THE UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY
ANNOUNCES THE AVAILABILITY OF ADMINISTRATIVE RECORD FOR A REMOVAL ACTION AT GOLDOME MILL SITE

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA") announces that the Administrative Record for the Goldome Mill (the "Site"), located at Ivanpah Road & Nipton Road, Mojave National Preserve, San Bernardino County, California, is available for public review and comment.

Goldome Mill is an abandoned and inoperable hard rock precious metals processing and extraction facility that processed ore from area mines. Numerous containers of uncontrolled hazardous wastes and substances (cyanide, ignitable materials, corrosive liquids and solids and metal bearing wastes) located throughout the building pose physical dangers. The building is structurally unstable and has the potential for fire and vandalism. The continuing deterioration of the containers may result in the combustion, physical exposure, or commingling of incompatible hazardous substances, which may result in harm to the public health or welfare or the environment. EPA proposes to inventory, characterize, segregate, bulk, and remove for disposal all abandoned hazardous substances and contaminated materials.

The Administrative Record is a file which includes all documents upon which the EPA has based its decision to conduct a removal action at the Site. EPA encourages community members to review the Administrative Record and submit comments during the 30-day comment period, which begins with the publication of this notice and ends 30 days later. Copies of the Administrative Record will be available for public review at the following location:
