressure exceeds 15 psi (207 kPa), it is shipped dissolved in acetone or diethylformamide, which is dispersed in a porous mass within the cylinder. Follow AIRCO's instructions for the maximum withdrawal rate for each size cylinder so that the solvent is not withdrawn with the acetylene.

Most metals except silver, copper, mercury, or brasses with more than 66% copper are compatible (noncorrosive) with acetylene.

SECTION 19 - EXPOSURE and EFFECTS - INHALATION

Route of Exposure - Inhalation

Argon is a simple asphyxiant. Maintain oxygen levels above 19.5% at sea level. Effects of overexposure to high concentrations so as to displace the oxygen in the air necessary for Life may include any, all or none of the following:

- o Tingling of the tongue, fingertips or toes;
- o Weakened speech leading to the inability to utter sounds;
- o Rapid reduction in the ability to perform movements;
- o Loss of tactile sensations;
- o Heightened mental activity.

The above symptoms may or may not be present since there are no definite symptoms of exposure. Argon is nontoxic but the liberation of a large amount in a confined area could displace the amount of oxygen in air necessary to support life.

EYES:

Never introduce oil or ointment into the eyes without medical advice. In case of freezing or cryogenic "burns" by rapidly evaporating liquid. DO NOT WASH THE EYES WITH HOT OR EVEN TEPID WATER! Remove victim from the source of contamination. Open eyelids wide to allow liquid to evaporate. If pain is present, refer the victim to an ophthalmologist for further treatment and follow up. If the victim cannot tolerate light, protect eyes with fit light bandage or handkerchief.

SKIN:

Remove contaminated clothing and flush affected area with cold water and soap. DO NOT USE HOT WATER. A physician should see the patient promptly if the cryogenic "burn" has resulted in blistering of the skin or deep tissue freezing or if frostbite has occurred. Treat the "burn" in a similar manner as a thermal burn.

INGESTION:

A physician should see the patient promptly if the cryogenic "burn" has resulted in blistering of the skin or deep tissue freezing or if frostbite has occurred.

INHALATION:

PROMPT MEDICAL ATTENTION IS MANDATORY IN ALL CASES OF OVEREXPOSURE TO CARBON DIOXIDE. RESCUE PERSONNEL SHOULD BE EQUIPPED WITH SELF-CONTAINED BREATHING APPARATUS. Conscious persons should be assisted to an uncontaminated area and inhaled fresh air. Quick removal from the contaminated area is most important. VII. HEALTH HAZARD DATA

Effects Of Chronic Exposure:

Oral LD50: 351 mg/kg; NH₃ (Rats)
Inhalation LC50: 27 (1 ppm NH₃) (Mice)
Inhalation LD50: 5 (1 ppm NH₃)

Major Exposure Hazard:

Inhalation
Skin Contact
EM; Contact

Aqua ammonia is a caustic alkali and reacts erosively with all body tissues. Inhalation: High concentrations can be suffocating and is irritating to the mucous membranes and lung tissues. Skin (and eye) contact: High concentrations can cause severe irritation and burns. Eye Contact: May cause severe eye irritation and burns. Ingestion: Can cause vomiting, nausea and corrosion to the esophagus and stomach. The exact nature and irritability of toxic effects following ingestion of varying amounts of strong aqua ammonia solution varies; 2% solution is non-irritating. The most acute effect is that any amount from one teaspoon or more can be dangerous if ingested. Ammonia is listed as a carcinogen by IARC, NTP, or OSHA.

Emergency & First Aid Procedures:

Inhalation: Remove from exposure. If breathing has stopped or is difficult, administer artificial respiration or oxygen as needed. Seek medical aid. Eye Contact: Immediately flush with large quantities of water while removing contaminated clothing. Eye Contact: Flush with large amounts of water for at least 15 minutes. Ingestion: Do not induce vomiting. Rinse mouth with water and give plenty of milk or water to drink. Immediate: seek medical aid.

VIII. SPECIAL PROTECTION INFORMATION

Respiratory:

Respiratory protection must be used when exposure limits are exceeded. Appropriate protection depends on the magnitude of exposure. (See section IX).

Skin:

Rubber gloves and rubber or PVC lined or laminated protective clothing should be used to prevent skin contact. A face shield should be used when appropriate to prevent contact with splashed liquid.

Eye:

Eye protection should be required. Wear chemical safety goggles to prevent eye contact.

Ventilation

Local exhaust ventilation should be used to control releases of air contaminants in the work place. General dilution ventilation may assist with the reduction of air contaminant concentrations.

Other Protective Equipment

Emergency wash stations and deluge showers should be available in the work area.

IX. SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS

Precautions To Be Taken In Handling And Storage:

Store in vented containers or pressure vessels away from heat or direct sunlight. Open containers cautiously in case of pressure build up. Zinc, copper and copper alloys such as brass are rapidly corroded by aqua ammonia.

Other Comments:

Repeated inhalation of high concentrations may cause bronchitis and/or pneumonia, with some residual reduction in pulmonary functions. Symptoms of lung edema are often latent (a few hours), and are aggravated by physical effort. (Handling Chemicals Safely. Dutch Air Force of Safety Experts et al. 1980). Hare et al. (1977). Contact lenses should not be worn when working with ammonia. Whether a chemical cartridge respirator or a self-contained breathing apparatus is sufficient for effective respiratory protection depends upon the type and magnitude of exposure.

This information is taken from sources or based upon data believed to be reliable. However, Pacific Litho Products, makes no warranty as to the absolute correctness or sufficiency of any of the foregoing or that additional or other measures may not be required under particular conditions.

Material Safety Data Sheet

CHEVRON DELO 300 Motor Oil SAE 10W

CPS 224601

ADDITIONAL HEALTH DATA

Signs and symptoms of respiratory tract irritation may include, but may not be limited to, one or more of the following, depending on concentration and length of exposure: nasal discharge, sore throat, coughing, bronchitis, pulmonary edema and difficulty in breathing.

Several zinc alkyl dithiophosphates (ZDDPs) have been reported to have weak mutagenic activity in cultured mammalian cells but only at concentrations that were toxic to the test cells. Also, in the past, a ZDDP similar to the one used in this product was reported to cause adverse effects on the testicles of rabbits but not of rats after applications to the skin for several weeks. However, follow-up studies in rabbits indicated that the testicular effects were due to a species-specific reaction to stress caused by severe skin irritation and weight loss and not a direct chemical effect of the ZDDP. While toxicologists at Chevron do not believe that there is any mutagenic or testicular risk to workers exposed, to ZDDPs as described above, the precautions outlined in this MSDS should be followed.

This product also contains calcium phenates. When a similar calcium phenate was applied to the skin of rabbits five days/week for four weeks, the animals developed adverse testicular effects. Studies with other chemicals have since shown that rabbits may develop similar testicular effects due to stress rather than to chemical toxicity. We further investigated the effects of calcium phenates in rats, a species now recognized as more appropriate than rabbits for investigating toxicity by repeated skin exposures. Calcium phenate applied five days/week for four weeks to the skin of rats did not produce adverse testicular effects. Based on these data, we believe that there is no risk of male reproductive impairment from exposure to calcium phenate in the workplace.

This product contains base oils which the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) classifies as having no evidence of carcinogenic potential.

This product may contain petroleum base oils refined by a combination of severe hydrocracking and hydrotreating. The carcinogenic potential of paraffinic base oils prepared by this process is not specifically addressed by OSHA, NTP, or IARC. However, the process conditions, chemical analyses, and the results of Ames tests all support our opinion that these oils are not carcinogenic.

During use in engines, contamination of oil with low levels of cancer-causing combustion products occurs. Used motor oils have been shown to cause skin cancer in mice following repeated application and continuous exposure. Brief or intermittent skin contact with used motor oil is not expected to have serious effects in humans if the oil is thoroughly removed by washing with soap and water. See Chevron Material Safety Data Sheet No. 1793 for additional information on used motor oil.

ACUTE ORAL EFFECTS:

No product toxicology data available. The hazard evaluation was based on data from similar materials.

ACUTE INHALATION EFFECTS:

ADDITIONAL TOXICOLOGY INFORMATION:

This product contains zinc alkyl dithiophosphates (ZDDPs). Several ZDDPs have been reported to have weak mutagenic activity in cultured mammalian cells but only at concentrations that were toxic to the test cells. We do not believe that there is any mutagenic risk to workers exposed to ZDDPs.

This product contains petroleum base oils which may be refined by various processes including severe solvent extraction, severe hydrocracking, or severe hydrotreating. None of the oils requires a cancer warning under the OSHA Hazard Communication Standard (29 CFR 1910.1200). These oils have not been listed in the National Toxicology Program (NTP) Annual Report nor have they been classified by the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) as; carcinogenic to humans (Group 1), probably carcinogenic to humans (Group 2A), or possibly carcinogenic to humans (Group 2B).

During use in engines, contamination of oil with low levels of cancer-causing combustion products occurs. Used motor oils have been shown to cause skin cancer in mice following repeated application and continuous exposure. Brief or intermittent skin contact with used motor oil is not expected to have serious effects in humans if the oil is thoroughly removed by washing with soap and water. See Chevron Material Safety Data Sheet No. 1793 for additional information on used motor oil.

12. ECOLOGICAL INFORMATION

ECOTOXICITY:

13. DISPOSAL CONSIDERATIONS

DISPOSAL CONSIDERATIONS:

Oil collection services and collection centers are available for used motor oil recycling or disposal. Some service stations, automotive service centers, and retailers provide motor oil collection facilities.

Place contaminated materials in containers and dispose of in a manner consistent with applicable regulations. Contact your sales representative or local environmental or health authorities for approved disposal or recycling methods.

This product contains zinc dialkyldithiophosphate (ZDDP). ZDDPs have been tested by repeated application to the skin of young rabbits for three weeks. These rabbits developed severe skin damage, weight loss, and adverse testicular effects. Follow-up studies indicated similar testicular effects can be produced by placing rabbits on a restricted diet and causing them to lose weight or by treating rabbits with simple caustic chemicals and causing them to develop both severe skin irritation and weight loss. Rats similarly treated with ZDDP did not develop testicular effects even when skin damage and weight loss occurred. These results indicate that the testicular effects seen in rabbits were not caused by the toxicity of ZDDPs but were due to the species reaction to stress from severe skin irritation and weight loss. There is no evidence that human exposure to ZDDPs in the workplace will cause testicular effects since occupational exposure does not cause stress : cm severe skin irritation and weight loss similar to that observed in rabbits. In ;. mir.ary, we now believe there is no risk of male reproductive impairment from working with 7DDP.

Several ZDDPs have also been found to have weak mutagenic activity in cultured mammalian cells. The low level of activity occurred only at ZDDP concentrations which were highly toxic to the test cells. Since mutagenic activity was observed with zinc chloride but not with calcium dialkyldithiophosphate, the weak mutagenic activity of ZDDP may be due to the zinc in the chemical. Zinc is abundant in the environment, is an essential element in our diets, and it is generally accepted that zinc is not a health hazard. Therefore, we do not believe the test results discussed above indicate a genetic hazard to employees working with ZDDPs. Appropriate personal hygiene procedures as outlined in the MSDS, should, of course, be followed since ZDDPs in concentrated form are irritating to the skin.

This product contains base oils which the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) classifies as having no evidence of carcinogenic potential.

MEDICAL CONDITIONS GENERALLY AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE: HEADACHES, DIZZINESS, NAUSEA, EXISTING DERMATITIS.

EMERGENCY AND FIRST AID PROCEDURES:

EYE CONTACT: WASH EYES WITH FRESH WATER FOR AT LEAST 15 MINUTES. IF IRRITATION PERSISTS, SEE A DOCTOR.

SKIN CONTACT: WASH THOROUGHLY WITH SOAP AND WATER.

INHALATION: IF AFFECTED BY INHALING VAPORS, MOVE PERSON TO FRESH AIR. IF BREATHING HAS STOPPED APPLY ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION. CALL DOCTOR IMMEDIATELY.

In actual conditions of use, duration of protection obtained using WD-40 will vary with the type of material being protected and the conditions of exposure. Generally, on mild steel the protection under various conditions will be approximately as follows:

- Covered and indoor storage 1 year or longer
 - Protected exterior storage months to 1 year
 - Normal exterior exposure 30 to 60 days
 - Severe exterior exposure 15 to 30 days (on or very near treated surface, such as: tough humidity, salt spray, etc.)
- If longer protection is desired, WD-40 should be reapplied when necessary.

Effect on Materials

GENERAL: Nearly all materials react to WD-40 as they would to high grade aliphatic petroleum spirits with the same exposure. i.e., Spray, quick dip or prolonged immersion. WD-40 contains no silicon, fluorine, chlorine or phosphorus.

RUBBER: No visible effects on surfaces of various types of rubber sprayed with WD-40. Certain types of rubber will swell upon prolonged immersion in WD-40.

HIGH STRENGTH STEELS (For hydrogen embrittlement): Certified SAFE according to the Lawrenson Hydrogen Effusion Test.

FABRICS: The following fabrics were exposed to WD-40 with no effect, except slight staining which was readily removed with water or dry cleaning solvent. Nylon, Orion, Wool, Dacron, Conon.

PAINTED SURFACES: Many types of paint on various surfaces have been exposed to WD-40 with no effect. Wax polishes and certain wax coatings may be softened by WD-40.

PLASTICS: The following plastics were immersed in WD-40 for 163 hours with no visible effects:

Polyethylene	Formica	Epoxy	Delrin
Polypropylene	Acrylic	Vinyl
Teflon	Polyester	Nylon

Clear polycarbonate and polystyrene may stress craze or crack in contact with WD-40.

WD-40 and the Environment

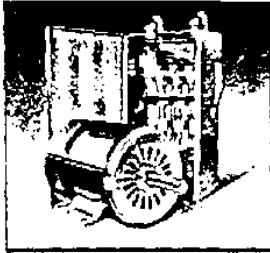

WD-40 is a positive contributor to the preservation of the environment. Here are a few facts about WD-40 and the environment:

- WD-40 does not contain Chlorofluorocarbons (CFC's), HCFC's, Halon's or T.I.L. (Trichloroethylene Chloroform); chemicals that are believed to contribute to the depletion of the stratospheric ozone layer.
- WD-40 contains no known carcinogens.
- Aerosol containers are sealed so that fumes can't leak, spill or become contaminated.
- WD-40 cans contain recycled steel and when empty can be recycled again.
- WD-40 cans are supplied to our customers in a recyclable carton.
- WD-40 Company uses recycled paper whenever possible in our advertising materials.
- In June, 1991, WD-40 replaced "styrofoam peanuts" foam used for packaging with a 95% cornstarch foam.
- By extending the usage of equipment and postponing its disposal, we conserve resources and energy while reducing the generation of solid waste.

DANGER: COMBUSTIBLE HARMFUL OR FATAL, if SWALLOWED. Contains petroleum distillate. Wash thoroughly, do not induce vomiting. Call physician. Keep from children.

WD-40's Five Basic Functions.

Displaces Moisture.

WD-40[®] is formulated for ultra-high surface attraction to metal. It completely covers surfaces, including microscopic irregularities, even in the presence of moisture. In fact, WD-40 goes under surface moisture and establishes a protective barrier between the moisture and the parent metal. WD-40 is a non-conductor of electricity and quickly eliminates moisture-induced short circuits.

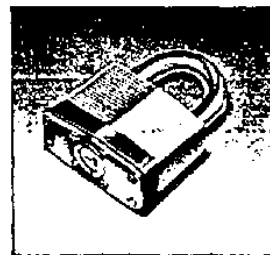

Penetrates.

WD-40's ultra-high surface attraction results in a super penetrating action that loosens rust-to-metal bonds and frees stuck, frozen, or rusted metal parts. The lubricating properties of WD-40 then keep these parts working freely.

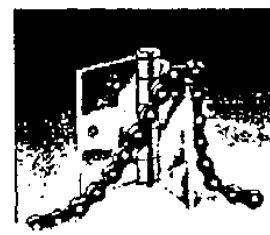

Protects.

WD-40 deposits corrosion-resistant ingredients over the entire surface area, including microscopic irregularities. This protective barrier shields against moisture and other corrosive elements. WD-40's moisture-displacement capability also precludes the possibility of a small moisture pocket causing future problems.

Cleans.

WD-40's ultra-high surface attraction enables it to get under dirt, grime, caked grease, and oil to clean the surface at the same time it forms a corrosion-resistant barrier, it also dissolves most adhesives, allowing for the easy removal of labels and excess bonding materials.

Lubricates,

WD-40's ultra-high surface attraction assures the lubricating ingredients in WD-40 will be widely dispersed and tenaciously held to all moving parts. WD-40 contains no silicone or other additives that attract dust and dirt causing a buildup of gummy, greasy residues.

C. EMERGENCY AND FIRST AID PROCEDURES

EYE CONTACT
Vapor contact - flush with fresh water for at least 20 minutes. Liquid contact - flush exposed area with lukewarm water or otherwise warm skin slowly. Frostbite is probable. Treat accordingly. Call a physician.

SKIN CONTACT
Vapor contact - flush with fresh water for at least 20 minutes. Liquid contact - flush exposed area with lukewarm water or otherwise warm skin slowly. Frostbite is probable. Treat accordingly. Call a physician.

INHALATION
Vapor contact - primary route of exposure. If inhaled, remove to fresh air. Keep warm and at rest. If breathing is difficult (labored), give oxygen. If not breathing, give artificial respiration and check for pulse. If no pulse, start CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation). Do Not give stimulants (adrenaline, epinephrine or hand-held asthma aerosols). Call 911 (if available) and a physician. Keep patient at rest for 24 hours after overexposure. No long-term effects are expected.

INGESTION
Liquid - not probable. If ingested, however, keep patient calm, if conscious, and get to a physician immediately - frostbite is probable indicated by necrosis of lips and tongue (contacted tissue), blanching of skin, pain and tenderness. Warm skin slowly.

NOTE: Human Poisoning Potential - Sniffing of fluorocarbon propellants for their intoxicating effects has produced over 100 deaths. Fluorocarbon exhibit very toxic properties (asphyxiation, cardiac arrhythmias) when sniffed; however, because of variations in response, it is difficult to predict the symptoms which will be exhibited following exposure. It is possible that individuals with heart or respiratory disorders may prove especially susceptible. Excessive inhalation of this product is extremely dangerous and death may occur without warning.

D. FIRE AND EXPLOSION HAZARD INFORMATION

FLASH POINT (MINIMUM)	AUTO	IGNITION	TEMPERATURE
Nonflammable and nonexplosive.			Not applicable.

FLAMMABLE OR EXPLOSIVE LIMITS (APPROXIMATE PERCENT BY VOLUME IN AIR)
Nonflammable and nonexplosive.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA AND FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES

When fighting fire near or involving this product, use self-contained breathing apparatus. If CFC-12 contacts open flames or extremely hot metal surfaces, it may decompose to form HF, HCl and traces of carbonyl halides (i.e., phosgene). Protective clothing should minimize exposed skin and include goggles, full face shield if splashing is possible and cloth-lined rubber gloves.

DECOMPOSITION PRODUCTS UNDER FIRE CONDITIONS

If CFC-12 contacts open flames or extremely hot metal surfaces, it may decompose to form HF, HCl and traces of carbonyl halides (i.e., phosgene).

•EMPTY" CONTAINER WARNING

Disposal of waste material or residue may be subject to federal, state or local regulation. Consult with appropriate regulatory agency before discharging or disposing of waste material. Before transporting waste material see U. S. publication 49 CFR Section 172.

E. HEALTH AND HAZARD INFORMATION

VARIABILITY AMONG INDIVIDUALS

CFC-12 is relatively non-toxic following acute exposure. Although no long-term comprehensive studies have specifically investigated acute overexposure of humans to CFC-12, experience indicated the cardiovascular and respiratory systems are the primary systems affected. Humans exposed to 1,000 ppm for 2 1/2 to 8 hours showed no adverse effects.

EFFECT OF OVEREXPOSURE (Signs and symptoms* of exposure)

Humans exposed to 40,000 ppm (for 14 minutes) experienced a generalized tingling sensation, humming in the ears, apprehension and slurred speech. At 110,000 ppm (for 11 minutes), the subject reportedly showed a decrease in consciousness with amnesia occurring in about 10 minutes, which was preceded and accompanied by an irregular heart beat. Humans exposed to 20,000 ppm for a short time experienced significant eye irritation as well as central nervous system (CNS) effects, all of which disappeared within minutes after return to fresh air.

NATURE OF HAZARD

Fluorocarbons exhibit very toxic properties (asphyxiation, cardiac arrhythmias) when sniffed; however, because of variations in response, it is difficult to predict which symptoms will be exhibited following exposure. It is possible that individuals with heart or respiratory disorders may prove especially susceptible.

G. REACTIVITY

CFC-12 is stable and relatively nonreactive. It is incompatible with certain elastomers, alkali or alkaline earth metals, powdered aluminum, zinc, beryllium, etc. Avoid conditions when: CFC-12 may contact open flames or extremely hot metal surfaces as product may decompose to form HF, HCl and traces of carbonyl halides (ie. phosgene).

H. SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURES

In the event of a spill or leak, keep upwind. Ventilate enclosed spaces until gas is dispersed. Do not smoke or operate internal combustion engines in immediate vicinity.

Because of its suspected influence on stratospheric ozone reduction, CFC-12 is regulated from non-essential use as a propellant in the USA. Disposal of waste material or residue may be subject to federal, state or local regulation. Consult with appropriate regulatory agency before discharging or disposing of waste material. Before transporting waste material see U.S. publication 49 CFR Section 172.

134A WAS TESTED IN RATS FOR ITS POTENTIAL TO INDUCE CHRONIC SYSTEMIC TOXICITY BY REPEATED ORAL (GAVAGE) ADMINISTRATION. NO EFFECTS WERE NOTED AT A DOSE OF 300MG/KG/DAY FOR ONE YEAR AND THE RATS HELD FOR THE REMAINDER OF THEIR LIFE SPAN.

AFTER REPEATED INHALATION EXPOSURES. ONLY AT A CONCENTRATION AS HIGH 50,000PPM FOR 20 DAYS IN A 28-DAY PERIOD 010 134A INDUCE A LUNG LESION NO EFFECTS WERE SEEN AT 10,000PPM.

134A WAS TESTED IN RATS FOR ITS POTENTIAL TO INDUCE BIRTH DEFECTS. AFTER INHALATION EXPOSURE TO PREGNANT RATS DURING THE CRITICAL DAYS, 6 THROUGH 15, OF ORGANOGENESIS AT CONCENTRATIONS UP TO AND INCLUDING 50,000PPM, 134A WAS NEITHER TERATOGENIC NOR EMBRYOTOXIC. HOWEVER, AT 50,000PPM IT WAS VERY SLIGHTLY FETOTOXIC, BUT NOT AT 10,000PPM. SINCE EXPOSURE POTENTIAL IS A CRITICAL ELEMENT IN THE EXPRESSION OF A POTENTIAL HEALTH HAZARD, 134A, IS HANDLED IN ACCORD WITH GOOD INDUSTRIAL HYGIENE PRACTICE, WILL NOT PRESENT AN ACTUAL HAZARD IN THE WORKPLACE.

EYE CONTACT

LIQUID SPLASHES OR VAPOR SPRAY MAY CAUSE FREEZE BURNS. IMMEDIATELY FLUSH WITH PLENTY OF WATER. AFTER INITIAL FLUSHING, REMOVE ANY CONTACT LENSES AND CONTINUE FLUSHING FOR AT LEAST 15 MINUTES. HAVE EYES EXAMINED AND TREATED BY MEDICAL PERSONNEL.

INGESTION

EXTREMELY UNLIKELY TO OCCUR IN USE. TREATMENT: NOT APPLICABLE.

INHALATION

EXPOSURE TO VERY HIGH VAPOR CONCENTRATION CAN INDUCE ANESTHETIC EFFECT PROGRESSING FROM GIDDINESS, WEAKNESS, DIZZINESS, NAUSEA, TO UNCONSCIOUSNESS. IT CAN ACT AS AN ASPHYXANT BY LIMITING AVAILABLE OXYGEN. IN SUSCEPTIBLE INDIVIDUALS, CARDIAC SENSITIZATION TO CIRCULATING EPINEPHRINE-LIKE COMPOUNDS CAN RESULT IN FATAL CARDIAC ARRHYTHMIAS.

REMOVE VICTIM TO FRESH AIR. IF NOT BREATHING, GIVE ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION, PREFERABLY MOUTH-TO-MOUTH. IF BREATHING IS LABORED, GIVE OXYGEN. CONSULT MEDICAL PERSONNEL.

SKIN CONTACT

THE LIQUID FORM OF THIS MATERIAL MAY CAUSE FREEZE BURNS (FROSTBITE-LIKE LESIONS). THAW AFFECTED AREAS WITH WATER, REMOVE CONTAMINATED CLOTHING CAREFULLY WASH AFFECTED AREAS OF SKIN THOROUGHLY WITH PLENTY OF WARM WATER. IF SYMPTOMS OCCUR, OBTAIN MEDICAL ATTENTION.

NOTE TO PHYSICIAN**
PRODUCT IS AN ASPHYXANT AND CAN INDUCE CARDIAC SENSITIZATION TO CIRCULATING EPINEPHRINE-LIKE COMPOUNDS RESULTING IN POTENTIALLY FATAL HEART ARRHYTHMIAS. DO NOT ADMINISTER ADRENALIN OR SIMILAR SYMPATHOMIMETIC DRUGS FOLLOWING OVEREXPOSURE TO HIGH CONCENTRATIONS. FREEZE BURNS CAN DEVELOP FOLLOWING CONTACT WITH THE LIQUID FORM OF THIS MATERIAL.

MEDICAL CONDITIONS
AGGRAVATED BY EXPOSURE:

Individuals with pre-existing lung, cardiac, central nervous system or skin disorders may have increased susceptibility to the effects of exposure.

CARCINOGENICITY:

IARC classifies chemicals by their carcinogenic risk, including agents that are known, probable or possible carcinogens. NTP classifies chemicals as either known carcinogens or for which there is a limited evidence of carcinogenicity in humans or sufficient evidence of carcinogenicity in experimental animals.

Perchloroethylene is listed by IARC as a possible carcinogen. Perchloroethylene is classified by NTP as having limited evidence of carcinogenicity in humans or sufficient evidence of carcinogenicity in experimental animals.

Also see Section 9.

OTHER POTENTIAL
HEALTH HAZARDS:

The following information is required by Canadian WHMIS regulations. Irritancy is covered in Signs and Symptoms of Exposure in Section 4. There is no known human sensitization or toxicologically synergistic product associated with this material. Xylene and toluene have demonstrated experimental effects for reproductive toxicity, mutagenicity and teratogenicity. Studies indicate ethylbenzene and 1,1,1-trichloroethane are experimental teratogens.

SECTION 5 -- FIRE AND EXPLOSION HAZARD DATA

EMERGENCY RESPONSE GUIDE NUMBER:

27
Reference Emergency Response Guidebook (DOT 5800.5)

FIRE AND EXPLOSION HAZARDS:

Vapor explosion hazard may occur indoors, outdoors or in sewers. Decomposition and combustion products may be toxic. Heated containers may rupture, explode or be thrown into the air. Vapors are heavier than air and may travel great distances to ignition source and flash back. Not sensitive to mechanical impact. Material may be sensitive to static discharge, which could result in fire or explosion.

FIRE FIGHTING PROCEDURES:

NFPA 704 Rating 0-2-0 (Health-Fire-Reactivity)
Keep storage containers cool with water spray. Positive pressure self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA) and structural firefighters' protective clothing will provide limited protection.

EXTINGUISHING MEDIA:

Carbon dioxide, foam, dry chemical or water spray.

CONDITIONS OF FLAMMABILITY:

Heat, sparks or flame.

FLASH POINT:

105°F(40°C)SETA

AUTOIGNITION TEMPERATURE:

473°F (245°C)

FLAMMABLE LIMITS IN AIR:

LOWER: 0.7 Vol. % UPPER: 6.0 Vol. %

HAZARDOUS COMBUSTION PRODUCTS:

Burning may produce carbon monoxide.

SECTION 6 -- REACTIVITY DATA

STABILITY:

Stable under normal temperatures and pressures, and not reactive with water.

INCOMPATIBILITY (MATERIALS AND CONDITIONS TO AVOID):

Acids, oxidizing agents or chlorine may cause a violent reaction. Avoid heat, sparks or flame.

HAZARDOUS POLYMERIZATION:

Not known to occur under normal temperatures and pressures.

SECTION 2 - HAZARDOUS MATERIALS

Brazing rod or wire is a nonhazardous solid at ambient temperature. Hazards (as defined by OSHA 29CFR 1910.1200) may result from fume generated during brazing. Section 1 lists product designations and composition as manufactured. IMPORTANT - See Section 6 for information on potential fume hazard resulting from use of the product.

SECTION 3 - PHYSICAL DATA

Solid wire or rod. Rods may be coated with a chemical flux. Flux coating may be blue or other colors.

SECTION 4 - FIRE AND EXPLOSION DATA

(Nonflammable) Open flame and sparks can ignite combustibles, See ANSI/ASC Z49.1-1983 Section 6.

SECTION 5 - HEALTH HAZARD DATA - BRAZING ALLOYS

Exposure - Section 1 lists nominal composition of brazing filler metals. Section 6 lists exposure limits for hazardous decomposition products which might be present in fume generated during brazing. Actual exposure should be determined by monitoring fume in the operator's breathing zone.

Primary Route of Exposure - Inhalation of fume.

Pre-existing medical conditions - Individuals with impaired pulmonary functions or illness may have symptoms exacerbated by fume irritants.

Possible Effects of Exposure - Copper and zinc fume may cause metal fume fever. Short term symptoms may include a metallic taste in the mouth, dryness or irritation of the throat followed by coughing, shortness of breath, nausea, fever, body ache, and chills. Long term exposure to welding fume, gases or dust may contribute to pulmonary irritation or pneumoconiosis. Nickel should be considered a possible carcinogen per OSHA 29 CFR 1910.1200. Certain nickel compounds have been implicated based on experience in some nickel refining operations. The specific compounds, however, have not been determined and a direct association between nickel in welding fume and cancer has not been demonstrated.

Emergency First Aid - Remove from dust or fume exposure. If breathing has stopped, perform artificial respiration. Summon medical aid immediately.

Other Health Considerations - Brazing alloys are frequently used with a fluoride type flux. If applicable, flux fume should be considered in evaluation of hazards.

SECTION 6 - REACTIVITY DATA

Hazardous Decomposition Products

Brazing fumes and gases cannot be classified simply. The composition and quantity of both are dependent upon the metal being brazed, the process, procedures, and filler metals used. Other conditions which also influence the composition and quantity of the fumes and gases to which workers may be exposed include: coatings on the metal being brazed (such as paint, plating, or galvanizing), the number of operators and the volume of the work area, the quality and amount of ventilation, the position of the operator's head with respect to the fume plume, as well as the presence of contaminants in the atmosphere (such as chlorinated hydrocarbon vapors from cleaning and degreasing activities). When the filler metal is consumed, the fume and gas decomposition products generated are different in percent and form from the solid wire or rod ingredients listed in Section 1. Fume and gas decomposition products, and not the ingredients in the rod or wire are important. The concentration of a given fume or gas component may decrease or increase by many times the original concentration in the filler metal. Also, new compounds not in the rod or wire may form. Decomposition products of normal operation include those originating from the volatilization reaction, or oxidation of the wire or rod plus those from the base metal and coating, etc., as noted above.

Section 1 lists composition of the brazing filler metal. The chart below lists those conditions, defined as hazardous, which are likely to be present in the fume.

Element	CAS#	PEL mg/m ³ ¹	TLV mg/m ³ ¹²¹
Silver (metal)	7440-22-4	0.01	0.1

One recommended way to determine the composition and quantity of fumes and gases to which workers are exposed is to take an air sample in the worker's breathing zone. See ANSI/AWS F1. 1 available from the American Welding Society, P.O. Box 351040, Miami, Florida 33135.

SECTION 7 - SPILL OR LEAK PROCEDURES

SECTION 8 AND 9 - SPECIAL PROTECTION INFORMATION AND PRECAUTIONS

Read and understand the manufacturer's instructions and the precautionary label on the product. See American National Standard Z49.1, Safety in Welding and Cutting published by the American Welding Society, P.O. Box 351040, Miami, FL 33135 and OSHA Publication 2206 (29CFR1910), U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 for more detail on many of the following.

Ventilation

Use enough ventilation, local exhaust at the flame to keep the fumes and gases below TLVs in the worker's breathing zone and the general area. Train the employee to keep his head out of the fumes. See ANSI/ASC Z49.1 Section 5.

Respiratory Protection

Use respirable fume respirator or air supplied respirator when brazing in confined space or where local exhaust or ventilation does not keep exposure below TLV.

Eye Protection

Wear safety glasses, goggles or use face shield with filter lens of appropriate shade number (see ANSI/ASC Z49.1 -Section 4.2). Provide protection screens and flash goggles, if necessary, to shield others.

Protective Clothing

Wear head and body protection which help to prevent injury from radiation, sparks, and flame. See ANSI Z49.1. At a minimum this includes welder's gloves and a protective face shield, and may include arm protectors, aprons, hats, shoulder protection, as well as dark substantial clothing.

To promote the safe use of these products a user should (1) notify its employees, agents and contractors of the information on this MSDS and any product hazards and safety information, (2) furnish this same information to each of its customers for these products and (3) request such users to notify their employees and customers, for these products, of the same product hazards and safety information.

II. HAZARDOUS INGREDIENTS

IMPORTANT! This section covers the materials from which this product is manufactured. The fumes and gases produced during normal use of these products are covered in Section V. The term HAZARDOUS should be interpreted as a term required and defined by Laws, Statutes or Regulation*, and does not necessarily imply the existence of any hazard when the products are used as directed by TEE ESAB GROUP.

NOTE: In the ingredients table, an asterisk (*) after the CAS number indicates a toxic chemical subject to reporting requirements of Section 313 of the Emergency Planning and Community Right-To-Know Act of 1986 (SARA) and 40 CFR Part 372.

Some of these products may not contain all of the materials listed. For details of composition refer to the COMPOSITION TABLE in Section I.

In the table above "C" indicates "Ceiling Limit".

III. PHYSICAL DATA

As shipped, these products are nonflammable, nonexplosive, nonreactive, and nonhazardous.

Physical State: GAS () LIQUID () SOLID (X)

Odor and Appearance: Copper Coated, or Bare, solid steel wire or rod, odorless.

IV. FIRE & EXPLOSION HAZARD

Flammable/Explosive: HO (X) YES ()

Under what conditions? Only the packaging for this product will burn

Extinguishing Media: This product will not burn. However, welding arcs and sparks can ignite combustible and flammable materials. Use the extinguishing media recommended for the burning materials and fire situation. See ANSI ZA9.1 "Safety in Welding and Cutting" and "Safe Practices" Code: SP, published by the American Welding Society, P. O. Box 351040, Miami, FL 33135, and NFPA 51B "Cutting and Welding Processes", published by the National Fire Protection Association, Batterymarch Park, Quincy, MA 02269 for additional fire prevention and protection information.

V. REACTIVITY DATA

Stability: Stable (X) Unstable () Polymerization will not occur

Incompatible products: None currently known

Hazardous decomposition products: Welding fumes and gases cannot be classified simply. The composition and quantity of both are dependent upon the material being worked, the process, procedures and consumables used. Other conditions which also influence the composition and quantity of the fumes and gases to which workers may be exposed include: coatings on the material being worked (such as paint, plating or galvanizing), the number of welding operations and the volume of the work area, the quality and amount of ventilation, the position of the workers head with respect to the fume plume, AS well as the presence of contaminants in the atmosphere (such as chlorinated hydrocarbon vapors from cleaning or painting activities). When the materials are consumed, the fume and gas composition products generated are different in percent and form from the ingredients listed in Section II. [position products of normal operation include those originating from the volatilization, reaction or oxidation of the ingredients, plus those from the material being worked and the coatings etc. noted above.

Reasonably expected decomposition products from normal use of these products include a complex of the oxides of the materials listed in Section II, as well as carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, ozone and nitrogen oxides (refer to "Characterization of Arc Welding Fume" available from the American Welding Society). The only way to determine the true identity of the decomposition products is by sampling and analysis. The composition and quantity of the fumes and gases to which a worker may be overexposed can be determined from a sample obtained from inside the welders helmet, if worn, or in the workers breathing zone. See ANSI/AWS F1.1 "Method for Sampling Airborne Particles Generated by Welding and Allied Processes", available from the American Welding Society.

VI. PHYSICAL AND HEALTH HAZARD DATA

Electric arc working may create one or more of the following health or physical hazards. Fumes and gases can be dangerous to your health. Electric shock can kill you. Arc rays can injure eyes and burn skin. Noise can damage hearing. An additional detailed description of the Health and Physical hazards and their consequences may be found in THE ESAB GROUP'S free publications F52-5Z9 "Precautions and Safe Practices for Electric Welding and Cutting" and F2035 "Precautions and Safe Practices for Gas Welding, Cutting and Heating". You may obtain copies from your local supplier, or by writing to the address in Section I,

Route of overexposure: The primary route of entry of the decomposition products is by inhalation. Skin contact, eye contact, and ingestion are possible. Absorption by skin contact is unlikely. When these products are used as recommended by THE ESAB GROUP, and ventilation maintains exposure to the decomposition products below the limits recommended in this section, overexposure is unlikely.

Effects of acute (short term) overexposure to the gases, fumes and dusts may include irritation of the eyes, lungs, nose and throat. Some toxic gases associated with welding may cause pulmonary edema, asphyxiation, and death. Acute overexposure may include signs and symptoms such as watery eyes, nose and throat irritation, headache, dizziness, difficulty in breathing, frequent coughing, or chest pain. The presence of chromium/chromate in fume can cause irritation of nasal membranes and skin. The presence of nickel compounds in fume can cause metallic *
*, nausea, tightness of chest, fever, and allergic reaction.

Product Identity: ALLOY RODS SOLID STEEL WELDING ELECTRODES

MSOS-1.1

DATE REVISED: 08/31/81

Effects of chronic (long term) overexposure to air contaminants may lead to their accumulation in the lungs, a condition which may be seen as dense areas on chest x-rays. The severity of the change is proportional to the length of the exposure. The changes seen are not necessarily associated with symptoms or signs of reduced lung function or disease. In addition, the changes on x-rays may be caused by non-work factors such as smoking, etc. Nickel and chromium (in some products) are considered carcinogenic. Long term overexposure to nickel fumes may also cause pulmonary fibrosis and edema. Overexposure to manganese compounds may affect the central nervous system, symptoms of which are languor, sleepiness, muscular weakness, emotional disturbances and spastic gait.

Pre-existing Medical Conditions Aggravated by Overexposure: Individuals with allergies or impaired respiratory function may have symptoms worsened by exposure to welding fumes. However, such reaction cannot be predicted due to the variation in composition and quantity of the decomposition products.

Exposure limits for the ingredients are listed in Section II. The 1989 OSHA TWA for welding fume is 5 mg/m³. TLV-TWA's should be used as a guide in the control of health hazards and not as fine lines between safe and excessive concentrations. When these products are used as recommended by THE ESAB GROUP, and the preventive measures taught in this MSDS are followed, overexposure to hazardous substances will not occur.

Emergency First Aid Measures: In case of emergency call for medical aid. Employ first aid technique recommended by the Red Cross. IF BREATHING IS DIFFICULT give oxygen and call for a physician. FOR ELECTRIC SHOCK disconnect and turn off the power. If not breathing begin artificial respiration, preferably mouth-to-mouth. If no detectable pulse begin Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). Immediately call a physician. FOR ARC WOUNDS apply cold, clean compresses and call a physician.

Carcinogenic Assessment (WTP Annual Report, IARC Monographs, Other): Nickel and Chromium must be considered possible carcinogens under OSHA (29CFR1910.1200). IARC has indicated Nickel, Chromium, and certain of their compounds are probably carcinogenic for humans, but the compounds cannot be specified precisely. Their conclusions were drawn from operations different from welding. Regardless, exposure level must be kept below those levels specified in Section II.

VII. PRECAUTIONS FOR SAFE HANDLING AND USE

Read and understand the manufacturer's instructions and the precautionary label on this product. See American National Standard Z-49.1, Safety in Welding and Cutting, published by the American Welding Society, P. O. Box 351040, Miami, FL 33135 and OSHA Publication 2206 (29 C.f.R. 1910), U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 for more detail on many of the following:

Ventilation: Use enough ventilation, local exhaust at the arc, or both, to keep the fumes and gases below the TLV's in the worker's breathing zone and the general area. Train the welder to keep his head out of the fumes.

Respiratory Protection: Use respirable fume respirator or air supplied respirator when welding in confined space or where local exhaust or ventilation does not keep exposure below TLV.

Eye Protection: Wear helmet or use face shield with filter lens. As a rule of thumb, start with a shade which is too dark to see the weld zone. Then go to the next lighter shade which gives sufficient view of the weld zone. Provide protective screens and flash goggles, if necessary, to shield others.

Protective Clothing: Wear head, hand and body protection which help to prevent injury from radiation, sparks and electrical shock. See ANSI Z-49.1. At a minimum, this includes welder's gloves and a protective face shield and may include arm protectors, aprons, boots, shoulder protection, as well as dark substantial clothing. Train the welder not to touch live electrical parts and to insulate himself from work and ground.

Procedure for Cleanup of Spills or Leaks: NOT APPLICABLE

Waste Disposal Method: Prevent waste from contaminating surrounding environment. Discard any product, residue, disposable container, or liner in an environmentally acceptable manner, in full compliance with Federal, State and Local regulations.

The opinions expressed in this MSDS are those of qualified experts within THE ESAB GROUP. We believe that the information contained herein is current as of the date of this MSDS. Since the use of this information and these opinions and the conditions of use of these products are not within the control of THE ESAB GROUP, it is the user's obligation to determine the conditions of safe use of these products.

Independent Auditor's Report

Mr. Domingo P. Martinez, CGFM, State Auditor and
The Board of County Commissioners
Dona Ana County, New Mexico

We have audited the accompanying general purpose financial statements and the combining, individual fund and account group financial statements of Dona Ana County (the County), as of and for the year ended June 30, 2000, as listed in the table of contents. These general purpose financial statements and the combining, individual fund and account group financial statements are the responsibility of the County's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose and combining financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose and combining financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose and combining financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion the general purpose financial statements and the combining, individual fund and account group financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dona Ana County, New Mexico, as of June 30, 2000, and the results of its operations and the cash flows of its proprietary fund types for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated March 23, 2001, on our consideration of Dona Ana County's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grants. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be read in conjunction with this report in considering the results of our audit.

Our audit was performed for the purpose of forming an opinion on the general purpose financial statements taken as a whole and on the combining, individual fund and account group financial statements. The accompanying financial information listed as supplemental information in the table of contents is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements of Dona Ana County. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U. S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is also not a required part of the general purpose financial statements of Dona Ana County. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the general purpose, combining, individual fund and account group financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the financial statements of each of the respective individual funds and account groups taken as a whole.

DOÑA ANA COUNTY, NEW MEXICO

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 2000

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The function of Dona Ana County is briefly addressed in the grant of powers provided to all New Mexico counties pursuant to state statute 4-37-1 NMSA 1978. The function is "... to provide for the safety, preserve the health, promote the prosperity, and improve the morals, order, comfort, and convenience of the county or its inhabitants..." The County operates under a Commission form of government rule which oversees:

- * the assessment, collection, and distribution of ad valorem taxes by an elected assessor and treasurer;
- * law enforcement by an elected sheriff;
- * recording and filing by an elected county clerk and elected probate judge;
- * fire protection by volunteer fire departments;
- * road maintenance by an appointed road superintendent;
- * purchasing by an appointed purchasing agent;
- * indigent hospital care by an appointed indigent coordinator;
- * administrative services by an appointed county manager; and,
- * planning, health, welfare, recreation, and cultural affairs by appointed citizen advisory boards.

The financial statements of Dona Ana County (County), have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) as applied to governmental units. The Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) is the accepted standard setting body for establishing governmental accounting and financial reporting principles. The County's most significant accounting policies are described below.

Fund Accounting

For the year ended June 30, 2000, the County utilized four governmental fund types in accounting for its current assets and liabilities, and its operating revenues and expenditures. The details of long-term debt and fixed assets were accounted for in their respective account groups. Additionally, any functions in which the County or its officials acted in the capacity of an agent, were accounted for in fiduciary fund types.

General Governmental Funds

General fund - The general fund is the general operating fund of the County, and is used to account for all financial resources except those required by law or generally accepted accounting principles to be accounted for in another fund.

Special revenue funds - The special revenue funds are used to account for the proceeds of specific revenue sources (other than major capital projects) that are legally restricted to expenditures for specified purposes.

Capital projects funds - The capital projects funds are used to account for financial resources to be used for the acquisition or construction of major capital facilities.

Debt service funds - The debt service funds are used to account for the accumulation of resources foT, and the payment of, general long-term debt principal and interest.

Proprietary Fund Type

Enterprise funds are used to account for operations that are financed and operated in a manner similar to private business enterprises where the intent is that costs (expenses, including amortization and depreciation) of providing goods and services to the general public on a continuing basis be financed or recovered primarily through user charges.

DOÑA ANA COUNTY, NEW MEXICO

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Proprietary activities have applied all applicable GASB pronouncements as well as the following pronouncements issued on or before November 30, 1989, unless those pronouncements conflict with or contradict GASB pronouncements: FASB statements and Interpretations, APB opinions, and ARB's of Committee on Accounting Procedure. FASB statements and Interpretations issued after November 30, 1989, except for those that conflict with or contradict GASB pronouncements, have also been applied.

Fiduciary Fund Type

Trust and agency funds are used to account for assets held by the County in a trustee capacity or as an agent for individuals, other governments, and other County funds. These include expendable trusts, nonexpendable trusts, and agency funds. The County has no nonexpendable or expendable trust or pension trust funds. Agency funds are custodial in nature (assets equal liabilities), and do not involve measurement of results of operations. Expendable trusts are accounted for in essentially the same manner as governmental funds.

Account Groups

The accounting and reporting treatment applied to the fixed assets and long-term liabilities associated with a fund are determined by its measurement focus. All governmental funds are accounted for on a spending or "financial flow" measurement focus. This means that only current assets and current liabilities are generally included in their balance sheets. Their reported fund balance (net current assets) is considered a measure of "available spendable resources." Governmental fund operating statements present increases and decreases in net current assets (fund balance). Accordingly, they are said to present a summary of sources and uses of "available spendable resources" during a period.

Fixed assets used in governmental fund type operations are accounted for in the general fixed assets account group, rather than in governmental funds. Public domain fixed assets consisting of certain improvements other than buildings, including roads, bridges, curbs, gutters, streets, sidewalks, drainage and lighting systems are not capitalized.

Long-term liabilities expected to be financed from governmental funds are accounted for in the general long-term debt account group rather than in the governmental funds. The two account groups are not funds. They are concerned with only the measurement of financial position. They are not involved with measurement of results of operations.

Noncurrent portions of long-term receivables due to governmental funds may be reported on their balance sheets, notwithstanding their spending measurement focus. Special reporting treatment is used, however, to indicate that they should not be considered "available spendable resources", since they do not represent net current assets. Recognition of governmental fund type revenues represented by noncurrent receivables is deferred until they become available. Noncurrent portions of long-term loans receivable are offset by fund balance reserve accounts.

Because of their spending measurement focus, expenditure recognition for governmental fund types is limited to exclude amounts represented by noncurrent liabilities. Since they do not affect net current assets, such long-term amounts are not recognized as governmental fund type expenditures or fund liabilities. They are instead reported as liabilities in the general long-term account group.

In the case of Dona Ana County, all receipts—whether they be ad valorem taxes distributable to other County funds, as well as to other governmental units; or whether they be direct (non-tax) revenue of the County—are funneled through the County Treasurer, who acts as custodian of the agency fund. Ad valorem tax collections, except for taxes paid-in-advance or under protest, are accumulated and distributed in their entirety at the end of each month. Direct County revenue is immediately credited upon receipt to the appropriate County fund, although the cash actually remains in one of several co-mingled demand deposit or investment accounts administered by the Treasurer. The fire protection trust is used as a funding vehicle to maximize interest earnings on gross receipts tax allotments to volunteer fire districts, and is allocated to the various County districts once a year.

Basis of Accounting

Basis of accounting refers to when revenues and expenditures are recognized in the accounts and reported in the financial statements. Basis of accounting relates to the timing of the measurement made, regardless of the measurement focus applied. The books and records of Dona Ana County are maintained on the cash basis, and are converted to the basis appropriate for the various fund types. All governmental fund types are converted to the modified accrual basis of accounting. Their revenues are recognized when they become measurable and readily available as net current assets. The most common accrued revenues of the County are amounts due for services rendered to other governmental entities, property taxes receivable, grant proceeds receivable, and road revenues receivable from other governmental units.

Governmental fund expenditures are converted to the modified accrual basis of accounting which reflects their realization when the related fund liability is incurred. Exceptions to the general rule include interest on general long-term debt which is recognized when due.

The agency fund is converted to the full accrual basis of accounting, which reflects all assets and related liabilities of the agency when measurable although not currently available or currently due.

Proprietary fund types are reported on the accrual basis of accounting. Under this method, revenues are recognized when earned and expenses are recognized at the time liabilities are incurred.

Budgets and Budgetary Accounting

The County adopts budgets for the General, Special Revenue, Capital Projects, Debt Service and Proprietary Funds as follows:

In late winter or early spring, the County prepares a budget calendar, thus starting the budgetary process for the upcoming July 1 fiscal year. Budget request forms are distributed to County departments and local service agencies with a specified completion date. Legally mandated advance notices are formally published for grant availability and other purposes once budget hearings have been scheduled. The budget hearings are then held with all County department heads and local service agency representatives. Generally, in late May or early June, a budget meeting is held for tentative approval of the completed budget. After tentative approval at the County level, the budget is submitted to the New Mexico Department of Finance and Administration (DFA) for approval of a temporary operational budget beginning July 1.

DOÑA ANA COUNTY, NEW MEXICO

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Immediately after July 1, when ending cash balances for the preceding fiscal year have been accurately ascertained, a final hearing is convened for finalization of the budget, and it is resubmitted to DFA for formal approval. None of the above budgetary processes are legally required to occur at any specified time; however DFA requires that the time frame be such that they (DFA) render their final budget approval no later than September 1 of the budget year in question.

During the course of the fiscal year, the County prepares monthly budget reports. Under New Mexico State law, each year's budget appropriation legally lapses at year end.

Budgetary Compliance - Budgetary control is required to be maintained at the individual fund level.

Actual fund revenues may be either over or under the budgeted amounts; however, the variance is required to be reasonable, particularly in the case of over-budgeted revenues. Major over-budgeted revenues require a budget amendment as soon as the extent of the shortage is reasonably ascertainable.

Budget Amendments - Budget increases and decreases can only be accomplished by Commission resolution, followed by DFA approval. Similarly, budget transfers must follow the same procedure.

Budgetary Basis - State law prescribes that the County's budget be prepared on the basis of cash receipts and cash expenditures. Therefore, budgetary comparisons shown in exhibits are prepared on a cash basis to compare actual revenues and expenditures with a cash basis budget as amended.

Investments

The County's investments are regulated by state law, as well as by guidelines and rules promulgated by the State Investment Council and the State Treasurer. All investments are generally highly liquid in nature and are integrated with cash on the financial statements with appropriate disclosure. Investments are stated at fair value which is determined using selected bases. Certificates of deposit are reported at carrying amount which reasonably estimates fair value. Investments in a U. S. Treasury Fund and repurchase agreements are valued at the last reported sales price at current exchange rates. Additional cash and investment information, and fair values are presented in Note 2.

The County also participates in the State Treasurer Local Government Investment Pool. This pool is regulated by state law and regulations. Investment in the pool is reported at carrying amount which reasonably estimates fair value.

Fixed Assets

Assets in the general fixed asset account group are valued at cost if purchased, and at fair market value as of the acquisition date, if donated. The County capitalizes assets when the total purchase is $500 or more. In accordance with governmental accounting principles, no depreciation has been provided on general fixed assets.

Property and equipment in proprietary funds are stated at cost if purchased, and at fair market value as of the acquisition date, if donated. Items costing $500 or more are capitalized. Depreciation is calculated over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Encumbrances

The County, at its option, chooses not to utilize a formal encumbrance system for the purpose of reserving fund balances for open purchase orders, contracts, and other commitments. Rather, such items are reflected in the Commitments and Contingencies footnote to financial statements.

Deferred Revenue

The taxes receivable are an aggregate of uncollected amounts assessed for the current fiscal year, as well as delinquent balances carried forward from the nine preceding fiscal years. Except for taxes received in advance or under protest, tax revenue received is distributed within thirty days to other local governmental units and county funds.

While some of the delinquent outstanding balances will eventually be eliminated through corrections, litigation, and other property tax administrative procedures, the majority of the balances will ultimately be realized through delinquent payment or tax sales. The aggregate amount of this ultimate realization is generally difficult to ascertain at any point in time. Thus, taxes not collected within sixty days of fiscal year end are carried in the liability section of the balance sheet as deferred revenue.

Income Taxes

As a local government entity, the County is not subject to federal or state income taxes.

Reporting Entity

The general purpose financial statements of Dona Ana County encompass the activities of the County Commission, County Clerk, Tax Assessor, County Treasurer, Sheriff, and Probate Judge. The commission activity includes the function of the County Manager's office, the County Road Superintendent, the County Purchasing Agent, the Indigent Claims Coordinator, and the volunteer fire districts throughout the county.

In evaluating how to define the County, for financial reporting purposes, management has considered all potential component units. The decision to include a potential component unit in the reporting entity was made by applying the criteria set forth in GAAP. The basic—but not the only—criterion for including a potential component unit within the reporting entity is the governing body's ability to exercise oversight responsibility. The most significant manifestation of this ability is financial interdependency. Other manifestations of the ability to exercise oversight responsibility include, but are not limited to, the selection of governing authority, the designation of management, the ability to significantly influence operations and accountability for fiscal matters. The other criterion used to evaluate potential component units for inclusion or exclusion from the reporting entity is the existence of special financing relationships, regardless of whether the County is able to exercise oversight responsibilities. Based upon the application of these criteria, the Housing Authority of Doña Ana County is determined to be a component unit whose governing body is substantively the same as the Board of County Commissioners. Accordingly, the Housing Authority is reported as part of the primary government.

Compensated Absences

Accrued annual leave, sick leave, and compensatory time are the components of accrued compensated absences. An employee may not carry over more than 288 hours of vacation leave into a new calendar year, nor receive payment for more than 288 hours upon separation. Under a new human resources policy adopted November 27, 1999, only employees retiring through PERA, with a minimum of 15 years of County service, shall be paid for accrued sick leave hours, limited to a maximum of 600 hours, subject to a maximum cash payment of $15,000. In addition, such employees shall be compensated for any unused sick leave hours accrued as of November 27, 1999, at the employee's pay rate in effect on that date. Compensatory time is accrued in full.

Inventory

Inventory is valued at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) or market, and consists primarily of supplies and other road building materials held for consumption.

The cost of inventory is recorded as an expenditure at the time of purchase. Inventory is reported as an asset on the combined balance sheet, and is equally offset by a fund balance reserve which indicates that it is not an "available spendable resource", even though it is a component of net current assets.

Capitalized Interest

The County capitalizes net interest costs as part of the cost of constructing various projects when material. Of the total interest costs incurred of $2,008,232 during fiscal year 2000, $59,359 was capitalized into fixed assets.

Memorandum Only - Total Columns

The total columns on the general purpose financial statements are captioned "memorandum only" to show that the data is presented only to facilitate financial analysis. Data in these columns do not represent financial position, results of operations or changes in financial position in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Also, such data is not comparable to a consolidation. Interfund eliminations have not been made in the accumulation of this information.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows the proprietary fund considers all highly liquid investments to be cash equivalents.

Interfund Transactions

There are transactions that constitute reimbursements to a fund for expenditures initially expended from one fund that are properly applicable to another fund, are recorded as expenditures in the reimbursing fund and as reductions of expenditures in the fund that is reimbursed.

Interfund payables and receivables are reflected in the appropriate fund.

2. CASH, CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT AND INVESTMENTS

The County's cash balances are reserved for subsequent year expenditures and consist of demand deposits, interest bearing savings accounts, certificates of deposit and repurchase agreements. The certificates of deposit and repurchase agreements have varying interest rates and maturity dates. The majority of County cash and investments are co-mingled. All interest income is accounted for in the related funds.

The County's investments are governed by state law. State regulations require that uninsured demand deposits and deposit-type investments such as certificates of deposit be collateralized by the depository thrift or banking institution. At present, state statutes require that a minimum of fifty percent of uninsured balances on deposit with any one institution must be collateralized, with higher requirements up to 100% for financially troubled institutions. Investments in repurchase agreements must be collateralized at 102% of the contract.

4. PROPERTY TAXES

Property taxes attach as an unsubordinated enforceable lien on property as of January 1 of the assessment year. Current year taxes are levied on November 1, unless a formal extension of time is obtained from the Property Tax Division of the New Mexico Department of Finance and Administration. Taxes are due in total on November 10, or optionally in two equal installments on November 10 and April 10 of the next tax year. Although due on November 10 and April 10, the taxes are not delinquent until December 10 and May 10, respectively. In the event the original levy date is formally extended, the respective due dates and delinquency dates are correspondingly extended.

The County bills and collects its own taxes, as well as the taxes for three school districts, four municipalities and the state. For tax year 1999 the County billed $7.501 per $1,000 of net assessed valuation of residential property and $11.850 per $1,000 of net assessed valuation of nonresidential property for its own general governmental services other than the payment of principal and interest on long-term debt. The maximum for both types of property is $11.850. The statutory maximum rate for servicing long-term debt principal and interest is unlimited, although the total amount of outstanding debt at any one time is restricted by other factors. The tax year 2000 debt service assessment was $.357 per $1,000 of valuation.

The County is required to report all delinquencies in excess of three years to the state Property Tax Division. The State, in turn, administers all subsequent collection actions and proceedings. The June 30, 2000 uncollected taxes receivable balance, which includes balances belonging to both the County and other governmental units, was as follows:

8. COMMITMENTS, CONTINGENCIES, AND SUBSEQUENT EVENTS (continued)

The County receives significant financial assistance from federal and state grants and entitlements. Amounts received or receivable from grantor agencies are subject to audit and adjustment by grantor agencies. Any disallowed claims, including amounts already collected, may constitute a liability of the applicable funds. The County believes that liabilities resulting from disallowed amounts will not have a material effect on the County's financial statements.

The County is party to various legal proceedings which are the unavoidable results of governmental operations. With regard to one action, the County estimates a potential settlement exposure of $300,000. The outcome of this litigation is not currently predictable. The County's position is that there are several legal defenses which should mitigate against any theory of liability; therefore these legal proceedings are not likely to have a material adverse impact on the funds of the County.

9. DEFINED BENEFIT TENSION PLAN

Plan Description

With the exception of elected officials who have previously never been participants, substantially all of the full-time employees of Dona Ana County, New Mexico participate in a defined benefit contributory retirement plan through the Public Employees Retirement Act (Chapter 10, Article 11 NMSA 1978) of the State of New Mexico, a cost-sharing multiple employer public employee retirement system. The Public Employees Retirement Association (PERA) is the administrator of the plan. The plan provides for retirement, disability benefits, survivor benefits and cost-of-living adjustments to plan members and beneficiaries. PERA issues a separate publicly available financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information. That report may be obtained by writing PERA, P.O. Box 2123, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87504-2123.

Retirement Eligibility

Benefits are generally available at age 65 with five or more years of service or after 25 years of service regardless of age. Provisions also exist for retirement between ages 60 and 65, with varying amounts of service required. Law enforcement and fire members may retire at any age with 20 or more years of service. Generally, the amount of normal retirement pension is based on final average salary, which is defined as the average of salary for the 36 consecutive months of credited service producing the largest average; credited service; and the applicable coverage plan. Monthly benefits equal 3% of general members' final average salary per year of service, and 3.5% for law enforcement members and fire members. The maximum benefit that can be paid to a retiree may not exceed 80% of the final average salary.

Disability Benefits

Members or vested former members with five or more years of credited service will receive their normal retirement pension based on credited service and final average salary at time of disability retirement. The five-year service requirement is waived if the disability is incurred in the line of duty. Disability retirements are subject to reevaluation until the retired member reaches normal retirement. Payment of the disability pension is suspended for the balance of any year in which a disability-retired member does not submit an annual statement of earnings from gainful employment by June 30 of each year or if the amount of earnings in the previous year is more than the amount which causes the suspension of or a decrease in the social security old age benefit for a 65 year old.

The City of Las Cruces is the fiscal agent for the Authority and accounts for it in an agency fund. There are no separate financial statements for the Authority.

All persons (agents and support staff) assigned to Metro are paid by their respective agencies. The County and the City make contributions to cover the net operating expenses of the Agency in proportion to the number of agents assigned to the Agency by the two entities. 16. HOSPITAL LEASE

The County and the City of Las Cruces (City) adopted a joint resolution in 1966 to create a joint county-municipal hospital to provide medical services to all of the citizens of Doña Ana County. Bonds issued to construct hospital buildings and acquire equipment have been serviced by the hospital.

In 1998, pursuant to authority granted by state law, the County and the City entered into an agreement to lease the hospital, its equipment and assets to a not-for-profit tax-exempt corporation known as Memorial Medical Center, Inc. (MMC), which assumed responsibility for all assets and liabilities of the hospital. The lease term, with extensions, expires in the year 2065. MMC does not have the right to sell the hospital and may not engage in bonded indebtedness secured by the physical plant of the hospital without written consent of the County and City.

The agreement requires monthly lease payments of approximately $600,000 (split equally between the County and City), adjusted annually for inflation. However, the agreement provided that after the first two months, the payments could be offset by the cost of indigent care provided by the hospital. After the first two months, it is anticipated that the entire amount of all monthly payments will be reduced by indigent health care costs. The County recorded $3,619,500 in the Health Care Services from MMC Lease Fund as rental revenue and indigent care cost for the year ended June 30, 2000 to reflect the credit taken by MMC during the fiscal year.

The agreement also requires that MMC establish an escrow account of $6.3 million to be funded over a three-year period. The principal in the escrow account belongs to MMC, and with the advance written consent of the County and the City, is to be used to meet some emergency or similar need of MMC. If all the principal is distributed to MMC, the agreement provides that the escrow account will be closed. Interest earnings are to be distributed annually to the County and the City in equal shares as additional rent payments.

The agreement provides that the rents paid to the County and City will be used to provide health care services to the citizens of the County and the City.

Although MMC has recorded the lease as a capital lease, for the following two reasons the County elected to record the lease as an operating lease and has placed the first two months' payments in the Health Services special revenue fund. First, the probability that the County will receive payments from any monthly lease payments besides the first two months' is negligible, and recording a large long-term receivable would be misleading. Second, since the escrow account provisions allow the principal to be used by MMC, potential future annual interest distributions to the County are not subject to reasonable estimation.

17. REGIONAL LANDFILL CLOSURE AND POSTCLOSURE CARE COSTS

State and federal laws and regulations require the South Central Solid Waste Authority to place a final cover on its landfill site when it stops accepting waste and to perform certain maintenance and monitoring functions at the site for thirty years after closure. Although closure and post closure care costs will be paid only near or after the date that the landfill stops accepting waste, the Authority reports a portion of these closure and post closure costs as operating expense for each period based on landfill capacity used as of each balance sheet date. Corralitos Landfill operates on a cell basis, with cell one occupying 23 of 640 acres owned by the Authority. The Authority reported $1,256,232 as landfill closure and post closure care liability at June 30, 2000. This represents the cumulative amount reported to date based on the use of approximately 97% of the estimated capacity of cell one. The Authority will recognize the remaining estimated cost of closure and post closure care cost of $38,853 as the remaining estimated capacity is filled. Currently, the Authority is reserving $2.60 per ton to cover closure and post closure care costs. These amounts are based on what it would cost to perform all closure and post closure care in 2000. The Authority expects to close cell one in 2002. Actual cost may be higher due to inflation, changes in technology, or changes in regulations. Current financial assurance regulations became effective in 1995. To ensure compliance with these regulations, the Authority charges rates that include an amount to raise the funds needed for closure and postclosure activities.

Included in the estimate of closure and postclosure care costs are certain gas monitoring costs which were not included in rates for the first two years of operation of the landfill. It is reasonably possible that the County may have to pay its share of those costs, $108,130, at some time in the future.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH *GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

*Mr. Domingo P. Martinez, CGFM, State Auditor and
The Board of County Commissioners
Dona Ana County, New Mexico*

We have audited the financial statements of Dona Ana County, New Mexico, as of and for the year ended June 30, 2000, and have issued our report thereon dated March 23, 2001. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Dona Ana County, New Mexico's financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 00-33 through 00-35. We also noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in item 00-36.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered Dona Ana County, New Mexico's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect Dona Ana County, New Mexico's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the financial statements. Reportable conditions are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 00-1 through 00-33.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, of the reportable conditions described above, we consider items 00-1 through 00-7, 00-9 through 00-19, and 00-33 to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the audit committee, management, others within the organization, Board of Commissioners, and federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

*Mr. Domingo P. Martinez, CGFM, State Auditor and
The Board of County Commissioners
Dona Ana County, New Mexico*

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Dona Ana County, New Mexico with the types of compliance requirements described in the U. S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A 133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2000. Dona Ana County, New Mexico's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of Dona Ana County, New Mexico's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on Dona Ana County, New Mexico's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about Dona Ana County, New Mexico's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination on Dona Ana County, New Mexico's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Dona Ana County, New Mexico complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2000. However, the results of our auditing procedures disclosed instances of noncompliance with those requirements that are required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 00-39 through 00-47.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Dona Ana County, New Mexico is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with requirements of laws, regulations, contracts and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered Dona Ana County, New Mexico's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

We noted certain matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention, relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over compliance that, in our judgment, could adversely affect Dona Ana County, New Mexico's ability to administer a major federal program in accordance with applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts and grants. Reportable conditions are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 00-37 through 00-47.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, of the reportable conditions described above, we consider items 00-37, 00-38, 00-39, 00-43, and 00-45 to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the audit committee, management, others within the organization, Board of Commissioners, and federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
